Pembina Broadcasting To Build East of City

Arrangements have been completed in the past several days for the location of a television transmitter near Thief River Falls. The transmitter and tower will operate as Thief River Falls Channel 10, according to Robert C. Lukkason, vice president of Pembina Broadcasting Company.

The transmitter and tower will be located on the farm of Seymore Nelson, rt. 4, about three miles east and three and one-half miles north of Thief River Falls in Marshall county. Construction is expected to begin this fall or next spring, pending inspection by engineers and approval by the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D. C.

Gideons Hold Anniversary On Saturday

Local Camp Observes 20th Year; Banquet Held at Lincoln High

Twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Thief River Falls Camp of Gideons International was observed Saturday evening with a banquet in the Lincoln high school cafeteria. Charter members and past presidents were honored and Ben A. Schroeder, Willmar, state chaplain, was the guest speaker.

Rev. Joseph Swan gave the invocation and Mayor Orin Green welcomed the group to Thief River Falls. Rodney Brodin led community singing and special music was provided by the Gjoviks from Strathcona. Anton Hall spoke on "Twenty Years of Ministry" in recounting the experiences of the chapter during the past 20 years.

Charter members of the organization which was formed in May of 1943 were A. V. Brodin, Mendell Erickson, Ted Norby, Sidney Fladeland, M. Reynolds, E. R. Danielson, Gust Peterson, E. R. Carlson, Simon Holmberg, B. Everett Johnson, C. B. Johnson, Einar Johnson and Anton Hall. Reynolds, Peterson and Carlson are no longer living.

When formed, the camp had the largest territory of any Gideon camp in Minnesota — 11 counties with population of 190,000. In 1955 a Bemidji camp was formed and this took Beltrami, Koochiching, Lake of the Woods and Clearwater counties out of the local camp's area.

During the 20 years from May of 1943 to August of 1963, the Gideons in this district have collected $59,186 in the Scripture fund and have distributed 55,000 youth Testaments and a large number of Bibles to hotels and motels. In 1950 the Thief River Falls camp hosted the state convention.

First president of the organization was A. V. Brodin and he was followed by Gust Peterson, Warren; C. Einar Johnson, Warren; John Christenson, Bagley; Wallace Christensen, TRF; David Drotts, TRF; Ed Nystrom, Fosston; and Axel Taflin, Fosston.

Present membership of the local camp is 25 and membership in the auxiliary, organized in 1950, now totals 15 persons.

School Board Sets Salaries for Bus Drivers Thursday

Adopt Hourly Schedule To Replace Monthly Pay Scale for Drivers

In an attempt to equalize bus driver salaries for the coming school year, the Thief River Falls board of education adopted an hourly pay schedule at a special meeting Thursday evening. The bus driver salary schedule has been discussed by the board at a number of meetings earlier this year.

In previous years, drivers have been paid $137.50 per month during the first year of driving and $147.50 in succeeding years. In addition, drivers with routes exceeding 60 miles were paid two cents per mile over that distance.

Under the new schedule, beginning drivers will receive $1.90 per hour and other drivers will receive $2 per hour. Drivers will be guaranteed a minimum of 3¾ hours work per day for 175 days, divided into nine equal pay periods. Drivers on routes which do not require the minimum daily amount of time will be assigned other duties at the school to fill the required time period.

Also included in the motion adopted by the board was a choice of routes according to seniority of drivers in the school system. The 3¾ hour minimum will result in drivers receiving approximately the same pay schedule as the monthly salary formerly paid.

MRS. R. J. (JIM) DRYDEN

When the temp's terrific, or, for that matter, any time at all that you want something on the rather hefty order to accompany a simple meal, you might try this salad.

Mrs. R. J. Dryden calls it "really different." She likes to serve it with chips, a roll, and sliced tomatoes on hot summer nights, and the "gals" love it at bridge club luncheons or for other social functions. It can be prepared in the cool of the morning, or even the day before, and is ready at the slam of a refrigerator door.

CORNED BEEF SALAD

1 pkg. lemon gelatine dessert
2 cups boiling water
2 tbsp. vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
One-third pkg. cream cheese, softened
1/3 cup salad dressing
1 small bottle stuffed olives, sliced
1 cup chopped celery
1 scant teaspoon grated onion
¼ cup finely chopped green pepper
1 12-oz. can corned beef, flaked

Dissolve the gelatine dessert in the hot water. Add vinegar and salt. Cool. Mix in the cream cheese and salad dressing with a wire whip, blending until smooth. Add remaining ingredients. Set in refrigerator to congeal.

The Drydens have four daughters. Mary Lynn, who graduated this spring and will attend St. Catherine's College at St. Paul (she plans to go into personnel work); and Jean, Debbie and Kathy who are still in school.

Mrs. Dryden and her husband are gardening enthusiasts, both gifted "green-thumbs". Mrs. Dryden's efforts providing a profusion of lovely flowers, and her husband contributing fresh vegetables for the dinner table. Mrs. Dryden loves to arrange flowers also.

Their name should be familiar . . . Mr. Dryden is the local postmaster, and his wife "in everything," her activities including church affairs . . . she is at present the treasurer of the ladies guild at St. Bernard's Catholic Church, is with the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine there also . . has just concluded a year's presidency of the Lincoln high school PTA, and is, or has been, in a number of other community and church affairs over the years. In addition, she reads profusely, as does all of her family, whom she calls "among the best customers of the local library." Their tastes in reading vary, but our homemaker lists books and magazines on gardening, and current novels, among her personal favorites.

A Change of Place . . .

Judy Iverson Is Aquacade Entrant

This is the seventh in a series of eight personal interviews with candidates for the Miss Aquacade title at the Jaycees Miss America Preliminary Pageant to be held Saturday at 8 p. m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium. The series is published by the Times in the public interest to permit the readers to compare candidates and select a favorite.

No stranger to the annual Jaycees Aquacade, Judy Lenee Iverson of Thief River Falls will play a different role this year. Formerly a participant for four years in the water ski show, Judy will be a contestant for the Miss Aquacade title Saturday evening at the Miss America Preliminary pageant to be held in the Lincoln high school auditorium.

Eighteen-year-old Judy is the daughter of Mrs. Pearl Iverson of Pine Avenue North in Thief River Falls and a 1963 graduate of Lincoln high school in this city. She is 5' 3" tall, weighs 115 pounds, has brown hair, blue eyes and has a 35-23-35 figure. She will be sponsored by Northwestern Hospital in Thief River Falls.

Primarily for her own enjoyment, Judy has studied several forms of music. She took piano lessons for four years, accordion lessons for three years and played a saxophone in local school bands for seven years. Although she did not participate in school vocal groups, she entered the district music festival this year and received an A rating for a soprano solo. Her talent presentation Saturday evning will be a vocal solo.

School Activities

In addition to instrumental music activities at school, including the saxophone quartet for two years and pep band, Judy was a member of the Girls Athletic association, junior class play production staff and senior play cast, Latin club, Library club and operetta cast. She was also a homecoming queen attendant.

Swiming and water skiing rate among her favorite sports and she was active with the Aquacade stunt troupe for four years. She also owns three horses, including one which she broke and trained herself, and enjoys riding for recreational activity. Sewing, knitting and embroidery are rainy day activities and she also has a collection of stuffed animals.

Future Plans

This fall she plans to enter the Fairview Hospital School of Nursing in Minneapolis, and upon graduation she hopes to enter a special field of physical therapy or pediatrics.

On Saturday evening Judy will compete against two other Thief River Falls contestants and five girls from surrounding communities for the Miss Aquacade title. With the title go a $100 Pepsi-Cola scholarship, two dresses from J. C. Penney company, a colored portrait, dozen roses and trophy from the Jaycees. The Junior Chamber of Commerce will also pay expenses of the winner for further competition in the Miss America pageant program.

Mrs. Johnnie Bornholdt and children left Tuesday for Elbow Lake to visit with Mrs. Bornholdt's folks, the Ostensons.

Mrs. R. C. Schuelke and Jim, Kathy and Steve, of Faribault, have been visitors at the home of the Dr. A. E. Jacobsons for the past several weeks. They left Thursday for Morris, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Johnson. Dr. and Mrs. Jacobson were also Morris visitors over the weekend.

Go Hand in Hand!

"Grade A dairying and electricity go hand in hand," says John Ulrich of Red Lake Falls, Minn. John is a member of the Red Lake Electric Cooperative. His Grade A dairy operation requires a lot of different electrical appliances. The water heater, bulk milk cooler, milking machine, and automatic feeder all help maintain the strict Grade A standards that assure the consumer of a fresh, adequate and sanitary supply of milk. Mr. Ulrich is one of thousands of farmers in Minnkota-land who enjoy the assistance of electricity as generated by the Minnkota Power Cooperative and supplied to the rural areas by the member-owner local cooperatives.

Judith Thorstenson Is Married to John Trickle

Judith Ann Thorstenson, Sioux Falls, S. D. became the bride of John Wesley Trickle, also of Sioux Falls, in a double-ring ceremony performed at Trinity Lutheran Church in this city on Sunday, July 21.

Miss Thorstenson's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Thorstenson of Thief River Falls; and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Trickle, also of this city, are the parents of the groom.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold Peterson, who used the double-ring ritual. Spiral candelabra and bouquets of white gladioli and lavender asters provided the altar setting. There were approximately 125 guests in attendance. Mrs. Art Hamilton provided organ accompaniment for Janet Thorstenson, the bride's sister, in vocal offerings of "The Greatest of These Is Love," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Thorstenson, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown, the bodice and train of which were white Chantilly lace over pale orchid taffeta, and the bell-shaped skirt of satin with border trim of lace and taffeta. The bodice featured short sleeves and a scoop neckline. The bridal bouquet was a single large orchid on a white Bible, with streamers of white ribbon. Her veil was fashioned of silk illusion in three tiers, elbow-length and bouffant, and attached to a crown of rhinestones. She wore long white gloves. Her gown and headpiece were all of her own creation.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Janet Thorstenson, of this city. Her other attendants were Mrs. Clyde Trickle and her sister, Mary Lee Trickle, and another of her sisters, Linda Kay Thorstenson, as junior bridesmaid. The maid of honor wore a dress of deep purple taffeta with short sleeves, scoop neckline and bell-shaped skirt with a matching circlet veil. Her bouquet was of three long-stemmed white roses with a large bow of white ribbon. Gifts to the attendants were cross pendants.

The junior bridesmaid and the flower girl wore dresses of white nylon organdy with Peter Pan collars, bouffant skirts and sleeves, and overskirts of organdy trimmed with white lace and orchid ribbon bows tied at the waist. The junior bridesmaid carried a white Testament with two small orchids topping it, and the flower girl, Becky Lynn Thorstenson, another sister of the bride, carried a basket of lavender and white asters. They all wore headpieces of matching lace and ribbon, which, like the gowns of all the attendants, were designed and fashioned by the bride.

Attending as best man was Audrey Johnson of Seattle, Wash.; Lyle Groalle of this city and Allen Alby, an uncle, of Sioux Falls, S. D. were groomsmen, and the junior groomsman was David Trickle, of this city, a brother of the groom. They all wore white dinner jackets and black trousers, and white boutonnieres. Ushering were Bruce Thorstenson, brother of the bride, and Paul Saurdiff, Jr.

Mrs. Thorstenson wore a beige chiffon sleeveless dress with black accessories, and the mother of the groom wore a dress of beige linen in sheath design, with embroidered pink roses. Her accessories were pink. A single orchid comprised their corsages.

Hosts at the reception which followed the ceremony were the bride's parents. There were approximately 125 guests at the affair, which was held in the church parlors. The four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with lavender roses which flowed in garlands down the side. It was topped by a miniature bride and groom. Completing the table centerpiece were orchid and white candles with orchids and sweet peas intwined.

Mrs. Allen D. Alby registered the guests; she was from Sioux Falls, S. D. and is an aunt of the groom. Mrs. Roger Hible, aunt of the groom, and Miss Linda Thorkelson and Miss Sandra Halvorson recorded the gifts. Misses Gaylene and Susan Trickle, sisters of the groom, served punch.

Guests in attendance were from Detroit Lakes, Pelican Rapids, Westport, Johnson, Chokio, Thief River Falls, and Grygla, in Minnesota, and from Grand Forks and Fargo, N. D.; Seattle, Wash., and Sioux Falls, S. D.

The couple took a short wedding trip, for which the bride selected a white loosely-knit sheath dress accessorized with gold. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet as a corsage.

The bride was a graduate of the Thief River Falls high school in 1960. Mr. Trickle attended Lincoln high school also, and Bemidji state college, and will return for the fall term to the South Dakota state college in Brookings.

They are at home at 610 Sycamore Drive, Sioux Falls.

Phones of Future in "Telerama Tour" Unit

Want to see how you'll communicate with your friends in the future. . .how your grandparents called in the past. . .and how your present telephone works?

"You can see all of this, and more, when Telerama Tour visits Thief River Falls Tuesday and Wednesday" according to J. M. Wilson, local Northwestern Bell Telephone company manager. "This specially-designed, 37-foot trailer is filled with working exhibits of communications equipment and services of the past, present and future."

"Telerama Tour" will be on display next to the post office from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. on both days as part of the Ninth Annual Jaycees Aquacade.

The trailer features a replica of the experimental Telstar communications satellite, a demonstration of the sun's effect on a solar battery and visual explanation of how dial switching equipment routes a telephone call to its destination.

A picture phone, pushbutton vest pocket phone and the wrist radio telephone are included in a section devoted to phones of the future. Phones of the past, such as a replica of Alexander Graham Bell's first telephone, and phones in use today are also presented in other sections of the trailer.

Additional displays show the telephone's role in national defense, a model of the Nike missile, the use of transistors, samples of underseas cable and coaxial cable and scientific aids to education available to high schools.

"Everyone is invited to visit Telerama Tour," Wilson said. "We are looking forward to seeing our telephone customers, their families and friends and hope everyone will get a chance to attend."

DID YOU KNOW THAT YOU OWE yourself and your neighbors a total of $5,654? The same is true for every man, woman and child in the United States. Personal and public debt in the United States totaled $1,017,700,000,000 at the end of 1962. That's right—one trillion, 17 billion, 700 million dollars! About a third of this is public debt by all government in the country.

Someone with an imaginative mind and a computer figured out several ways to emphasize how much this would be in a manner easily understood. Some of these comparisons follow:

If this public debt were to be counted, dollar for dollar bill by a professional bank counter, it would take 127,212 persons a lifetime to do the job. This is based on 4,000 bills per hour with counters starting upon graduation from high school working eight hours a day, five days a week, 50 weeks per year.

In the standpoint of silver dollars, it would make a strip from earth to the moon two dollars wide and festooned with dimes along the way. Or it would put a three-inch surface on a highway 20 feet wide and 6,212 miles long. And debts, of course, must be paid.

To pay off this debt, it would take all the efforts of every employed and employable person in the U. S. one year, nine months and 10 days to write it off the books—contributing all their earnings and buying nothing at all to eat, wear and enjoy, pay no rent or taxes, save nothing or follow any recreational pursuits.

The company executive had been spending sleepless nights. Tranquilizers failed to help. "How about those twilight sleep pills?" he asked the family doctor. "They won't do," the doctor replied, "I only prescribe those for labor." "Labor!" screamed the executive. "Labor! Won't anybody do anything for management?"

"Billings," said the boss, "I understand that after the office party yesterday you pushed a wheelbarrow down Madison avenue. Don't you realize that such conduct could result in loss of prestige for the company?" "Never gave it a thought, sir," the assistant replied. "I just assumed, since you were in the wheelbarrow, that it had your approval."

While the Indian chief watched in amazement, an elderly lady entered a small room in an office building and the doors closed. Lights flashed and a dial above the door moved from one to 10 and back again. The doors opened and a beautiful young woman stepped out. Puffing on his pipe, the Indian grunted, "Hmmm, me should have brung um squaw."

This poem was posted in the Chamber of Commerce office and poses a question which every community resident should ask himself.

"WHICH AM I?"

I saw them tearing a building down;
A gang of men in a busy town.
With a "yo, heave, ho" and a lusty yell
They swung a beam and a side wall fell.

I asked the foreman, were these men skilled
As the men he'd hire, were he to build?
And he laughed and said, "Oh, no indeed.
"Common labor is all I need!
"For I can easily wreck, in a day or two,
"What men have taken years to do."

So I asked myself, as I went my way,
"Which of these roles have I tried to play?
"Am I a builder who works with care,
"Measuring life with a rule and square?
'Or am I a wrecker who walks the town,
"Content with the labor of tearing down?"

WHAT IS IT? At least 24 Thief River Falls residents will be well-acquainted with the above object on Thursday. It is the business end of a fire hose and will be seen directly by the six four-man teams competing in the downtown water fight which will be part of the Jaycees Aquacade. The water fight will begin at 8 p.m. Thursday and will be held on Second street between Main and Knight avenues just north of the city auditorium. Teams will use hoses to compete for a trophy offered by the sponsoring Jaycees.

Saturday's parade will include candidates for the Miss Aquacade crown; visiting royalty including Sharon Carnes, Miss Minnesota of 1963; bands, floats and marching units from Thief River Falls and surrounding communities.

Each will compete in swimsuit and evening gown finals and present a three-minute talent number. Special props and costumes have been arranged by each contestant to add to the pageantry of the event.

Also included in the pageant program will be entertainment by the Sorenson Brothers barbershop quartet from Fisher, talent performances by Miss Minnesota, Miss Bemidji and of 1962 and the Northwest Dairy Princess. Visiting royalty will also be introduced on stage. Admission will be $1.

"All in all, it looks like this week will prove the Aquacade to be the biggest summer fun fest in northwestern Minnesota," Wilson concluded.

A Stronger Congress?

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has unanimously adopted an amendment to shut off all foreign aid funds on September 30 unless there is a complete report to Congress by that time on all loans and grants. The action was taken on a motion by Senator John J. Williams, a Delaware Republican, who complained that he has been unable to get information on the status of various loans from the Agency for International Development.

Senator Williams had asked AID director David Bell for a list of all loans to other nations, and also a list of all loans to other nations from international organizations to which the United States makes contributions. That sounds a little like there might be a revolution in the making and that Congress is going to make more of its own decisions. That would be a most encouraging development.

Costly Emphasis

James W. Gerard, our ambassador to Germany prior to World War 1, stated in his memoirs that when he ran the show in Berlin in 1914, his staff consisted of not more than nine persons. The Chicago Daily News guesses that the present staff totals not less than 900. According to the News, a Senate subcommittee has been inquiring into this subject of excessive staffing, before which former Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs testified that while he was in Prague, the Communists ordered 66 of his staff out of the country, stating that:

"For thirty months I ran the embassy with 12 individuals. It was the most efficient embassy I ever had."

Ambassador Briggs pointed out that the swarms of useless employees were so numerous as to become a block to productive operation. In Athens, he said, 77 service men were assigned to the embassy for whom he had no useful employment whatever.

It probably is fair to assume that the examples cited were not exceptions. We may also assume that the embassy operations have not become more efficient in recent years. And, concludes the News:

"All these junior diplomats are doubtless having a pleasant time abroad. We wish we could say as much for the taxpayers, or that we felt any confidence that these abuses, having been exposed, would now be corrected. Experience argues strongly to the contrary."

Speaking of Governors

Richard Wilson, chief of the Minneapolis Tribune's Washington Bureau, attended the national governor's conference at Miami. He came away not too favorably impressed with this annual outing. Commenting on the attempt that was made by Governor Rockefeller to secure support for collective state action on the segregation problem, Wilson stated:

"Democratic governors, North and South, acted sensibly in rejecting explicit proposals for collective action by all the separate states on civil rights. This was an impractical idea, politically motivated, and about as much as the governors could do was to vote to study and reveiw the problem, which they did vote to do.

"There was a corollary advance. The governors voted to abolish their resolutions committee, and if it stays abolished so much the better. Governors have litle business passing inapplicable and hortatory resolutions about states.

"Time has passed by the older concepts of state sovereignty, and it is only a presumption that some governors still cling to it.

"The governors could look about them and see a practical effect of the changed atmosphere. Once the conference of governors was the spawning ground of presidents. But not for more than 30 years, and probably not for some years more, has a governor become president. A few of them go to the U. S. Senate, to cabinet or sub-cabinet positions, but most of them fade into obscurity, possibly because they have not grasped the irreversible domestic and international forces which have created a strong U. S. central government."

Seat Belts

In fourteen of our states safety belts are now required in the front seats of new cars sold after a certain date. Experience seems to prove that they do reduce the seriousness of accidents. According to one insurance company:

"Safety belts contribute to motoring safety for two basic reasons. (1) You are safer inside the car than if thrown out of it. (2) You are less likely to be dashed against the interior of your own car."

According to the Christian Science Monitor, many states recognize the fact that it is not enough merely to have something in the car that looks like a seat belt, pointing out that:

"It is no good if the webbing breaks, the catch fails or it pulls loose from its anchorage. Consequently, four of the 14 states mentioned above go on to regulate the sale of seat belts as accessories, nine others outside the 14 have such regulations, and several prescribe suitable anchorages. These figures are from the National Committee on Traffic Laws and Ordinances.

"As the list grows—and it should during the many legislative sessions this year—states should see to it that not only belts but effective belts are required."

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

by Governor
KARL ROLVAAG

One of the more unpleasant but nevertheless fascinating tasks that evolve to a governor in this atomic age is a consideration of measures to be adopted in the event of a nuclear conflict. The control of our resources and economic stabilization is a problem of awesome magnitude, which can only be solved by the combined efforts of Federal, State and Local governments. In times of national disaster, plans and programs must be placed into immediate operation to maintain our money and credit systems, to ration survival items, and to hold down prices, rents, and wages in undamaged areas.

Conflict Usually Means Chaos

Those who have participated in or who have been subjected to severe war conditions will know what I mean when I say that conflict usually means chaos to civilian populations. In war, banks are destroyed, housing and food items become scarce, money becomes unstable and perhaps even worthless. Under all-out war conditions no economy is immune from severe and sometimes lasting dislocation. A demoralized economy means a demoralized society. A demoralized nation or society may take decades to recover from a catastrophe, so it is very important to plan today for any eventuality tomorrow.

Disaster Currency Ready

A modern phenomenon in our society is the use of checks as a medium of exchange, or money. What would happen, for example, if you were camping in our north woods and a national disaster occurred and your home and savings were destroyed hundreds of miles away? First of all, you would be allowed to write a check not to exceed $100 to take care of your immediate needs. Special currency is already printed for issue in time of disaster. You would also be issued already-prepared ration coupons for food, gasoline and other essential consumer goods.

Economic Stabilization

An Emergency Economic Stabilization Plan has been developed and covers a wide range of activities, including methods to be used to maintain money and credit system, ration survival items, and to hold down prices, rents and wages in undamaged areas. Local and State governments are responsible, after an attack, for enforcing a national freeze order on prices, rents and essential consumer goods at the retail level. State and Local governments will assist financial institutions under regulation of th Department of Treasury, Federal Reserve Board, Federal Home Loan Bank and othr agencies in the administration of money and credit controls. They also have the responsibility to assist the U. S. Department of labor, Wage and Hour Offices in the administration of postattack wage and salary controls.

Disaster Planning

As your Governor, I am charged under law with the responsibility for developing, as part of Minnesota's "Survival Plan," for economic stabilization and management of resources during a national emergency. To meet such an eventuality, in recent days I have taken a number of steps to ease the transition from disaster to normality. I believe that Minnesota should and will be ready in event of emergency.

Current Preparations

Recently I directed the Department of Civil Defense to conduct a series of meetings throughout the State for the purpose of providing guidance to counties on establishment of county economic stabilization services. I have requested that each county Board of Commissioners appoint responsible citizens to serve on emergency stabilization boards, and have suggested that the county auditor be appointed as chief of each County Economic Stabilization Service. I have urged that provision be made to secure and store consumer rationing reproduction proofs to be supplied to county boards throughout the state. Finally, I have directed the Commissioner of the Department of Business Development, as Chief of the State Civil Defense Economic Stabilization Service, to issue such information, rules and regulations necessary to carry out emergency operations in keeping with federal and state economic stabilization plans.

Guard's Enlistment Program Is Revised

A change in the enlistment program for non-prior service personnel who enlist in the Army National Guard after August 10 was announced by Major General Chester J. Moeglein today.

On and after August 11 there will be one standard program for all enlistees of the ages 17 through 25, inclusive. The period of enlistment and Ready Reserve obligation will be six years. Formerly those in age group 17 to 18½ could enlist for 3½ years in the Ready Reserve and 4½ years in the Standby Reserve.

An additional change in the enlistment program involves the six months of active duty training required of all non-prior service personnel. The new program authorizes a variable period of initial active duty for training of from four months to that period which is required to qualify the individual in his military ocupational specialty.

Young men in the age group 17 -18½ inclusive who desire to join the Guard under the 3½ year Ready Reserve program should contact their local Army National Guard unit prior to August 11.

Feed Grain Program for 1964 Is Outlined by Pennington ASCS

The 1964 feed grain program will be basically the same as in 1963, Winton Knutson, chairman of the Pennington county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said today. The signup period for both fall and spring sown crops is planned for early 1964.

As recommended by producers, the chairman pointed out, the Department of Agriculture had held changes to the "fewest consistent with law and economic circumstances." The major change in next year's feed grain program is an increase in the rate of payment for maximum diversion. This is intended to encourage producers to divert additional feed grain acreage and to increase their income.

In 1964, a producer may divert as much as 50 per cent of his feed grain base acreage (in 1963 it was 40 per cent), and those who divert from 40 to 50 per cent will receive diversion payments at the maximum rate for all acres diverted. As before, the maximum acreage diversion will be 25 acres if this is more than 50 per cent of the base.

As in the 1963 program, two rates of diversion payment will be offered: (Producers who divert at least 20 per cent of their base acres will be eligible for payment (based on the county price-support rate for the feed grain diverted) on 20 per cent of the normal yield of the diverted acres; (2) for diversions between 20 and 40 per cent of their acreage, the payments on this part of the diversion will be at a rate of 50 per cent of the farm's normal yeild times the county support rate. Participants who divert 40 to 50 per cent of the base (or 25 acres, if this is greater) will receive the 50 per-cent maximum rate of payment on all acres diverted. Under a new legal provision, payments may not exceed 20 per cent of the value of the land diverted.

The total national average price-support levels in 1964 will be the same as in 1963, but a slightly larger proportion of the support will be made availabe through loans. For the feed grains covered by the program, the loan rate, support payment, and total national average support are, respectively: Corn (per bu.), $1.10, 15 cents, $1.25; barley (per bu.) 84 cents, 12 cents, 96 cents; grain sorghum (per cwt.), $1.77, 23 cents, $2.

Payments-in-kind for both diversion and the non-loan part of the price support will again be made in the form of negotiable certificates with which the producer may receive grain from CCC stocks or cash at the ASC county office if he wishes CCC to help in marketing the certificates.

As in the past, eligibility for payments and price support will be conditional upon maintenance of normal acreage (1959-60) average) in soil-conserving crops or practices, including summer fallow and idle land. Also as in the past, a producer who owns or operates more than one farm will be eligible to participate in the program on one farm only if, on each of his other farms, the feed grain base is not exceeded.

3-year Road Building Program Announced

Following a meeting with Governor Karl F. Rolvaag, State Highway Commissioner James C. Marshall today released a new three-year construction program calling for almost $314 million in road work during fiscal years 1964, 1965 and 1966. The new program exceeds the one published a year ago by more than $66 million.

Largest expenditure in the new program is for Interstate work, with a total of $210,572,000. Regular Trunk Highways will have projects totaling $103,135,000. Of the three fiscal years, 1965 will see the most contract lettings, with a total of almost $110 million. Close behind is 1966 with $106.9 million, and 1964 with $96.7 million.

These figures represent expected construction costs including ten per cent for engineering inspection. In addition to the above amounts the department expects to spend about $50 million for rights of way.

Additional expenditures will be for routine highway maintenance, highway safety, planning and administrative costs. These total about $25 million a year.

Federal funds and state road user revenues available to the Highway Department for expenditure or obligation between now and next June 30th total almost $200 million.

The large increase in the new program, the highest so far in Minnesota road building history, is due principally to larger appropriations of federal funds. Another factor is the anticipated increase in road user revenue resulting from the one-cent motor fuel tax increase passed by the last legislature.

Interstate projects are financed with 90 per cent federal funds and 10 per cent state. Regular Trunk

Hockey Talk

The New York Rangers of the National Hockey league will open their training camp at the Winnipeg Arena on Sept. 15. An exhibition game between the Rangers and the Stanley Sup winners, the Toronto Maple Leafs, will be played at the Winnipeg Arena on Oct. 3.

It is rumored that burly Bill Juzda, who has been player-coach of the senior hockey Winnipeg Maroons the past couple of seasons, will be relieved of his coaching duties this year. Bill, who was one of the most colorful, and efficient, hockey players to ever play with the local Thieves, was quite successful as a coach of the Maroons. He led the team to the Canadian senior hockey finals last year. Bill will be welcomed by the new Maroons' management as an active player. Bill's pushing forty, you know.

The Fort Frances Royals hockey club, a junior outfit, will be a member of the Manitoba Junior A hockey league this season. Artificial ice will be made in September in the Memorial Arena at the Fort, and the club should be in fine condition when it moves into competition against such highly-ranked juniors clubs as the Brandon Wheat Kings, the St. Boniface Canadiens, and the Winnipeg Monarchs and the Winnipeg Rangers.

The Royals will ice a team made up for the most part of players who learned their hockey in the Fort Frances and International Falls area. A couple of imports may be added to the squad. One of the players who is expected to play a stellar role for the Royals is center-ice man Keith (Huffer) Christiansen. Keith, it will be recalled, was an all-state tournament selection while a member of coach Larry Ross' state champion International Falls Broncos a couple of seasons ago. The fact that the Royals are joining a highly-ranked Junior A circuit may keep some of the Fort Frances boys from crossing over the river and continuing their high school education at International Falls.

Artificial Ice at Roseau

It is reported that plans are being completed for the installation of an artificial ice plant at Roseau. Those proposed plans, which will entail the pouring of a concrete floor in the hockey arena and the curling rink, provide for an artificial ice plant with the capacity to make ice in the hockey arena and the curling rink. If Roseau goes ahead with these plans, and there aren't any reasons to doubt that these plans will be turned down, the high school Rams and the senior hockey Cloverleafs will get the benefit of the first artificial ice rink in Region Eight.

"A Rule That is Needed"

The council of the National Federation of State High school Athletic Associations, of which the Minnesota State High School league is a member, held its annual meeting last week, and one of the rules that came out of this meeting at Lake Placid, N. Y., is a rule that has been needed.

The council adopted a rule that would require high school wrestlers to establish a minimum wieght at the beginning of a season and would not prmit them to wrestle at any lower weight during the season. This rule becomes effective in September, 1964.

The council also made clear that it is opposed to the growing number of summer camps that specialize in one sport, such as basketball and football.

In a resolution that was adopted by th executive council, the federation said that "attendance at specialized athletic camps tends to give an advantage to those boys whose parents can provide for such camp attendance."

The federation urged that these camps offer a program of diversified activities, and that the directors of such camps confer with the appropriate high school athletic associations to protect the "future high school eligibility" of the youths who attend the camps.

A spokesman said that the resolution was aimed primarily at basketball and football, but that there were also an increasing number of camps specializing in wrestling and ice hockey.

4 Clearbrook Men Injured in Mishap

Heavy Floating Roof of Petroleum Tank Falls

The 107-ton floating roof on a petroleum tank under construction at Clearbrook collapsed Wednesday, trapping five workmen underneath. Four of the men, pinned by the steel structure, were injured.

The men, welders employed by Graver Tank Co., were working on a 150,000-gallon storage tank being built at the Minnesota Pipeline pumping station in Clearbrook.

The tank roof has pontoons and it floats over the oil when the tank is in use. While work was under way, the roof was propped up at a height of seven feet.

The men were changing the propping when the accident happened.

Harvey Utison, Jim Bosstic, Maurey Bosstic, and Bill Welch were pinned by the roof. Anton Leman, who was under the center of the dome-shaped structure, was trapped but not pinned.

Rescue workers brought in welding equipment and had to cut through a sidewall of the tank, then through two layers of steel in a pontoon, to reach the men. The injured were hospitalized at Bagley.

Feeding Program Again Slated on Agassiz Refuge

Surplus Grain Will Be Used to Feed Ducks and Prevent Depredation

The grain-feeding program for waterfowl, which was initiated at the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge two years ago, will again be used this year, according to Herb Dill, refuge manager. Previous feeding programs were considered a success in that they helped hold the ducks on the refuge during the harvest season.

Dill stated that surplus grain has again been requested from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Grain will be fed on specially prepared sites on the refuge which have been graveled to permit using them in case of wet weather.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service will cooperate with the Minnesota Department of Conservation on this program. State refuges at Thief Lake and Roseau River are conducting similar programs.

Dill added that anyone seeing ducks feeding in grain fields off the refuge during the harvest season is requested to report the matter promptly to him at Agassiz refuge, or to the Minnesota Department of Conservation at Thief Lake or Roseau.

Dill also added that Zon exploders, very effective scaring devices for waterfowl and blackbirds, are now available at the Roseau Fixit Shop.

The last week of scheduled games is coming up and next week we'll be heading into the playoffs. This will mean that the games scheduled from Aug. 12 to 22 will be dropped. This has been done because of the pressing schedule some of the players will have later on in August. Many of the players will be going back to college; some will be playing high school football and for other reasons it was decided best to get the play-offs going.

The pairings for the first round in playoff action will put the 1st place team against the 8th, 2nd vs. 7th, 3rd vs. 6th, and 4th going against the 5th. The dates and times will be announced later.

As to a play off champion, I'm going out on the limb and predict that Bridgeman's will go home with the title.

On Sunday the first annual Aquacade Softball tournament will be held in Thief River Falls. Four different softball diamonds will be used and it promises to provide some top notch softball. Teams from all over the area will be entered as well as four of our local teams. If you have a chance to get out to watch some of the action, I'm sure you won't be disappointed.

Last week's league action found Bridgeman's topping Hamm's in the feature game 7-6. The Bridgeman's had to come from behind to win. Hartz topped the Guard in a free swinging game 15-7 and the Vets kept on rolling as they clubbed Rasmussen 16-7. Western Oil won its fifth straight game as George Hanestad shut out Forsberg's 14-0.

See you at the softball tournament.

7th District DFL Chief Challenges Voting by Langen

Seventh District DFL Chairman A. O. Reierson of Fosston has charged Congressman Odin Langen with "voting against funds for seventh district."

Reierson referred to Langen's votes against the Accelerated Public Works appropriations.

"Langen opposed the appropriation in the subcomittee, the committee on appropriations and on the House floor where he voted against it," Reierson continued.

Accelerated Public Works program requires 50 per cent local funds for work on sewer, water, street and municipal improvements. According to Reierson "this is no give-away program, because local funds are required."

Norman-Polk Loop Holding Playoffs

Ada Defeats Crookston in First Round of Play

The Norman - Polk baseball league, of which the local Thieves club was a member last season, is engaged in league playoffs to determine the entry in the Region 2B tournament.

In first - round playoff games played on Saturday night, the Ada Athletics defeated the Crookston Pirates, 3 to 1 at Ada; and the Fosston Jets defeated the Twin Valley Twins, 8 to 4, at Twin Valley.

On Sunday afternoon, in a game played at Fertile, Twin Valley edged out the Crookston Pirates, 5 to 4, to sideline the Pirates. The game between the Fosston and Ada teams, which was to have been played at Fertile on Sunday night, was postponed because of the vicious wind and rain storm that struck the Fertile area last night. The game has been re-scheduled for Monday night. On Wednesday night, at Fertile, Twin Valley will meet the loser of tonight's tilt. The playoff finals will be played on Saturday night, and, if needed, on Sunday night.

The Region 2B tournament will be played at Fertile next week.

Hot, Dry Weather Speeds Harvest in TRF District

Local Elevators Busy Receiving Barley and Oats During Past Week

Favored by bright sunny weather, the grain harvest in this area has made rapid progress during the past week. A shower Sunday evening brought .20 inch of rain at the local airport, but combining was resumed Monday afternoon. Hot temperatures continued, with high readings on the airport thermometer of 89 Monday and 87 Tuesday.

Heavy rains and winds hit the Crookston area Sunday evening with Crookston reporting over an inch of rain. Hail fell in a narrow strip about five miles north of Fisher near the Davidson elevator.

With combining now in full swing, local elevators have been busy in recent days accepting grain, mostly oats and barley, with a few loads of wheat.

One elevator reported that the barley being received is of good quality, mostly of the malting grade and yielding from 40 to 60 bushels to the acre. It also was reported that an exceptional field of oats had yielded at the rate of 110 bushels to the acre. Other elevator men commented that there is a wide range in both quality and yield of grain brought in.

Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Mattson of Des Moines, Ia. were weekend guests at the Joe Peterson home. The ladies are sisters.

Official opening and dedication of Centennial Park in Thief River Falls took place Monday evening at the park grounds on Squaw Point near the Eighth street bridge. The dedication ceremonies were part of the Ninth Annual Jaycees Aquacade being held this week.

Speakers on the program were Herman Kjos, chairman of the Pennington county statehood centennial committee; Jon Metusalem, Thief River Falls Jaycees; and Carl Larson, district engineer for the Thief River Falls Jaycees; and Carl Larson, district engineer for the Minnesota highway department. Mayor Orin Green cut the ribbon to officially open the boat ramp and the first boat was launched by Donald M. Olson.

Kjos told the assembled crowd that the park initially "was just a dream and a laugh" since persons interested in creating a park by "converting this unsightly spot" were subjected to ridicule. "Now the dream has become a reality," Kjos said, "and we should look to the other side of the road for our next project." He refered to preservation of property which was a site of meeting between Indians and whites just north of highway 1.

Metusalem stated that the dedication was "a great night for all the people in Pennington county." He noted that the state legislature had made an appropriation for park improvement during the centennial year if communities would provide the land. This was accomplished by the joint efforts of the Jaycees, centennial committee, city council and county board with the Jaycees contributing toward organizing the program and profit-making.

Tribute to Pioneers

The former Jaycee committee member said that the park is "a tribute to the pioneers who, with frozen limbs and aching backs, by the sweat of their brow, carved out this community and caused it to grow." To these people we owe a debt of gratitude, he said.

Larson explained how the highway department was able to participate in the program by securing title to the property and reaching agreement with the city of Thief River Falls. The highway department was to surface and maintain the parking area and plant trees while the city was to provide police protection and maintain the picnic area.

Following the ribbon-cutting by Mayor Green and the boat launching, dignitaries were given a boat tour of the river boating area in the city.

Rotary Hears of Aquacade, Arctic Stock

Edgar Hetteen Tells Reasons for Selling Stock on Public Sale

Rotarians in Thief River Falls heard reports on the Jaycees Aquacade and sale of stock by Arctic Enterprises at the noon meeting held Monday in the Elks club rooms. A challenge issued by the Lions club for a golf match on Monday, August 19, was accepted by the Rotary club with Lloyd Bennes appointed to make official acceptance.

Marvin Lundin, Jaycee president and chairman of the Aquacade pageant committee, reviewed the activities of the week-long event. Connie Ekeren, Miss Aquacade of 1962, told of some of her experiences while representing the city as Miss Thief River Falls.

Edgar Hetteen, chairman of the board of directors of Arctic Enterprises, told of the reason behind the issuance of $100,000 in stock. The problem of the local concern is directly opposite that of thousands of small business firms across the nation, he said.

Because of a successful year in 1962 and the organization of an effective sales force in key sales areas, the concern must increase its volume of production to give dealers full assurance of delivering merchandise when they need it. It is impossible to grow fast enough to do this from retained earnings, Hetteen said, and the dealers must receive service or they will terminate dealerships.

The Arctic Cat, a vehicle for personnel transporation on snow, has met with its greatest acceptance by utilities companies and government agencies. It is also fast becoming popular among the people who gain enjoyment from boats and motors in the summer.

Last year Arctic Enterprises spent about $100,000 in Thief River Falls for taxes, labor and materials purchased locally. The payroll reached as high as 50 people at the peak period. This year the plant will have a peak of about 65 people, the chairman said, and will produce two to three times the volume of last year by extending the manufacturing season.

"We have been happy with the success of the company in the past and are very enthused about the future," Hetteen told the club. "We must produce in quantity to halt competition. This is why we are offering stock for public sale. Persons interested in a prospectus or in discussing the purchase of stock are invited to make arrangements by calling the Arctic Enterprises office.

Pipeline Project Details Are Given Lions Wednesday

Field Engineer Tells of Additional 34-Inch Line Costing $100,000 a Mile

Roy Thurm, field engineer with the Mannix Construction Co., currently engaged in enlarging the capacity of the Lakehead Pipeline Co. lines through this section of Minnesota, discussed the huge project at the Lions club luncheon meeting Wednesday noon.

Introduced by Bill LaFave, program chairman, Thurm said the Mannix firm is installing sections of a 34-inch pipeline between Donaldson and Bemidji, this being in addition to two present 26-inch lines. The original line of 18-inch capacity, he said, was installed in 1950.

The new line, Thurm stated, is being installed at a cost of about $100,000 per mile, and approximately 250 men are employed, about half of them from this area. Equipment used by the company on the project is valued at $5,000,000, in addition to rented items. When the job here is completed shortly, the crew will move to Bemidji.

In closing, Thurm expressed appreciation of the hospitality extended by Thief River Falls citizens to the company and its workers.

The proposal was tabled pending comparison with the offers of other companies.

"Economic Stabilization in Time of War" will be the topic for a five-county Civil Defense meeting to be held today (Thursday) at 1:30 p. m. in the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls. Kendall Gustafson, county Civil Defense director, will be host to the meeting.

Price control, rationing and other economic factors will be discussed at the session with officials from the state Civil Defense staff present to conduct the training. County commissioners, city council members and local Civil Defense staff members concerned with this phase of the program are urged to be in attendance.

"Under all-out war conditions no economy is immune from severe and sometimes lasting dislocation," stated Governor Karl Rolvaag recently. "A demoralized economy means a demoralized society. Marcella Birkeland Wed to Leon Borchert July 13

Miss Marcella Birkeland and Leon Terry Borchert, both of this city, were united in marriage at Trinity Lutheran church in Crookston on July 13. The double-ring ceremony took place at 8 o'clock with Rev. Daniel Dowling reading the vows. Pink gladioli and white carnations decorated the altar.

Miss Birkeland's parents are Mrs. Carrie Birkeland, Crookston, and Sigurd Birkeland of Oklee, while the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Julius Borchert of this city.

"Thanks Be to Thee" was played at the church organ by Miss Alpha Mork of Crookston.

Giving the bride in marriage was her brother, Ordean Birkeland. She chose a gown of brocaded satin in street length, and an elbow-length veil of illusion. The bouquet she carried was of pink roses centered among white carnations.

Her attendant, Miss Bonnie Borchert of Minneapolis, a sister of the groom, as maid of honor, wore a lavender sheath-style dress. Her flowers were pink and white carnations, and her accessories were white.

Arlen Birkeland, Gonvick, a brother of the bride, served as best man. Ushers were Ray and Roy Nelson.

Mrs. Birkeland chose a dress of navy blue accessorized with white, for her daughter's wedding. She wore a corsage of pink roses. The mother of the groom wore a dress of white and cinnamon brown with white accessories, and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

The reception for about fifty guests was held in the basement of the church and was given by the bride's mother. Mrs. Charles Monda was at the gift table, and Miss Julie Borchert served punch. Mrs. John Sampson presided at the coffee service and Judy Anderson and Bonnie Epers were waitresses.

Guests were in attendance from East Grand Forks, Fargo, and Grand Forks, N. D.; Minneapolis, Mentor, Gonvick, and Thief River Falls.

The square three-tiered bridal cake was topped with pink satin bells, and cut by Mrs. Oscar Torgerson.

The newlyweds honeymooned on the North Shore for several days. The bride wore a black eyelet embroidered sheath dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses as her travel costume.

Miss Birkeland is a 1961 graduate of Central high school, Crookston, and a 1962 graduate of the cosmetology department of the local area vocational school. She is employed at Northwestern Bell Telephone as an operator. The groom graduated from Lincoln high school here in 1962, and is at present a student in architectural drafting in the area vocational school.

Mrs. James D. Kelly Misses Own Shower

Many guests had been invited to a baby shower for Mrs. James D. Kelly, a former resident of this city, now living in Crookston. Mrs. Clayton Molstad had all in readiness, together with the co-hostess, Mrs. James E. Kelly, at the Molstad home in this city. It was Sunday afternoon, August 4. But the guest of honor was in a Crookston hospital, her new-born son unperturbed by the fact that his early advent had caused his mother to miss her own party.

Games were played, nevertheless, with Mrs. Danny Hanson being awarded the door prize and booby prize going to Kathleen Kelly. Later, Miss Kelly, sister-in-law of the honored guest, sat in the place of honor and received the shower gifts, in lieu of Mrs. Kelly. After the gifts had been viewed, they were re-wrapped, to be presented later at the hospital. The hostesses served lunch to the assembled guests, Mrs. Norval Johnson and Norma Jean Johnson; Mrs. Ed Senum and Kevin; Mr. and Mrs. Danny Hanson and family; Mrs. Mary Webskowski; Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Backlund and family of Red Lake Falls, Mrs. Patrick Kelly, Mrs. James Kelly and Kathleen, and Mr. Clayton Molstad and the children. Darryl Smith Featured In Goodyear Magazine

Activities of Darryl Smith, Peace Corps member from Thief River Falls who is serving in South America, are featured in the current issue of a national industrial magazine.

The five-page, illustrated article appears in the August issue of Goodyear News magazine, published monthly by The Goodyear Tire and Rubber company and sent to nearly 85,000 readers throughout the United States. It contains nine photos plus a color cover photo. Local material was gathered by Roscoe Creed, associate editor.

The son of Charles Smith, Goodyear dealer for 18 years in Thief River Falls, Darryl lives and works with a proud race of Hispano Indians who inhabit the province of Antioqia, Colombia. In doing so, the article states, he is proving to them that their bustling neighbor to the north is populated by people basically like themselves, people who are willing to share the knowledge that has brought them a better way of life.

After more than a year and one-half in the village of Jardin—which translated means 'garden'—and whose name is appropriate to its scenery - Darryl has adjusted to the villagers' tranquil mode of living. He converses with them in fair Spanish and has learned to like "el chicharron" (crisp-fried pigskin) and "los fripoles con arepa" (beans with corn griddle cakes).

The friendship is not based on personality alone. "Dario" - as he is called in Spanish - is helping the people to build five kilometers of road, two footbridges, a community hall, an additional classroom for the present school and an entirely new school which will be a memorial to a fellow Peace Corpsman who died in a plane crash in a neighboring province.

Jardin, Antioquia, is many miles and many dreams from the town where Darryl grew up. An island of 8,000 people amid thousands of acres of fertile farm land, Thief River Falls provided the background he needed for his present occupation, says the News.

Quentin Jones, Darryl's physical education instructor at Lincoln high school, remembers him as a boy who liked rough-and tumble sports. He played tackle on the "Prowlers" football team; he was defenseman on the school's state championship hockey team in 1956. "He was a quiet boy, but if anything was going on, he'd be around," says Jones. "Nothing ever seemed to get him down."

A hunting pal of high school days, Lyle Haagensen, who now runs a turkey farm 14 miles from town, tells of mornings when he and Darryl would arise at 3 a.m. and go duck hunting, getting in three or four hours of shooting before school time. "He was a good sport and a good sportsman," says Haagensen. "He felt that cheating on the game limit would take the fun out of it."

Darryl worked part time in his father's dealership during his high school years, and full time for two years after leaving college.

"He was an enthusiastic salesman," says Smith. "He loved to go out and call on farmers. If a farmer was cleaning his barn, Darryl would join right in, all the while talking tires. And if the call was during hunting season, on the way home he'd look for ducks and geese."

In Darryl's absense, his older brother Gary fills in for him around the dealership during the summer months. Gary is an American history teacher in Chinook high school, Chinook, Montana.

Darryl's mother Hazel recalls that for several years prior to his enlistment in the Peace Corps, he had wanted to travel around the world, spreading good will for the United States.

"He carried a map for some time with his 'round-the-world route marked on it," she says, "but plans to work his way around didn't materialize. The same thing happened to a later, similarly-financed tour of South America."

His desire to learn more about other nations and to help other peoples was one of the reasons he left Moorhead State college, Moorhead, to attend Mexico City College, Mexico, for a semester.

So intense was his desire that Darryl found ways to promote international good will while staying at home according to the News. Marvin Lundin, city editor of the Thief River Falls Times and president of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, of which Darryl was a member, worked with him on numerous projects, such as safety checks for bicycles and autos and the annual Aquacade.

"His favorite project, though, was one sponsored by Jaycees International," says Lundin. "It was a letter-writing program in which businessmen from one country would exchange ideas with businessmen in similar occupations in other countries, furthering both business and international relations."

Darryl took his Peace Corps examinations in Bemidji in late fall of 1961, and received his notice of acceptance January 1, 1962. For the next several months he underwent rigorous scholastic and physical training at the University of Arizona and at the University of the Andes in Bogota, Columbia, before taking his post in Jardin.

In addition to the engineering projects with which he is assisting in Colombia, Darryl is at work on other projects of even broader scope. "One of the projects is reforestation," he says. "The country is badly eroded and needs timber and water control."

He has written numerous civic organizations in the United States, asking financial help in bringing a farmer from his territory to this country to study milk production, poultry raising and other agricultural techniques.

"I don't believe there are any great differences between the farmers of Colombia and those of the United States," he says. "The basic problem is that Colombian farmers lack a knowledge of production methods, mechanization and technical and general education which is essential to greater economic development."

Darryl is helping organize citizen's councils for a more free exchange of ideas which will lead to better levels of development. He feels that the lack of knowledge concerning what can be accomplished through united community action is one of the major drawbacks among peoples of under-developed areas of the world.

"The task of creating this knowledge and the stimulation of it is precisely the mission of the Peace Corps," he says. "I believe we have accomplished much."

Darryl also teaches English classes to students at the College of San Antonio. The little spare time remaining he devotes to perfecting his Spanish, reading or studying in his own modest library. He joins in football games, South American style, with local teams and occasionally goes hunting. A letter to his parents tells of accompanying the world skeet-shooting champion for a day, hunting doves in the morning, ducks in the afternoon.

Darryl's Peace Corps partner for many months, Missourian John Lewis, completed his enlistment and returned to the United States. Much to Darryl's suprise, Lewis' replacement is Charles Rambeck, also from Thief River Falls.

Although 24-year-old Darryl reports that three of his fellow Peace Corpsmen have been married in Colombia, he has no particular girl friend. He mentions that the young ladies of Jardin are pretty and pleasant, and that they have taught him several South American dances, but he has no matrimonial plans.

His enlistment is completed in February of 1964. "I hope he comes home, finishes college and takes over the tire business," says his dad. And that may be. Darryl has not yet decided. But on one matter he has expressed his intent. "When I get home," he commented in a recent letter, "I'm going to buy a trailer, hook it on my Jeep, and do nothing but hunt for two solid weeks!"

FEATURED in the August issue of the Goodyear News, monthly magazine published by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, is Darryl Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Thief River Falls. Darryl is the only offspring of a Goodyear dealer in the Peace Corps and is serving in Colombia, South America. The five-page story includes nine photos from Colombia and Thief River Falls as well as a full-page cover in color.

The Library Corner

by Virginia Gjernes

There was a time when the word "library" meant only a name for a storehouse of books! Now, in metropolitan areas, such is not the case! Not at all! The presentday library still has books as its primary offering but it has many, many other departments where card-holders of record may pursue knowledge and interests in many ways.

Besides books, there are newspapers from near and far, pamphlets covering a multitude of subjects and periodicals . . . weekly, monthly, quarterly, semi-annually and annually. There are atlases and documents . . . all gathered under one roof for the use of all recorded borrowers.

Every library today has all these things, in large or small amounts, depending upon budget, demand and space available. But, the metropolitan library doesn't stop with the written, printed word . . . not any more.

Today it is possible to walk into a library and borrow, of all things, art objects. Paintings, sulpured works and photographs suitable for display in your home or place of business are available. These things may be borrowed for a period of time, then returned, and another taken and hung or placed so that members of the family or the best artistic works in the world today. Some of the art objects offered are originals, others are excellent reproductions. But whether the real thing or imitation the beauty and educational purposes are equal; the borrower interest is encouraged and the desire for cultural development is fostered.

City libraries today also house phonograph records which are loaned to those desiring them. The music recordings range from the classical to the modern and therefore satisfy the tastes of all. Circulation of melodic and talking recordings accomplishes the same thing in the lives of the borrowing public as books and art objects—education, enjoyment, recreation, stimulation of the mind and development of individual taste in the arts and sciences, whether musical in nature or the spoken word.

Another service offered by the more complete libraries today is through the audio-visual departments, as films become more easily available and more readily obtainable covering various subjects. There are film strips and slides covering almost any educational, informational or recreational subject known. The filmstrips and slide collections must be added to the library's shelves with the same care and accuracy as a book, whether fiction, non-fiction or reference.

Where a city-supported library becomes a multi-county organization, it automatically sets us an audio-visual lending section. Your own city library, not yet multi-county but progressing toward that goal, does not offer this service. However, members of the organization, Friends of the Library, have seriously discussed making treasury funds available to the librarian for the setting up of such a department at your Carnegie Public Library. Naturally, plans for the cost of the original installment, as well as constant and continued support, must be well established and the financial picture clear before such an undertaking.

So today's metropolitan or multi-county library differs from yesterday's — not in the kind or amount of service to the public — not in quality of service to the public—but in the ways it serves!

Your library hasn't changed, either. It still offers service, still gives you the latest and best choices in reading materials—but, your library would like to be able to serve a few "side dishes" with the main course.

Your library would like to be able to have, on its shelves and in its cupboards, the latest in materials for even greater pleasure and mental development. But—until these extra dividends are available sometime in the future, your own library and librarians will continue to serve the very best printed material available — whether books, magazines or documents; whether fiction, non-fiction or reference.

And remember—if the book you want isn't on your library's shelf—it is quite possible the librarian may obtain it for you—with an inter-library loan. Ask about it!

Yard'n Garden

Pests in the Garden

Insect control in your home garden should begin at planting time and continue throughout the season. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

New insecticides make prevention and control easier. However, many of these materials control only certain pests. Many have a long residual effect and should not be used on edible plant parts. Others are too poisonous to be recommended generally.

One of the most useful insecticides for the home vegetable garden is a methoxychlor-malathion mixture. Applied as a spray or dust, it will control most of the common leaf-chewing and sap-sucking insect pests in the garden.

It's usually desirable to add a fungicide like zineb or maneb to the above mixture for prevention and control of foliage diseases on tomatoes and potatoes.

Soil insects like root maggots, cutworms, wireworms and white grubs can be controlled by applying a granular formulation of chlordane or dieldrin to the soil at planting time.

Garden slugs are often a problem. They are difficult to control during periods when the soil is kept too wet. They often congregate under boards or rocks or in compost or mulch materials in the garden. In the evening place a commercial slug bait containing metaldehyde in the wet spots in the garden. Use about 1 tablespoon of bait at each spot 2 to 3 feet in diameter.

Apply pest control materials in the evening when there is less bee activity. Bees are necessary for pollination. Follow directions on the container for amounts to use. Make blanket applications every 7 to 10 days.

Marshall Holds ASC Community Election

Soon to be elected by their ASC farmers committeemen have important program responsibilities, according to Edward A. Johnson, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. "This makes it all the more important that representative farmers be elected to the job," he declared.

ASC committees have charge of the local field administration of such national farm programs as acreage allotments, marketing quotas, commodity loans, the feed grain program, the sugar act program, the national wool program, the agricultural conservation program, the conservation reserve program, and farm-storage facility loans. Other duties are assigned to the committees by the secretary of agriculture as the need arises.

Chairman Johnson explained that each year farmers who are taking part in one or more of the farm programs which the committees administer elect a community committee from among their own number. The chairman and vice chairman and regular member of this committee also serve respectively as delegate and alternate delegates to the county convention, where the county ASC committee is elected.

In Marshall county, the farmers who are eligible to vote for the community committee and for delegates to the county convention will cast their ballots at a meeting held for that purpose on August 19 at 8 p. m. at the following places in the Times area.

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture

Plowing biennial sweetclover at its beginning bloom stage will prevent seed setting and insure proper rotting of the plowed under material. Proper rotting is assured when you fall plow your grass sods in August. Late fall or spring plowing may rob succeeding crops of sufficient nitrogen due to a tie-up of nitrogen by soil organisms. (A. R. Schmid and H. J. Otto, University of Minnesota Agronomists.)

Corn yields can be increased 8 to 10 bushels per acre by seeding legumes in small grain fields and plowing in late fall or the following spring before planting corn. University of Minnesota Agronomists, A. R. Schmid and H. J. Otto suggest using common legumes such as biennial sweetclover, Hubam (annual) sweetclover, nonhardy alfalfa, and medium red clover.

Specific legumes for green manure crops may be determined by five basic factors, according to A. R. Schmid and H. J. Otto, University of Minnesota Agronomists. Make your determination on the basis of 1) seed cost, 2) ease of stand establishment, 3) amount of nitrogen added, 4) soil condition and 5) insect pests.

"Biennial sweetclover is one of the best green manure crops for soil improvement," says University of Minnesota Agronomists A. R. Schmid and H. J. Otto. Although this crop tends to produce volunteer plants in next year's crop, they can be controlled by plowing the clover when it is 4 to 6 inches high in the spring. Beware of the sweetclover weevil when using sweetclover as a green manure crop in Minnesota. Hubam sweetclover, an annual type, eliminates the volunteer plant problem but doesn't produce the plentiful growth of biennial sweetclover.

Long Season Not Major Factor in Game Population

Hunting Pressure As Season Advances Drops To Very Small Amount

Human trait of matching input against output is more instrumental in controlling the harvest of small game than season lengths and bag and possession limits. So states the Wildlife Management Institute which has conducted a number of studies on the relative factors of game conservation.

Human beings labor when the rewards are equal to or greater than the value of the time, money and effort exerted to obtain them, the institute says. For instance, hunting effort for small game dwindles rapidly long before the birds or animals are reduced to anywhere near a level which would jeopardize the following year's breeding stock.

This has prompted decisions in many states to set the longest possible small game seasons in order to supply extra outdoor recreational opportunity for those hunters who wish to take advantage of it. Most hunters lose interest after the first week of season openings and game becomes more difficult to obtain. . .that is to say, after game has been scattered to less accessible spots.

By shooting wildlife on experimental areas at rates three to four times those known to be achieved by hunters, scientists have shown that much larger bags of game could be taken. Hunters benefit from longer seasons, as do businesses that supply goods and services, and future game stocks are not jeopardized, the Wildlife Management Institute concludes.

Brooks Cheese Factory Signs N.F.O. Contract

Signing of a contract with the National Farm Organization has been announced by Aurel J. Parenteau of the Brooks Cheese Factory, Inc., at Brooks. In making the announcement, Parenteau made the following statement:

"It is the feeling of the plant management that the N. F. O. is of sufficient strength at this time to merit recognition by all those in the agricultural field.

"The Brooks Cheese Factory realizes that the farm problem is not going to be settled over night, and that the N. F. O. may not have all the answers either, but the N. F. O. does represent an effort by the farmer to improve his own lot. This approach seems to be the most sensible program yet devised, because nobody can know the farm problem better than the farmer himself."

Kittson GOP Head Forms Judd Group

Seeking Presidential Nomination for Dr. Judd

An organization has been set up in Minnesota to push former Minnesota Rep. Walter Judd for the Republican presidential nomination.

Dr. Rudolph Skogerboe of Karlstad, Kittson county GOP chairman, announced he is forming a drive to back Judd. The physician said his actions have been checked with Judd, also a doctor, "and have his endorsement."

Dr. Skogerboe said his aim is to boost Judd for the GOP nomination and not merely as head of a Minnesota delegation committed to a favorite son candidate. The Karlstad man said he told Judd of his plans and the former congressman said to "go ahead."

In Ocean City, N. J., Judd said the Skogerboe program has "my consent," adding, "I wouldn't use the word 'endorsement.'" Judd said he is not seeking the nomination.

Softball All-Star Game

The league champions vs. All-Stars softball game, which has been an annual feature of the local softball season, will be played on the East Side diamond on Monday evening, August 12, at 7 p. m. The V. F. W. team, with a record of twelve wins and one loss, will play as the league champions, and rightly, and they will meet a squad of revenge-seeking all-stars.

The Vets closed out their season's play on Tuesday evening by marking up an 8 to 7 come-from-behind win over the youthful National Guard team. The Guard, showing sturdy strength at the plate against the slants of starter Frank Harger, with one of the blows being a three-run home run by Ron Ebbighausen, held a 6 to 2 lead after three innings of play. The Vets tallied a pair of unearned runs in the fifth, and in the last half of the seventh the league champions scored their tying and winning runs with Don Engelstad's ground single scoring Monro Poole from second with the game-winning run.

And following the champions vs. All-Stars game on Monday evening, the league playoffs will be scheduled. The first game of the league playoffs has been slated for Tuesday evening, with the Vets meeting the league's eighth place team.

One of the encouraging aspects of the softball play this season has been the number of youthful players who have participated in league competition. The Western Oil, the Rasmussen Insurance, the National Guard, and the Forsberg teams are composed, for the most part, of youngsters. And these teams have provided the fans with an entertaining brand of softball.

As an indication of the bustle exhibited by these youngsters I'll mention the play of John Hellquist of the Rasmussen Insurance team. John, who will be a senior at Lincoln high school this season, has been in center field for the Rasmussens. On Monday evening, playing against the Hartz Stores team, John made a catch that must rate with the season's best. He leaped against the tennis court fence in right-center and made a gloved-hand grab to rob a Hartz batsmen of an extra-base hit. John comes to the field to play softball.

And don't forget the softball tournament that will be played here on Sunday, with fourteen teams, including some of the northwest's best, participating.

Some Fine Trout

The Red Lake Falls Gazette reports that Mr. and Mrs. Leo St. Michel, after a fishing trip to Lake Athapapusko (that's in the Cranberry Portage area of Manitoba) returned with a pair of trophy lake trout. Last year they came home with a 28-pound lake trout, but this year they bettered that effort by bringing back a pair of trout, one weighing 33 pounds and the other a 32-pounder.

It will take some doing to better those trout, but if I was a betting man I'd wager a nickel or two that Roy Shetler, who will be leaving for Lac LaRonge on Friday, will bring back a trout that betters the 33-pound mark. Roy and his family will fish the Hunter Bay area of LaRonge, and that's the water that has produced some record-breaking trout.

Losing Sleep

The Canadian Professional football games, which are being seen in this area through Winnipeg's CJAY-TV, surely keep a fan from getting to bed at a decent hour. Particularyly when the games, as was the case on Tuesday night, are being played in western Canada.

Tuesday night's game, between the Winnipeg Blue Bombers and the Calgary Stampeders, played at Calgary, did not end until ten minutes to one. And Calgary scored a well-deserved 6 to 27 win over the defending Canadian football champions.

Another televised game, over CJAY-TV, will be offered on Thursday when Dave Skrein's Vancouver Lions, with former Minnesota all-American Tom Brown in the lineup, meet the Regina Roughriders at Regina.

The Canadian brand of football is interesting, but it's the late hours that are a problem.

Squirrel Season Opens Sept. 14th

Hunting to Be Allowed Until End of December

The conservation department today announced the 1963 hunting regulations on squirrels, rabbits and raccoons.

Grey and fox squirrels will be legal game statewide from Sept. 14 to Dec. 31. Shooting hours will be sunrise to sunset with combined bag limits of 10 daily and 20 in possession.

The Sept. 14 opening is a change from the previously announced tentative date of Sept. 28.

Rabbits may be hunted statewith sunrise to sunset shooting hours. Hunters will be allowed to take 10 daily and have 20 in possession on each of the three species of rabbits: cottontail, jack and snowshoe.

Racoon hunting will be open from Sept. 28 to Dec. 31. Hunting will be permitted statewide, 24 hours per day with no bag limit.

Reports from around the state show that squirrel populations are high now, but late frosts this past spring mean the nut supply will be scarce this winter. Game officials are recommending a heavy take of squirrls by hunters this fall.

Teaches in Germany . . .

LHS Graduate Tells Of Tours in Europe

by Flora Allison
Times Society Reporter

Spending Easter, a religious feast day, in Godless Moscow, Russia, was the rather unique experience of Miss Joan Lindquist, a 1953 graduate of Lincoln high school here. The lack of religious activity left her with a strange feeling inside. Also a graduate of Bemidji State college, she is a physical education instructor in Bremerhaven, Germany, in the employ of the U. S. government, and teaching youngsters of military personnel stationed there. She is currently on summer vacation here at the home of her parents, the Glenn Lindquists.

The high school where she teaches was formerly a German army barracks, "unpretentious but adequate," in her words. Classes vary in size from 12 to 25 girls. So stimulating is the work there that she is returning to Bremerhaven again this fall. Wages are slightly lower initially than here, but with free housing, transportation to and from Germany provided (she chose the air route) and other added benefits, they average out about the same. All single teachers live in Bachelors' Officers Quarters. Everyone there has a maid, who takes over the entire responsibility of the household for about $50 a month in wages.

Miss Lindquist finds life in this North Sea port of about 170,000 people very pleasant. "The natives know enough English, and I know enough German to make an interchange of ideas possible." English is now taught in most of the schools. While the older people still converse among themselves in German, English is fast finding favor among the younger generation.

Russian Tour

The occasion for her Russian visit was a guided tour, one of many arranged for by the German government. "Every smallest detail thereafter is handled by the Russians," she said,—"They plan every stop, every mile covered, every meal, all housing accomodations." Guides are Russian girls, thoroughly indoctrinated in Communist ideals, she found. A student in Moscow expressed amazement to learn that there have been escapes and many more aborted attempts at escape over the Berlin wall. "Why, the wall was built only to keep out Western spies," she explained away the reports and inquiries of the tourists.

There was a visit to an art museum, the lecture there being "pure propaganda," Miss Lindquist said. "Huge paintings on the wall depict the 'happy, smiling people of Russia' in the words of the guide." The most dramatic refutation of this theory she found was the sight of the "old, tired-looking women up on scaffolds, laying bricks."

Conspicuously absent in Russia are neon advertising signs — any kind of product advertising, in fact. There is no competition; everything is government-made. A great demand exists for American-made products. . .small boys in Moscow's Red Square eagerly sought to trade small plastic red stars for American chewing gum, for example.

The tourists, in their visit to a Russian University, conversed with both the students and professors, and in another school sat in on an English class and heard a very fine job of reading Longfellow, in English, by a seventh grade girl.

Paris No Attraction. . .Yet

Miss Lindquist has seen most of Europe, with the exception of France and the Scandinavian countries. Paris, she said, is possibly too close to be intriguing. . .it is only an overnight's journey away by train. "So many say it's so old, so dirty and expensive," she commented. "But Europe is like that, in large part. One would expect it to look old. . . it is old, and that is part of its charm." She found the friendliest people of all in Poland. They clustered about the German bus, full of curiosity and friendliness . . . In other parts of Europe, especially in Germany, she says that the esteem in which Americans are held depends on the kind of American with which the people have come into contact.

"It's funny what you miss when you're away from home," she sighed. "Little things. . .ice milk treats, for example.." She watches TV very little; most of the programs are in German. The programs are excellent, she believes, but she knows too little German to get much out of them. It struck her as oddly incongruous to see the steep, thatched roofs on many houses, a stork's nest at one end and a TV antenna at the other.

The Germans, she thought, seem to be letting up in their post-war fever of rebuilding their ravagd nation. Having proven their point that it was possible for the German—the fiercely proud German—to rise again, they are relaxing their efforts now. "They are", she says, "so much like us: they love home, fun and fellowship. . .And they have strong family ties." She recalls the poignancy on the faces of families torn apart by the erection of the Berlin wall. . .she saw them waving hopelessly to each other across the chasm separating them. (The wall was completed only days before she arrived in Berlin.)

Hungary is outstanding, in her mind, from the standpoint of scenery. "Budapest is, to me, the most beautiful place in the world," she declared. She saw Czechoslovakia, Poland, Russia and Hungary on her latest tour. At the border of each country, the guide is changed, each having a native to conduct the tour within its boundaries.

Upon learning of the presence of a Thief River Falls native in Berlin, she made it a point to meet him. He is Dale Klungness, a teacher in that city, also back home this summer. On this occasion, taking her cheer leaders to a football game in Berlin. Miss Lindquist spoke with Mr. Klungness at the game.

She is with a theater group who took part in a European Tournament of Plays last October. The latest of their efforts, "Death of a Salesman," won first place honors for their troupe. Olivia DeHaviland, at a command performance the troupe gave for officers of the Port Command, presented them with replicas of Oscars for their achievement.

Miss Lindquist is thoroughly "sold" on this type of career for a woman. "It's so much different, merely traveling, from living among the people of a country. . . In this line of work, one has a chance to see the world, to get different impressions, to broaden one's viewpoint, to be of service to one's country," she concluded.

Langen Hits Area Redevelopment Agency Projects

Cites Instances Where Existing Plants Would Be Hurt by Competition

"The Area Redevelopment administration could put some areas in Minnesota out of business if its present policy isn't reversed," declared Congressman Odin Langen Friday.

"First it was an effort, with the help of the Agriculture Department, to raise sugar-beets in Cayuga County, New York, in direct competition with established growing areas such as our own Red River Valley. Now we find ARA considering the possibility of setting up a potato processing plant in one section of Minnesota to compete with processing plants in the very same state . . . plants that are presently operating well below capacity and in serious trouble financially.

"There are similarities between this potato proposal and the sugarbeet fiasco," said Langen. "The Area Redevelopment Administration and the Agriculture Department want to grow beets in a New York County where they don't even know if beets can be raised profitably . . . and ARA is now considering processing potatoes in Grasston, Minnesota, located in an area where there is some doubt as to a sufficient supply of potatoes." The cost of the project was listed at $2,270,00, with ARA furnishing $1,378,00 of the total.

Congressman Langen added that "for every job created by ARA projects such as these, a job would be eliminated in the Red River Valley area of Minnesota and North Dakota, where similar industries are already over-expanded."

Langen noted that the proposed plant at Grasston has created so much dissension that "even the "Democrats are criticizing it. The Democrats in Polk County, Minnesota, for example, passed a resolution to protest any federal aid for the plant."

No. Central Lines Win Safety Award

Lines Report No Deaths or Injuries in 15 Years

North Central Airlines Wednesday, received the National Safety Council's top award for its perfect safety record in 1962. The council's coveted award of honor was presented to North Central in recognition of the airline's record of no fatal accidents during the calendar year and an accident rate lower than the average rate for its group in the preceding three years.

North Central has won a safety citation every year since it began scheduled operations in February, 1948. During this period, the Minneapolis-St. Paul-based airline has flown 1,210,000,000 passenger miles and carried 7,500,000 passengers without a single fatality or injury to passengers or crew members.

Hal N. Carr, North Central president, said the airline's 2,100 employees could take personal pride in the company's outstanding safety record over the past 15 years by their careful attention to safety regulations and programs. North Central serves 90 cities in 10 states and Canada.

Census Bureau Helps Obtain Proof of Age

Last year, 1,120 residents of Minnesota turned to the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, for help in proving where and when they were born, the bureau reported today. They needed proof of age to collect social security and other retirement benefits; to obtain passports; to qualify for jobs carrying certain age or citizenship requirements; and for some forms of insurance.

These persons who requested assistance from the Census Bureau last year were among an estimated 20 million United States residents who are without proof of age or birthplace. The historiacl records of the Census Bureau provide the only acceptable source of this information for many of these people. Since its beginning in 1790, the U. S. Census has recorded identifying data for almost 350 million persons, many of them listed several times in separate censuses. The Bureau has provided copies of these records to about three and one-half million people, as legal proof of age, place of birth, citizenship, or kinship.

Persons seeking such a record for social security purposes should go to the local social security office, or, for other purposes, write to the Personal Census Service Branch, Bureau of the Census, Pittsburg, Kansas, for an application form. A fee of $3. is charged for a search of not more than two censuses for one person and for one copy of the information found. Additional copies cost $1. each. An expedited search costs $4. Expedited searches are usually completed within a few days while the routine $3. search may take up to 30 days, depending upon the backlog of requests.

The personal information in the records of the 1900 and later censuses is confidential by law and may be furnished only upon the written request of the person to whom it relates or, for a proper purpose, a legal representative such as a guardian or administrator of an estate. Information regarding a child who has not reached legal age may be obtained upon the written request of either parent.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Laura Duerst Hanson
PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

Are you having button problems at the coin-operated dry cleaners? In order to save the time spent removing buttons and then having to sew them on again, try this: Cut a square of heavy aluminum foil two to three times larger than the diameter of the button. Make a cut in the foil from one edge to the center. Slip this under the button. Lap the cut slip slightly and fold the foil up over the button covering it completely. You will find that this protects the button from being damaged and nicked during the cleaning process. This is a good precaution when you leave the button fastened to the garment.

Every homemaker has a staff of servants in the kitchen, yet many homemakers don't use their equipment to best advantage to save time and energy in meal preparation.

In a recent survey, Minnesota farm women rated these items of small equipment as most useful and their biggest timesavers: a paring knife, rubber spatula, kitchen tongs, small egg beater, a peeler with floating knife blade, can opener and kitchen scissors.

Whatever you rate high on your list, keep it in good working condition. Having knives sharp, for example, can save time.

Storing small equipment in the areas where it is used is another time saver. If it is not stored in the place of most frequent use, you'll be time and energy ahead if you do some rearranging. Many homemakers would use the electric mixer for more purposes if it were in a convenient place.

Many homemakers find the greatest asset of the home freezer is its timesaving feature. When you bake cake, cookies or bread, double the batch and store part of the baked goods in the freezer. Do the same when you make a casserole dish and you'll be able to plan emergency meals quickly without even going to the store.

Recount Expense Payment Is Made by State Auditor

State Auditor Stafford King has distributed. $150,000 appropriated by the 1963 Legislature to cover recount costs in the governor race.

King said the DFL recount committee was paid $58,945.57 and the Reupublican committee $54,880.83.

The DFL committee was allowed extra expenses because it had to initiate the recount action on behalf of Karl F. Rolvaag.

Excluding attorney's fees, actual cost of the recount were estimated at $250,000. The Legislature voted to pay $150,000 of the cost and decreed how the money should be divided.

Former TRF Man Judge at Illinis State Fair

Irvin Hillyer and H. W. Miller, Southern Illinois University School of Agriculture assistant professors of plant industries and animal industries, respectively, have been invited to judge Illinois State Fair entries. Hillyer, a vegetable specialist, will judge the fair's vegetable exhibits Thursday, Aug. 8. It will be his fourth year as judge of these entries. A native of Thief River Falls, with a doctorate in horticulture from Michigan State University, he has been on the SIU faculty since 1956.

Questionnaires Going to Parents of Dead Veterans

VA to Determine Whether Dependent Parents Are Eligible for Payments

Dependent parents of deceased veterans receiving service-connected death compensation payments from the Veterans Administration will receive a special dependency questionnaire with their monthly checks on or about August 31, John R. Parrish, Fargo VA center director, announced today.

At the same time, veterans who are receiving additional service-connected disability compensation because of a dependent parent or parents will also receive the dependency questionnaire.

At the time parents were placed on the compensation rolls, they were definitely determined to be dependent. The purpose of the questionnaire is to establish the fact that they have continued to be dependent and are still eligible for payment.

Recipients of the questionnaire are expected to return them before October 31. Mr. Parrish advises recipients that all questionnaires must be returned by the deadline date.

Since the questionnaire cards will be handled by machinery, recipients are requested not to fold, cut, mutilate or trim them in any manner.

Plitt Appointed To Committee of Seed Trade Group

George Plitt, president of Valley Feed & Supply company of spring Valley, N. Y., has recently been appointed to the legislative committee of the American Seed Trade association. Valley Feed & Supply is the parent company of Farmers Grain and Milling Company in Thief River Falls.

The nation-wide association has its headquarters in Washington, D. C., and Plitt was notified of the appointment by letter recently. The letter stated the following:

"The duties of the Legislative Committee, with the executive secretary, are to represent the association in all matters of legislation—federal or state— affecting the interests of the industry, and to cultivate an understanding relation with federal and state enforcement officials, and may cooperate with them on matters of mutual interest."

"Though I am a foreigner, I can tell you what was not one of the aims of the American Revolution. It was not its aim to provide the people of the Thirteen Colonies with the maximum amount of consumer goods per head."

—Arnold Toynbee

"Home by Christmas"

The New York Times, calling attention to the little progress that has been made by the present Congress, reminds us that not many years ago it was unusual for a session to continue later than July 4th. The slogan of legislators in a hurry these days, the Times tells us, is "Home by Christmas."

Maybe the right answer for this problem would be to limit the responsibilities of the federal government to strictly national and international problems and turn back to the states the responsibility for strictly state and local matters. As our federal government has expanded its jurisdiction it has become more boss-controlled, more corrupt and more wasteful.

A Bad Smell

In its report of highway fraud in the state of Massachusetts, a House Public Works subcommittee made this observation:

"In the summation of this testimony, we must conclude that there is in the record before us, all of the olfactory offensiveness associated with the putrefaction of an unembalmed corpse."

A rugged American would interpret that to mean that in the opening of the subcommittee the record of highway fraud in Massachusetts is so rotten it stinks. On several occasions in recent years Massachusetts, a state with a most impressive background, has been referred to as the most corrupt state, politically, in the Union.

We are sure our young Attorney General, ever eager to stamp out evil, will look into this matter.

Prestige Costs Are High

In a message to Congress several weeks ago, President Kennedy proposed a billion dollar program for the development of a supersonic jet airliner to fly faster than ships now in the planning stage in Europe. Of this one billion dollars the government would pay three-fourths and the aviation industry would pay one-fourth.

A spokesman for the industry now states that a billion dollars is not needed for this development; and that $300 million would be adequate. He is of the opinion that it is not necessary at this time to build a ship that will fly 2,000 miles an hour. That could come later, he thinks. There is no need, in his opinion, for a commercial ship flying 2,000 miles an hour at this time.

Maybe some of our influential citizens should try to interest the President in dog races or horse races, and appropriate a few million dollars for him to play around with at the race tracks. That would be a lot better for our economy han trying to win races to the moon, or races to spend more for foreign aid than Russia in order to prove our supremacy in all fields. He seems to have an ambition to be recognized as one of the greatest Americans. He is well on his way to a championship crown as America's most profligate spender.

Realistic Idealism?

"A society which makes the main object of struggle the acquisition of money for the satisfaction of appetites, is at one and the same time ruthlessly individualistic and spiritually sterile and socially conformist. And it is for this kind of society that our whole educational system is now geared."

That interesting observation was made by R. W. Queen-Hughes, writing in the Winnipeg Tribune, prompted by a quotation from a speech by a Canadian industrialist to this effect:

"Idealism is a powerful force in human affairs and one that perhaps our present society has failed to use fully. As a governing force in society, however, I can see only dangers in it."

All of which adds up to a good start for a pleasant argument for those who enjoy speculation about that which is highly controversial. Mr. Queen-Hughes agrees that on this question "Ideals may be shoddy or they may be noble. It is just this question of what is worthless as opposed to what is worthwhile that bedevils our society today where the main motive force is the acquisition of money for what money will buy in terms of goods, services, status and indulgence." Which prompts him to question the purpose of higher education.

In terms of higher education, he thinks that the money-making incentives are overemphasized, and that not enough of the students who are trained for the professions, largely at public expense, are motivated by ideals of service. He states:

"The educational sausage machine grinds on, becoming ever more mechanized with each passing semester.

"The masses pass through this educational sausage machine and come out at the other end smooth, round, firm and fully packed with money-making facts. Some retain sufficient hostility to life in general to make full use of the facts—they go on to such professions as permit the making of money at a rate not possible in other occupations. Those insufficiently stirred to aggressive action are the material for the card-indexed welfare state, politically ignorant, socially pleasant, bored, bothered and bewildered but secure from physical want.

"The rejects from this system are on the one hand the misfits, the delinquents and the retarded. In pity we are doing something about the mentally retarded but we have not yet got around to tackling the misfits or the delinquents even as the educational sausage machine each year squirts out more of them.

"On the other hand, such is the indomitable character of the human spirit, there are some who by sheer luck meet someone somewhere (maybe parents or teachers) who inspire them with ideals of service or with objectives that transcend the mere making of money. They are the oddballs who are finding it increasingly difficult to survive but survive they must if humanity is to have any future."

Do we have a right to expect higher standards of service and public responsibility among those who earn a living by the practice of a profession? Probably so for several reasons. They are favored by more protection within their field. By their influence in the licensing standards and procedures they have a greater power to limit their competition.

This would be a much better world of course if all of us were guided more by interest in service for others rather than for self.

Eddie Wins

Senator Eddie Kennedy of Boston, the President's brother, seems to be making some progress in building up federal payrolls in his home state. A Senate space committee had rejected a $50 million electronics research center to be located in Boston. Then behind closed doors, the committee reversed itself and will recommend that an initial $5 million appropriation be authorized for preliminary planning.

This Boston boondoggle will pick up support from members of Congress who will hold their nose when they vote for it. They will vote for it because they do not want to offend the administration that with little effort can obstruct measures in which they have a special interest. Let's everybody write to our Senators Humphrey and McCarthy urging them to oppose this raid on the treasury. They always like to hear from the folks back home.

Foreign Aid

One of the more costly items in the $4.5 billion foreign aid bill requested by President Kennedy is a grant to India to build a steel mill. In explaining the need for this expenditure to a House committee, David Bell, administrator of the program, stressed the fact that the Russians had built a steel mill for India. Then why shouldn't we? And this question prompted the Wall Street Journal to make the following interesting observations:

"For one thing, do we really want to engage in a giveaway race with Russia? Both the U. S. and the Soviet long have been wooing the Indians with aid of many kinds. While America is well in the lead in total spending, Russia has built India a steel mill and we haven't. Must we try to "catch up"?

"The futility of this sort of exercise should now be apparent. The U. S. since World War II has loaned or given $100 billion to around 100 nations, and our dollars have done little to win friends and influence people. Instead, nations have grown accustomed to the aid and are acutely resentful if we propose any diminution in dollar flow.

"India provides a prime example of this peculiarity. Though that nation has received more U. S. aid than any other country, its economic troubles and its demands for outside assistance are not decreasing but increasing. A major reason is the bungling of India's government planners—their insistence of emphasizing industry at the expense of badly needed food output, their reliance on tangled networks of controls, their stress on socialistic projects designed more for political profit than for economic gain.

"We, of all people, should know that real economic growth stems not from tinkering with socialistic planning but from encouraging private business. Yet President Kennedy thinks we "ought to" help finance Bokaro, which not only would be a socialistic venture but would actively compete with private enterprise.

"If this instance were unique, it would be unfortunate enough. But the fact is that in other underdeveloped lands our aid program has been proceeding in much the same manner."

Interesting Opinions . . .

Safety Council Gives Advice to Teen-agers

An opportunity exists for our teenagers to take the lead in reducing the alarming toll of highway accidents, according to a recent study co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and Standard Oil, Division of American Oil Company.

Teenage drivers, who commonly get a lot of the blame for what goes on out on the highways, can establish themselves as leaders in accident prevention, according to the survey report, if they choose to follow what the Council outlines as its formula for "pro" drivers.

Why are teenagers singled out in this cooperative study? There are three good reasons:

1. They learn faster than older drivers.
2. They haven't had time to pick up a lot of bad driving habits.
3. They are going to be driving a lot longer than the older drivers.

How do teenagers stack up against older drivers like their dads? Not too good, according to the Council's studies. The facts are that teenagers are involved in twice as many fatal accidents for the number of miles they drive as drivers over age 25.

In spite of the average teenager's faster reflexes and better vision, the experts point to two more important attributes on which the average youngster falls short—attitude and experience.

"Suppose you decide to become a real sharp driver," the survey queries in typical teen jargon. "Where do you turn?" You said it-you turn to the pro! The state patrolman, the test track driver, the trucker who spends eight hours a day out on the road polishing up his skill. These people, according to the Council, not only know the theories of safe, skillful driving—they also are hep to the dozens of things that the average teenager learns only after they've happened to him.

What do these pros have to say about how to stay alive in today's traffic? Just this. . .

1. Don't show off or clown behind the wheel. It's the mark of an amateur. The pro knows better.
2. Have guts enough behind the wheel to chicken out when common sense tells you it's time to give in. Quit worrying about who's right.
3. The public highway is for sharing, not competing. Do your racing at the Indianapolis 500 if you're so inclined.
4. The squeal of tires and roar or an exhaust may sound like hot stuff to a driver who needs it to build up his ego—but it tags him as strictly an amateur to the real pro.

Traffic on State Roads up Sharply

Use of Rural Highways up 4.6 Pct. in Past 6 Months

Traffic on Minnesota rural trunk highways the first six months of 1963 increased 4.6 per cent over the same period for last year, the Minnesota highway department reports.

The average yearly increase for the past five years has been about two per cent. The big increase this year over last was due in part to below normal traffic on rural trunk highways in 1962 during periods of extreme cold and heavy snow.

Month by month comparisons show the biggest increase this year came in February, with 11.6 per cent increase over the same month a year ago; and March showed a 7.6 per cent increase over the same month last year. January, April, May and June had, respectively, one-half, 2.9, 2.4 and 2.4 per cent increases.

The highway department makes traffic counts the year around, using 31 automatic traffic recorders placed at locations on rural trunk highways. These are supplemented with portable recorders at other locations, and provided a comprehensive picture of travel on rural highways throughout the state. Traffic counts are used, with other information, to ascertain present and future highway needs.

Crookston Band Director Resigns; Served 34 Years

T. W. Thorson, Crookston, city bandmaster for the past 34 years, resigned his position Wednesday evening at the final summer band concert in Central Park. The Rev. Ralph Manwiller and Mayor Olaf Solne spoke briefly at the concert. Band members presented Thorson with a gift.

Thorson says he has directed some 375 band concerts during his term and has instructed about 1,500 youngsters in playing band instruments.

Thorson is past head of music departments at the Northwest School of Agriculture and the Crookston public school system.

Thorson organized and served as director of the Northwestern Minnesota Singers and the Ninth District American Legion Band and has also served with numerous other musical organizations.

Account Number Report Deadline Is September 30

Those Now Collecting Interest or Dividends Are Required to Report

The deadline for reporting taxpayer account numbers to banks, savings and loan associations, corporations and other payors of interest and dividends is September 30, 1963, George O. Lethert, district director of internal revenue, announced today.

Public Law 87-397 provides that payors of interest and dividends are required to obtain an account number from each depositor and shareholder. This account number is to be used for reporting interest and dividends disbursed after September 30, if the payment amounts to $10 or more. For most taxpayers, their account number is the same as their Social Security number.

Those who do not have a Social Security account number should apply for a taxpayer account number, Mr. Lethert stated. Form 3435 is available for this purpose, and may be secured by contacting the office of the District Director, New Post Office Building, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

Based upon a survey conducted by the Society of Savings and Loan Controllers, it is estimated that about 65 per cent of depositors have furnished their account numbers upon request.

The other 35 per cent should secure forms, and make application for an account number now to permit reporting their account number for interest and dividend payments disbursed after September 30, Mr. Lethert said.

Taxpayer account numbers are needed in processing tax returns under Internal Revenue's automatic data processing system, Mr. Lethert indicated. With more than two million taxpayers named William Smith, and many thousands of Smiths, Jones, Browns, etc., the numbering system is necessary to insure proper crediting of each taxpayer's account.

Turkey, Ham Good August Food Buys

...Vegetables Also Offered at Reasonable Prices

Turkey will lead the list of featured items at meat counters during August, reports Mary Ryan, extension consumer marketing specialist at the University of Minnesota. Consumers may find canned hams, ham slices, whole and half shanks and picnics at reasonable prices, also.

Small turkeys, from 5 to 8 lbs., are available and will be offered at money-saving prices all month. Watch for specials, Miss Ryan suggests. Turkey can add variety to your menu and is a relatively inexpensive source of protein. It is also a good choice for barbecuing.

Local vegetable growers are supplying markets with green beans, cabbage, cucumbers and green onions of good quality at reasonable prices. Homegrown new round red and early Russett potatoes are in good supply, for salad making and for preparing in a variety of ways. Eggplant and green peppers are of good quality but prices are moderately high.

Supplies of shipped-in lettuce, apricots, peaches, seedless grapes and cantaloupe continue to come in. However, the season for apricots is nearing its close. Peaches are expected to become more scarce during August. Because the seedless grape crop this year is the largest on record, consumers will be able to enjoy these grapes for several more weeks. Don't look for too many pears this month, Miss Ryan cautions, because the pear crop is below average.

Peanut butter, cooking and salad oils will be in plentiful supply all month and are on the list of special features to attract the money-conscious shopper.

18 Traffic Deaths Listed for State from July 20 to 28

The Minnesota highway department safety division reports 18 deaths in 15 accidents on Minnesota highways between July 20 and July 28. Two of the accidents occurred during the weekend, July 19-21, and five the following weekend, July 26-28.

Losing control of the vehicle and running off the road accounted for seven of the fatalities. There were five deaths due to three collision accidents, three pedestrians died as a result of motor vehicle accidents and three deaths resulted from motor vehicle collisions with fixed objects.

States Swap Data on Records of Drivers

These days a driver whose license is revoked cannot count on reinstating his driver license merely by moving to another state. Two years ago the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads established a National Driver Registration Service to assist the states in keeping irresponsible drivers off the highways. Since then it has processed two million requests from 46 states.

The Minnesota highway department cooperates in this vast program and so far has furnished 13,063 reports of drivers operating a vehicle under the influence of alcohol or convicted of a violation which resulted in a fatality. Minnesota also has sent 3,016 inquiries to the service to check on applications from out of state residents.

Persons who have records in other states which would bar them from obtaining a license in Minnesota must submit to the same regulations as apply to Minnesota, such as furnishing proof of financial responsibility. Minnesota goes further than to rely solely upon the national service for records. It also writes to the individual's home state to get their personal record, since Minnesota wants its own case history to show the driver's operating pattern and his mental and physical condition.

The National Driver Register service operates in the BPR's office of highway safety and employs the use of an electronic computer which now has "memorized" the names, ages and descriptions of 330,000 drivers whose licenses have been revoked for the various offenses which apply.

When an inquiry is received in Washington, the computer can within seconds report if the applicant "may be the same" as the person about whom the inquiry deals.

Extension of the laws into violations with which the computer records do not deal at present have been proposed to Congress and are under consideration.

District Economy on Even Keel, Says Federal Reserve

Non-farm Employment, Personal Income and Store Sales Hold up

Economic activity at mid-year in the Ninth district appeared to be moving along on an even keel, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis in the current issue of the Monthly Review.

Total nonfarm employment and personal income, two of the most comprehensive business indicators, have remained relatively stable. Bank debits and department store sales have continued to gain.

On the other hand, iron ore shipments from the Lake Superior region were down 6.1 per cent in June from a year earlier and 15.3 per cent off for the first half of 1963 compared with the first half of 1962, reflecting to some extent a heavy carryover of ore stocks from the 1962 shipping season.

District crop production for 1963 may not equal last year's near-record levels, the bank said. Total wheat production may show a decline of about 5 per cent, with oats, barley, flax and rye yields also down from last year. Corn and soybeans, however, may exceed last year's production, since acreages were expanded from last year's levels. With less over-all crop production, and about the same price levels, cash farm income from 1963 crops will likely be somewhat less than in 1962.

Livestock production and marketing, though, may continue at high levels throughout this year; livestock income may equal or exceed that of a year earlier, due to a recovey from the early season price slump. In total, 1963 cash farm incom may about equal that of 1962.

State Heart Fund Rises to $467,000

Minnesotans were more generous this year when it came to giving to the Minnesota Heart Association than they were the previous 12 months, Melvin W. Dickie, State Heart Fund chairman, announced today.

"Contributions to our statewide non-profit organization, dedicated to the control and conquest of cardiovascular disease, amounted to $467,000, a 7 per cent increase over the previous year's total," Dickie said.

Minnesota Banks Largest Lenders of Farm Credit

Banker's Ass'n. Survey Shows $364 Million in Loans to State Farmers

Minnesota banks were serving farmers with more credit and other financial services than any group of lenders at the beginning of this year, according to Orville M. Hanson, cashier of Northern State Bank in Thief River Falls, who represents the Minnesota Bankers association as Pennington associate councilman. During 1962 the state's banks maintained their leadership in agricultural credit services.

Based on the 22nd annual farm lending summary of the agricultural committee of The American Bankers association, Hanson reported that at the beginning of the year, Minnesota banks were helping farmers with $364 million in loans, 11 per cent more than a year previous. This total included $294 million in production loans and $70 million in farm mortgages.

At the same time, $166 million in farm loans was held by life insurance companies; $154 million by the Federal Land Banks; $83 million by Production Credit associations; and $20 million in nonreal estate loans plus $30 million in real estate loans by the Farmers Home administration. About 74 per cent of the production credit extended by lending institutions to Minnesota farmers came from banks.

"Capital has become one of the main pillars in agriculture," Hanson said, "with the total investment increasing fourfold during the past 20 years. Today farm families nationally have approximately $198 billion invested in their operations, with the average investment per farm estimated to be $47,832—twice the amount reported just 10 years ago."

Balanced Judgment Is Needed in Driving

Some drivers split hairs over insignificant details, become peevish and then let their annoyances interfere with good driving. Other drivers are so careless and irresponsible they are willing to take any kind of a chance in order to have their own selfish way.

Both of these types, says Garnet E. Hall, director of safety for the Minnesota highway department, ruin the pattern of driving on highways for the other fellow — and it is the adherence to this pattern by the majority of drivers that assures safety and comfort for all.

The area of operation between the two extremes is what every driver should maintain. Safety research has come up with some significant findings that should help.

Drivers, not fate, cause automobile accidents. Lapses in judgment, attention, courtesy and self-control are the heaviest contributors to traffic accidents.

Slow down for the curves. Decelerate and brake before entering a curve. Accelerate after the curve is accomplished.

Read and heed traffic signs and markings, but don't let them do all of your thinking for you. Some situations arise that call for judgment.

Cooperate, don't compete with other drivers. Keep your mind free from anger or irritation while you are driving. Anticipate but don't berate the mistakes of others.

The other driver is only one of the factors motorists must bear in mind and in view.

He Helped Me See Life Through . . .

THE EYES OF GOD

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

I was a little girl, then. The pews at our church were rough wooden benches, and my feet wouldn't reach the floor.

But, as though it were yesterday, I remember his sermon. About a woman who poured oil on the feet of Jesus. Some people said this was a wasteful thing to do. The oil was expensive; the money might have been given to the poor . . . But Jesus wasn't angry with the woman!

"In the eyes of God," our old minister said, "the most precious treasure is the love in a human heart."

No single thought has influenced my life more than that one. Most of my happiness — all of my strength when sorrows come — have been somehow entwined with that simple truth. I shudder at times to think; what if that day I had not been there?

A sermon, a prayer, a Bible passage does not touch the same chord in every heart. But as you seek each Sunday to see life through the eyes of God, there will come mighty visions stirring the depths of your soul.

RUNNER-UP trophy at the Miss Aquacade pageant Saturday evening was presented to Karen Chervestad, right, by Judy Lewick, Miss Winnipeg of 1963 and a special guest of the Thief River Falls Jaycees for the Aquacade parade and pageant. Miss Lewick was a finalist in the Miss Dominion of Canada contest.

Large Crowd Sees Water Fight and Gets Soaked, Too

Elks Win Trophy with Victory Over Rotary in Best-of-Three Series

Estimated at more than 500 people, an enthusiastic crowd witnessed the downtown water fight held Thursday evening as one event of the Ninth Annual Jaycees Aquacade in Thief River Falls. The water fight was held on Second street between Main and Knight avenues.

Following a double-elimination series of soggy water fights, the Elks club team defeated the Rotary club in a best of three series for the title. By virtue of the win in two straight matches against the Rotary, the Elks received a trophy featuring a miniature fire truck mounted to a wood base. The Jaycees finished in last place after losing to the boat club team.

Youngsters seemed to have the most exuberant time at the event as a number of them were liberally doused as the combatants met in the middle of the street. A number of adult spectators, more reserved in their proximity to the field of battle, none-theless were sprinkled by stray fire hose nozzles.

The fight featured a beach ball wrapped in net, suspended from a pulley on a wire stretched between two tow trucks. Opponents on the teams were to direct streams of water from the fire hoses at the beach ball and move it to either end of the wire. Due to inexperience of the man (or men) at the controls, several of the teams found themselves without water pressure in the hose during part of the event.

James Wilson, general chairman of the Aquacade and promoter of the water fight, was caught by several fleet-footed competitors, carried to the middle of the street and completely saturated. Maynard Troland, announcer for the event, was also drenched, as was Roy Langevin, fire chief who acted as referee.

Teams participating and members included the following:

Elks—Bruce Hall, Ed Broughton, Irvin Wilson and Bud Schuster;

Rotary—Jarvis Prichard, Richard Bjorkman, Kenneth Onken and Al Bacon;

Lions—Herbert Achenbach, Orin Green, Clarence Mattson and Phil Kays.

Exhausted Roosters—N. H. Kortuem, John Mc Ginley, Philip Bergland, and LeRoy Kritz.

Boat Club—Tom Lindberg, Steve Taxeraas, Warren McIntosh and Murray Dow.

Co. Fair Levy Increased by County Board

$3,500 to Be Levied to Apply on Debt of Fair Association

Following the appearance of Ray Oen, president of the Pennington County Fair association, who renewed an appeal for an increase in the tax levy for the county fair from the present half-mill to a full mill, the county board at its August session last Tuesday voted to include in its 1964 budget a levy of $3,500, or about seven-tenths of a mill to be applied on a reduction of the fair's indebtedness.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Otis Wold, veteran member of the Sunnyrest sanatorium commission. Wold has represented this county on the finance committee for many years. Named to succeed him was Merlin Lindberg. Herman A. Kjos, probate judge, was reappointed to the commission for another term.

In conformance with its practice of the past several years, the board appropriated $2,000 for the maintenance of the Carnegie public library and an additional $1,000 to be added to the building fund.

After considering five bids for fuel oil for the coming year, the board voted to accept the low bid of 10.87 cents per gallon submitted by the Western Oil and Fuel company.

Judy Iverson Receives Miss Aquacade Crown

Karen Chervestad 1st Runner-up at Pageant Saturday

For a number of years a participant in the Jaycees Aquacade water ski show, Judy Iverson of Thief River Falls switched roles in the Aquacade this year and won the Miss Aquacade title from a group of seven contestants. Judy was crowned by Connie Ekeren, Miss Aquacade of 1962, at the Miss America Preliminary pageant attended by more than 900 people Saturday evening at the Lincoln high school auditorium.

Eighteen-year-old Judy is the daughter of Mrs. Pearl Iverson of Thief River Falls and a 1963 graduate of Lincoln high school. She is 5' 3" tall, weighs 115 pounds, has brown hair, blue eyes and a 35-23-35 figure. She was sponsored by Northwestern Hospital and her talent number was a vocal solo, "Black Is the Color of My True Love's Hair".

First runner-up was Karen Chervestad, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juell Chervestad of Oklee. Paulette Knott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knott of Red Lake Falls, was the third finalist. Miss Iverson won the evening gown and talent divisions while Miss Chervestad won the swimsuit division.

In a voting conducted among the contestants, Diane Kalinoski of Thief River Falls and Shirley Rowland of Fosston were selected to receive plaques from the Jaycees as Miss Congeniality. Miss Rowland suddenly became ill during the contest and was unable to perform her talent number—therefore becoming ineligible to be a finalist.

Visiting Royalty

Assisting in the award presentation were June Walter, Northwest Dairy Princess; Lolly Dewar, Miss Crookston, 1963; Diane Hackett, Miss Bemidji, 1962; Ruby Matthies, Miss Crookston, 1962; Judy Lewick, Miss Winnipeg, 1963; and Sharon Carnes, Miss Minnesota, 1963. Talent numbers were presented by Miss Walter, Miss Hackett and Miss Carnes as well as Claudia Revland, Fargo, Miss North Dakota of 1962.

Dewey Bergquist, WDAY-TV personality, served as master of ceremonies for the pageant. Entertainment was also provided by the Sorenson Brothers barbershop quartet from Fisher.

Participats in the Miss Aquacade contest and visiting royalty were also featured in the Saturday morning parade which took place in perfect weather. Mrs. Jaycees served an evening luncheon at the home of Mrs. William Ness for candidates and royalty.

Aquacade Events Given in Review

Concluding events of the Ninth Annual Jaycees Aquacade were held this weekend with large crowds noted at all events. James Wilson, general chairman of the Aquacade, expressed appreciation to the public for their participation and to Jaycees and other community-minded citizens who assisted with the preparation and staging of events.

Water Fight

A crowd estimated in excess of 500 people viewed the water fight held Thursday evening on Second street between Main and Knight avenues. Following a double-elimination series of events, the Rotary and Elks faced each other for a best of three series to determine the champion. The Elks won in two straight fights to capture the trophy. A grudge match between the Rotary and Lions was declared a draw.

Dance

On Friday evening more than 300 young people attended the teen-age dance held in the city auditorium. Music was provided by "The Charms" and a special guest was Judy Lewick, Miss Winnipeg of 1963.

Parade

Saturday morning's parade was greeted with ideal wather and crowds which lined both sides of the street for most of the parade route. While it is difficult to estimate the number of people watching the parade, calculated guesses place the number at more than 3,000. N. H. Kortuem was parade marshall with George Hildre as parade chairman for the Jaycees Aquacade comittee.

Featured in the parade were Miss Aquacade candidates, a number of visiting queens including Miss Minnesota and Miss Winnipeg, a number of local floats,

Harvest Weather Continues Ideal

No Rain Was Recorded in Area During Week

While temperatures continued above normal during the past week, no rainfall was recorded in the Thief River Falls area, and nearly ideal harvest weather prevailed. A large portion of the small-grain crop, with the exception of flax, has now been taken off. Prospects for a good crop of corn never looked better.

High and low readings at the airport for the week follow: Wednesday, August 7, 87 and 54; August 8, 85 and 56; August 9, 79 and 58; August 10, 85 and 51; August 11, 81 and 61; and this morning, 62.

The forecast for today was for scattered showers and cooler temperatures.

Mrs. John G. Reed was a recent visitor in Virginia, Minn., at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, the Mark Malones. She also saw her new granddaughter, Gretchen Adele, who was born to the Malones on July 15.

Judy Johnson Is Red Lake County 4-H Style Queen

Judy Johnson of the Games Go Getters 4-H club of Oklee was crowned the 1963 Red Lake county 4-H style queen by June Walter, 1963 Northwest Dairy Princess at the annual Red Lake county 4-H dress revue, held Friday, August 9th, in Red Lake Falls.

Judy will represent Red Lake county at the State 4-H dress revue to be held during the Minnesota state fair. 17-year-old Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Johnson of rural Oklee. She will be a freshman this fall at Moorhead State College.

Judy's two attendents are Sheryl Rawertz of the Plummer, Busy Bees 4-H club, and Linda Hegge also of the Oklee-Games Go Getters 4-H club.

The junior queen, also crowned by Miss Walter, is Betty Johnson of Oklee, a member of the Games Go Getters club. Her attendents were Janet Purath, a member of the Lake Pleasant 4-H club, and Jolayne Greenwald, of the Busy Bees Club in Plummer.

Both Queens and their attendents will appear at the grandstand performance of the Red Lake county fair this coming Saturday night, August 17th, in Red Lake Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, Vicki and Wade, of Minneapolis, attended the Linda Johnson-Duane Brown wedding here several weeks ago and were guests at the Andrew Johnson home.

Red Lake County Fair Opens Friday for Three Days

The Red Lake county fair is scheduled to open Friday, August 16, for a three-day run in Red Lake Falls.

According to fair officials, a parade is set for August 17 at 7:30 p.m. with Red Lake County businesses and 4-H Clubs entering floats in parade competition.

Appointed to serve on the parade committee are Martin Poullot, chairman Clayte Paul and Floyd Phillion.

A group of rides will be featured on the fair midway. Advance tickets for these rides are on sale in Red Lake Falls stores.

Otto J. Eickhof & Sons Inc. of Crookston was awarded a contract for construction of a new water treatment plant in East Grand Forks at a recent meeting of the East Grand Forks city council. The Eickhof company's bid of $955,679 was low among the nine entered bids.

Rev. Joseph Swan Resigns Pastorate of Free Church

Rev. Joseph Swan, pastor of the Evangelical Free church in Thief River Falls for the past nine years, has resigned his position to accept a call to Bethany Evangelical Free church in West Orange, New Jersey. He will deliver his first sermon at the new parish on the first Sunday in October.

Rev. Swan began his service in Thief River Falls in August of 1954. Before coming to this city, he served a congregation at Jersey City, New Jersey, for 14 years. His new charge is in the same area—one of the many cities in the metropolitan New York City area.

CHARGE of the Rotary club water fight team demoralized the opposition in this photo taken during the water fight Thursday evening. A crowd of about 500 people lined both sides of Second street between Main and Knight avenues to witness the battles (and get a little wet themselves). Leading the Rotary club charge are Richard Bjorkman and Jarvis Prichard with Kenneth Onken and Al Bacon dragging the hose. In spite of the Rotary's fearless tactics, the Elks club later defeated them in a best of three series for the championship.

WINNER of the Miss Aquacade title, Judy Iverson of Thief River Falls, is presented to the crowd by Connie Ekeren, 1962 queen, at the Jaycees Aquacade pageant Saturday evening. Miss Iverson won the evening gown and talent divisions of the contest. She will represent Thief River Falls in the district Miss Minnesota pageant next spring.

ASCS Now Making Payments on Wool

Made on Deliveries from April, 1962, to March, '63

Wool and lambs incentive payments for the 1962 marketing year now are being made in Marshall county, Edward A. Johnson, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, announced. The payments cover shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed from April 1, 1962 through March 31, 1963. Applications for the payments had to be filed not later than April 30, 1963.

Thus far, the chairman reported, 1962 marketing year payments made in the county under the National Wool Act have amounted to $35,634.16.

On shorn wool, the rate of payments is 30 percent of the dollar returns the producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the year, or $30 for every $100 received. This is the amount necessary to bring average wool prices up to the announced incentive level of 62 cents per pound under the Act. On unshorn lambs, the rate is 57 cents per hundredweight of live animals sold.

For the current, 1963 marketing year, including marketing from April 1 through December 31, 1963, the incentive level for shorn wool is 62 cents per pound, the same as for each of the preceding years of the program to date.

Sampson-Howe Wedding at Zion Church July 20

Miss Geraldine Sampson of St. Paul and Donald Howe of Minneapolis spoke marriage vows Saturday, July 20 at the Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls with Rev. Peterson officiating at the ceremony.

Spiral candelabra decorated the altar for the evening ceremony and the pews were decorated with lighted candles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sampson of Thief River Falls and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Howe Sr. of Detroit Lakes.

Stanley Torgerson sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. David Schwartz was the organist.

Mrs. Harry Phillips, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a full length dress of aqua slipper satin fashioned with a scoop neckline and wore an aqua shaded rose for a headpiece. She wore long white gloves and carried one long stemmed white rose.

The bride's other attendants were her sisters, Mrs. Kent Knutson and Miss Holly Sampson. They wore dresses similar to that of the matron of honor but of a lighter shade of aqua and each carried a single pink rose. Connie Howe, sister of the bridegroom and Joleen DuChamp, niece of the bride, were flower girls and Scott Phillip, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Andy Lia attended the bridegroom as best man and Calvin Schladweiler and Harold Howe Jr. were groomsmen. Serving as ushers were Kent Knutson and Curt Howe.

A reception was held in the church parlors after the ceremony with Mrs. Lloyd Bakke and Mrs. Arden DuChamp cutting the wedding cake and Mrs. Lois Ranum, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Mertice Torgerson, aunt of the bridegroom, pouring. Miss Joy Noel and Miss Gloria Phillip served the punch and Miss Karen Mittlestadt and Mrs. Andy Lia were in charge of the gifts.

The couple is now living at 3414 Grand Avenue South in Minneapolis where the bridegroom is employed.

Patricia Ann Heyn Wed To John D. Stewart Here

Patricia Ann Heyn, Minneapolis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Heyn of this city, became the bride of John Drew Stewart of Minneapolis at an afternoon ceremony held recently at Zion Lutheran church in this city. Mr. Stewart is the son of Mrs. Ann Dietz of Phoenix, Ariz., and the late John Stewart of Thief River Falls.

The vows were prompted by Rev. Leland Steen, who used the double-ring service. The church pews were marked with white satin bows and the altar bouquets were of white glads and greenery. Floor baskets with white glads and yellow carnations flanked by candelabra completed the church setting.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She was attired in a short gown of Italian silk with a full bell skirt detailed in brocaded satin. The fitted bodice featured a scoop neckline. Flowing from a crown of seed pearls and iridescent sequins on satin was her veil of silk illusion. Her bouquet was centered by a white orchid arranged with yellow roses and stephanotis, and ivy accented.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Carol Fritzel of Fergus Falls and the bridesmaid was Shirley Adams. Their identical gowns of green silk organza featured bell skirts, and were complemented by matching hats. Their cascade bouquets were of magnolia leaves fashioned into an Empire rose.

Best man was Roger Anderson of Crookston, and William Walker of Minneapolis and Roger Heyn, a brother of the bride, also of Minneapolis, were ushers. The mens' attire was dark trousers with white dinner jackets.

The bride's mother was in a yellow dress with white accessories and she wore a corsage of yellow roses and white carnations.

Grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Quist of Minneapolis, were honored with a boutonniere and corsage, respectively. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Clifford Noel, wore a dress of pink lace with white accessories. She also received a corsage.

Zion church parlors were the scene of the reception given by the parents of the bride after the ceremony. The guests were registered by Mrs. Roger Heyn of Minneapolis, sister-in-law of the bride. Gifts were arranged by Becki Ferber, Pam Ihle, and Marilyn Melhoff, while Bonnie Nelson and Bonnie Schenke served the reception table. All were former classmates of the bride at Lincoln high school of Thief River Falls. Hostess was Mrs. Lillian Ranum. She was assisted by Judy Larson and Carol Reed of this city and Andrea Fehr of Grand Forks.

The four-tiered bridal cake, topped with a white satin bell, was cut and served by Joy and Linda Noel, both of Thief River Falls. Mrs. Howard Gaulden of Warren poured punch. All were cousins of the bride. Mrs. Ray Johnson and Mrs. Arthur Buringrud, an aunt of the bride, poured.

Guests were from Minneapolis, Warren, Fergus Falls, Crookston, Red Lake Falls and from Detroit, Mich.

For their brief honeymoon the bride chose a light blue silk crepe dress with Empire waistline. Her corsage was from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Stewart is a 1962 graduate of Lincoln high school here, and is employed at Fire Underwriters' Inspection Bureau of Minneapolis. Mr. Stewart is a 1962 graduate of UND in Grand Forks, N. D. and is employed as expediter at Control Data in Minneapolis. Their at-home address is 4934 University Ave. N.E. in that city.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the kitchen of

MRS. BOB PROTZ

It's still salad time. . .perhaps it's always salad time, for this is one food that accompanies any type of meal or luncheon at any time of day. . .or night. . .and is appropriate for any occasion. When a salad delights both the eye and the taste, and furnishes nutrition as well, it's doubly popular. Mrs. Protz' recipe may well become a favorite at your house.

LIME-COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD

1 pkg. lime or lemon gelatine dessert
1 cup boiling water
2 cups miniature marshmallows
dash of salt
1 9-oz. can crushed pineapple
1 cup small-curd cottage cheese, drained
1 cup whipping cream, whipped
½ cup chopped nuts
½ cup maraschino cherries, sliced (optional)

Dissolve gelatine dessert in the boiling water. Add marshmallows and let melt. Stir in salt and pineapple. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in cottage cheese, whipped cream, nuts, and cherries if you use them. Turn into 8x8" pan or mold, as desired. Allow to firm up. Serve to 6 or 8 appreciative guests. The cherries may be used as a topping, if so desired. Other decorating possibilities present themselves to the imaginative hostess, also, however, this salad is very attractive served "as is" or on a lettuce leaf.

The Protz family likes doing things together, especially camping and outdoor recreation involving water. The two older girls love water skiing, and the two younger ones like the surfboard.

Sandra is almost 15, Kathleen is 13; Michael, 9, and Patricia, 8.

The children, like their mother, all play piano, and Kathleen has discovered a new musical interest—drums. She plays them in the junior high school band. Scouting is also a family interest.

As for their mother, she does a great deal of sewing. Before her family demanded so much of her time, she crocheted bedspreads, afghans, and other similar items. She still takes an interest in piano playing, and likes informal entertaining and impromptu coffee parties. She is also involved in church work at St. Bernard's Catholic church.

This is, admittedly, a woman's feature, but let's not forget Dad! He is head of the refrigeration department at the Bridgeman Creamery, and is active in church and boy scout work as well.

1964 ACP Plans Announced for Marshall County

Edward A. Johnson, Chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today the opening of the 1964 Agricultural Conservation Program. Initial requests for cost-sharing will be limited to practices for tree planting and pasture or hayland renovation.

"Tree planting requests," Johnson stated, "are being accepted now in order to give state foresters and SCS technicians a chance to provide free technical advice and planning to farmers before they must order their trees." Each land owner or operator was urged to review the need for forest type planting, shelterbelts or windbreaks on his farm and to make his request as soon as possible.

Cost sharing is up to eighty percent of cost is available for plantings which qualify under the program. Complete details are available at the county ASCS office at Warren.

New Practice for Marshall ACP Is Announced Today

Edward A. Johnson, Chairman of the Marshall county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced the inclusion of a new practice in the 1964 ACP for the renovation of old native pasture and hayland in the country.

"This new practice," he stated, "will make it possible for farmers to do an even better job of pasture or hayland renovation than they have done in the past." Only old native pasture or hayland is eligible for renovation under this new practice.

Cost-share rate will be $6 per acre and a provision has been made for sharing the cost of up to 120 pounds of plant food per acre. "Under this new practice," Johnson continued, "farmers must work up the land this fall to kill the old grasses and make a final harrowing and seeding in the spring of 1964."

He emphasized that requests accepted only until September 4, 1963, and that requests must be made before the practice is started. Complete details are available at the Marshall county ASCS office at Warren.

State TB Ass'n. Will Discontinue X-Ray Subsidy

Effective September 1, no chest x-ray films will be subsidized by Christmas Seal fund other than those taken of initial reactors among students as identified in school tuberculin testing surveys, according to Herman Kleinman, M. D., President of the Minn. Tuberculosis and Health association. This subsidy will remain at the current rate.

Subsidizing of the students' initial x-ray films will be discontinued on May 31, 1964. This policy concerns all chest x-ray films except those taken on the Christmas Seal mobile x-ray unit, Dr. Kleinman said.

AFTER A WEEK OF AQUACADE, no resident of Thief River Falls can truthfully say that nothing ever happens here or that there is never anything to do "in this town". Jaycees provided eight days of activity with an event every day or evening and most of it was solid, wholesome and enjoyable entertainment.

There always arises the plaintive cry, however, of someone who casts a pleading eye to the sky and waits for a silver platter loaded with everything he thinks he should have. Although the federal government is attempting to provide such a platter, it is doubtful the NASA will have it perfected in the near future. In the meantime, something else will have to be done.

There is much logic in the saying that the best way to get something done is to do it yourself. This may well be applied to young people who complain that there is nothing to do. L. D. Harris, chief of police at Manassas Park, Virginia, has the answer to the questions of "What can we do? Where can we go?" His suggestions follow:

"The answer is...GO HOME! Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork, rake the leaves, mow the lawn, shovel the walk, wash the car, learn to cook, scrub some floors, repair the sink, build a boat, get a job.

"Help the minister, priest or rabbi, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons. And then when you are through, and not tired, read a book.

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your village does not owe you recreation facilities. The world does not owe you a living. You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and your talents so that no one will be at war or in poverty or sick or lonely again.

"In plain words: Grow up; quit being a cry baby; get out of your dream world . . . start acting like a man or a lady!"

To which we add: Take a tip from George Bernard Shaw, who said: "When I was a young man I observed that nine out of every 10 things I did were failures. I didn't want to be a failure . . . so I did 10 times more work."

QUOTABLE QUOTES: Frustration is when you have ulcers and still aren't a success . . . To keep within a budget these days you have to the rest of the world go buy . . . When a man looks a woman squarely in the eye, she'd better begin doing something about her figure.

Conducting an interview with the man who had just reached his 100th birthday anniversary, the reporter asked him what exercise he did to keep fit. "Sonny," the centenarian replied, "when you're pushing 100 that's all the exercise you need."

And then there was the man who was criticized by his employer for chronic tardiness. "Well, boss," the man said, "you have drilled me so thoroughly about never watching the clock here at the office that I've completely lost the habit at home."

Dear Dog Hater,

My name is Specs. I am a large black and brown dog. I belong to Norman Anderson of Goodridge. They have a girl who has been in a distant hospital all summer. I get very lonesome for someone to play with. My owners go to see her. Last weekend while they were gone. I got lonesome and strayed away.

Why did you take a shot at me? Did I do any harm? If I did, see Norman Anderson. You knocked my teeth out and broke my lower jaw. So now I am in a pet hospital in Bemidji. I'll never be the same, but they all love me.

So please think before you shoot at a dog again.

Go talk to my owner and explain what harm I did.

Sewage Treatment in Area Towns Ordered

Five northwestern Minnesota of their lack of sewage treatment facilities by the Minnesota Water Polution Control Commission and two other towns have been told that present facilities are inadequate.

Lacking sewage treatment facilities are 39 Minnesota towns including Argyle, Climax, Fertile, Halstad and Kennedy. Foston and Lancaster are among 59 communities cited by the commission for having inadequate facilities.

Notice from the comission says the comunities "must proceed without further delay to provide adequate treatment and disposal of the sewage and industrial waste for which they are responsible."

Under the water pollution control bill passed by the 1963 legislature the commission can bring legal action to compel municipalities and industry to comply with conditions of its orders. Acopy of the bill was enclosed with the notices to the 98 comunities.

Action in the past has been delayed in some communities because of financial limitationsor inability to secure voter approval of bond issues. As the result of the 1963 legislation, these limitations no longer apply.

Anniversary for Baptist Bible Camp Is Planned

Camp at Lake Bronson Began 25 Years Ago; 15 Churches Participate

Observing 25 years of camping in northwestern Minnesota, a special anniversary service will be held August 25 at 3 p.m. on the Baptist Bible Camp grounds at Lake Bronson. Rev. John G. Johnson, executive secretary of the Minnesota Baptist conference, will be the guest speaker.

In 1938 the original 10 acres of land was purchased from the Soo Line Railway by the Baptist Young Peoples Union of the Red River Valley. Officers were Ted Danielson, Thief River Falls, president; Vernon Johnson, Karlstad, treasurer; and Rose Gustafson, Alma, secretary. Rev. Axel Backlund, Lancaster, was camp manager. S. F. Nordine of Karlstad served as camp manager for 16 years.

During the first years of the camp, tents were used for all activities. Through the years a chapel, dining hall, kitchen, cabins and canteen have all been added and four youth camps are held each year. The district woman's rally is held on the grounds each spring and family camp takes place in the late summer each year.

The camp is owned and operated by the Red River Valley Baptist association with planning and program of the camp handled by the Bible Camp board. At present there are 15 Baptist churches participating in the camp program.

Gold Mining Costs

We are told that there still is a lot of gold that can be mined but not much of it in our country at the present price of $35 an ounce. The gold mining interests are pressuring Congress for a double-standard gold price, the $35 price to support the value of the dollar and a price of $105 an ounce for industrial purposes.

That is a good example of wishful thinking at its worst. No one, certainly, would sell gold to Uncle at $35 an ounce if in another market he could get $105.

One thing that is certain if our government continues its present trend, we are headed for another devaluation of the dollar. It will be the older people who will suffer most from this fraud perpetrated by our promising politicians.

Is It Worth It?

The appropriation for the National Aeronautics Space Administration is going to be cut a little, but very little below what President Kennedy requested. The President apparently is going to get what he wants for the doubtful glory of being the first to put a man on the moon. The opposition to this costly space race venture is growing and under the pressure from those who believe there are other things we could buy with the from twelve to twenty billion dollars that this project would cost and that would be very much more worth while. The New York Times feels that way, stating:

"NASA still has to exert a greater degree of self-discipline. Its important achievements have occasionally been marred by sloppy practices, including a wavering ethical attitude to the commercialization of the astronauts. Despite Mr. Kennedy's position on the moon race, the wisdom of the current "crash program" to that end—with its accompanying massive diversion of human and economic resources—is highly questionable.,

"There is no doubt that false starts and dead ends are inevitable in exploring the unknown frontiers of space. But NASA's effectiveness will be enhanced by tighter controls over spending and greater coordination of its activities, including a more sober exalution than we have yet had from it on the entire moon shot program. The space agency needs a solid foundation on earth."

No Dynasty, Please

John Weber of the Murray County Herald looks with favor upon President Eisenhower's brother, Milton Eisenhower, president of John Hopkins University, as a possible Republican candidate for the presidency. While we have no objections, we will have to admit being a little prejudiced against the election of presidents by family name and relationship. Teddy Roosevelt did a fair job, but one Roosevelt should have been enough. His relative was a very expensive mistake.

President Eisenhower will go down in the records as one of the great Americans, both as a military leader and as a political leader. But he was not a politician and performed well as a political leader mainly because he was a man whose character and integrity were respected throughout the world. We like his brother Milton, and respect his qualifications. Our opposition would be based on the thought that one Eisenhower, in one generation, should be enough.

In back of this thinking, of course, is the fear of the ambitions of the Kennedy brothers. A hundred years from now there might be another Kennedy who would deserve a fair trial, but having one Kennedy now, who may be elected twice, is as close as we would venture in the establishment of a dynasty, short of revolution.

Progress in Civil Rights

(Art. Suel in New Prague Times)

In no nation under the sun are human rights more universally recognized and respected than in the United States of America.

Progress in the establishment and expansion of civil and religious rights has not been easy at times but it has gone steadily forward.

In colonial days, most of the earliest settlements were made by groups who sought freedom of worship for themselves, —but they were not so tolerant of the religious beliefs of other sects or faiths.

It is a matter of historical record that at the time of the wave of Irish immigration almost a century and a half ago, there was widespread discrimination, in fact many places of employment in the eastern states posted signs: "No Irish Need Apply".

Later surges of Slavic and Italian immigration met with similar reception.

Unfortunately, this country has not been without its outbreaks of anti-Semitism but happily this discrimination against Jews has waned to imperceptible proportions.

Sadly, this nation has experienced waves of religious bigotry and intolerance but these too have quickly subsided.

This is a nation of minorities, minorities of all national origins, religious faiths and races. The strength, the power and the glory of this country has been in its capacity to absorb and to shelter its divergent population in equality, justice and human dignity.

This is a nation of law and order. These proud human rights were not attained and expanded by rioting, violence or intimidation, but by the peaceful, orderly processes of lawful government.

Regardless of the provocation, only harmful effects can be caused by resort to rioting, violence and intimidation. The Goverment of the United States cannot and will not be intimidated.

It is incumbent upon the leaders of the proposed march on Washington to exercise calmness, prudence and restraint. Civil rights are not on trial. They are part and parcel of our way of government. But our citizenry, white and colored, is on trial.

Interesting Opinions . . .

Sympathetic Wifely: "Dear, you must have had a terrible day at the office, you look so tired and hungry. How would you like a nice steak with a baked Idaho potato, a superlative salad and big dish of apple turnovers?"

Traffic Mishap Causes Damage To Two Autos

One traffic accident was reported by the Thief River Falls police department during the past several days. Two cars were damaged in the mishap to the extent of an estimated $400 total.

About 6:50 a. m. Saturday a car driven by Jack Leonard Radniecki, Oklee, was travelling north on Pennington avenue near the First street bridge. Another car driven by Jarred T. Kenville, Superior, Wis., turned on to Pennington avenue from First street as the driver intended to turn into the driveway leading to the Mannix Construction company parking lot.

Kenville missed the turn to the parking lot, and in attempting to back up struck the Radniecki car. About $00 damage was done to the Raniecki vehicle and $100 to the Kenville car. No citations were issued in the mishap.

Eagles Midgets Win Border Title

The local Eagles Midgets baseball team, coached by Bill Herzog, won the Western Border title on Wednesday by scoring a 4 to 3 win over coach Linton Lehrer's Crookston Midgets team in a game played on Crookston's Highland Park diamond.

Righthanded Tommy Cummings limited the Crookston club to but one hit, a single by Charles Mickelson that tallied a pair of runs in the fifth inning. Cummings notched 11 strikeouts during the game, and gave up but two walks. Coach Herzog's team belted the offerings of Mickelson for eight hits, including a triple by Buzz Olson and doubles by Keith Hendrickson and Roddy Carlson.

The locals marked up a run in the second inning when, with two men out, Carlson doubled to left field. Larry Bjerken drew a walk and then Billy Weigelt looped a single into left field, scoring Carlson.

A three-run rally in the third inning gave the locals a 4 to 0 lead. Olson opened with a triple to the right-field corner; Hendrickson lined a double to left-center; Wayne Smith lofted a fly ball to center field; Carl Poppenhagen sent a ground single past shortstop, scoring Hendrickson. Cummings was out, third to first. Carlson gained a "life" on an error, with Poppenhagen scoring on the miscue. Bjerken whiffed to end the inning.

Crookston scored a pair of runs in the last half of the third inning when, with one out, Lindquist drew a walk, and Newell was safe on an error. The two runners advanced to second and third on a wild pitch, and then scored on Mickelson's single to left-center.

Coach Lehrer's team pared the locals' lead to one run by planting an unearned run in the fifth inning. With two men away, Hendrickson drew a walk, stole second and scored when Mickelson's ground ball was fumbled. Cummings set down the Crookston batsmen in order in the sixth and seventh innings to nail down the win and the title.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Laura Duerst Hanson

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

Can fruits be canned and frozen without sugar? Many homemakers have been asking this question since the price of sugar went up this spring. Others have members of the family who are on low-calorie diets or cannot eat sugar.

Fruit will keep without sugar but in canned and frozen products, sugar helps to hold the shape as well as the flavor of the fruit. Hence you cannot expect the fruit to be as flavorful when you preserve it without sugar.

To can without sugar, you follow the usual procedure as when canning with sugar, but instead of pouring a boiling sugar syrup over the fruit, pour boiling water or juices obtained from crushing some of the fruits over it. Then process for the recommended time in the hot water bath.

Procedures for freezing without sugar vary with different fruits. Experiments in the laboratories show that peaches will retain good quality when frozen without sugar if they are packed in water to which ascorbic acid has been added. Use one teaspoonful of ascorbic acid to each quart of water and use just enough water on the peaches to cover them. But raspberries and strawberries keep best without sugar if they are crushed and frozen in their own juices.

If you have trouble with home-canned peaches and pears turning dark at the top of the jar, there's an easy way to prevent it. Add ¼ teaspoon of crystalline ascorbic acid to each quart of the syrup before pouring it over the fruit in the jars. And be sure to process the fruit for the recommended length of time.

Time tables for processing are given in Extension Folder, Home Canning Fruits and Vegetables. Get a copy from the county extension office.

Detroit Lakes D-ball Team Tourney Winner

Twelve of the area's top-ranked softball teams participated in the tournament held here Sunday, and which was one of the features of the Jaycees' Aquacade. And it was the Kershner Construction team of Detroit Lakes, which, with a come-from-behind effort, won the championship trophy by edging the Bronze Boot of Grand Forks 8 to 7, in an exciting finals game on Sunday evening.

The local V. F. W. team, by a 16 to 4 score, and in a game that was called at the end of the fifth inning, defeated the Crookston Grain Belt, 7 to 5; the Bronze Boot defeated the Polk County State Bank team of Crookston, 9 to 3; the local Bridgeman's team defeated Audubon, 6 to 2; Kershners edged out the East Grand Forks Merchants, 3 to 1; McIntosh defeated Argyle, 4 to 2; and Fosston defeated the local V. F. W. team, 6 to 0.

In second-round play, the Bronze Boot defeated the Hartz, 13 to 8; and Fosston trounced McIntosh, 11 to 4. In the semi-finals on Sunday afternoon, the Bronze Boot defeated the Bridgeman's, 10 to 6; and Kershner defeated Fosston, 4 to 2.

In the consolation bracket, Audubon defeated the Polk county State Bank, 10 to 5; and the East Grand Forks Merchants bested Argyle, 4 to 3, in first-round play. In the semi-finals, the Crookston Grain Belt edged Audubon, 3 to 2; and the V. F. W., in an extra-inning game, defeated the Merchants, 9 to 8.

In the championship finals played on the East Side diamond on Sunday evening, the Bronze Boot team held a 6 to 2 lead at the end of five innings of play. The Grand Forks club scored two runs in the first inning, on a triple, a double, and home run; and a pair of runs in the third inning on two infield hits, a line single, and an error. And then added single tallies in the fourth and fifth frames.

The Detroit Lakes club scored a run in the second on Curt Chapman's home run, and another run in the fifth, on two singles and a walk.

In the last half of the sixth inning the Kershner club erupted for four runs, pounding Frank Senger's delivery for six hits, including Chapman's second home run.

The Bronze Boot broke the six-all tie by scoring a run in the top of the seventh on a single by Carl Myers, a sacrifice, an infield out, and a wild pitch. In the last half of the seventh, Ron Anderson drew a walk to open the frame for Kershner.

A pair of wild pitches moved Anderson to third base, and a single by Ray Hedstrom tallied Anderson with the tying run. Keith Anderson was brought in from right field to take over the pitching chores for the Bronze Boot. Chapman beat out a bunt, and Detroit Lakes had runners on first and second. And when Darrell Rude, a former Prowler athlete now residing in Detroit Lakes, was nicked by a pitched ball to load the bases. Jim Talley, also a former local resident, lofted a fly to shortstop; but when Tom Flynn drew a walk Hedstrom scored the game-winning run.

All-star D-ball Team to Play VFW Tonight

Coach Dave Clough of the All-stars will have a talented group of softball players from which to chose the lineup that will take the field against the league-champion V.F.W. on the East side diamond on Monday evening. Game time for the annual league champions vs. All-Stars tilt will be at 7:00 P.M.

Named to the All-Star squad were the following players: catchers—Dick Halvorson of the Hartz Stores, Ken Noreen of the National Guard, and John McGinley of the Hamm's; pitchers—Milt Relerson of the Hamm's, Dwight Tangquist of the Hartz Stores, and Bob Carlson of the Bridgeman's; first base-Dick Bjorkman of the Hamm's Ron Ebbighausen of the National Guard, and Ike Ellingson of the Hartz Stores; second base—Larry Poole of the National Guard, Jim Wilson of the Hamm's, and Wayne Dargus of Rasmussen Insurance; third base—Jerry Anderson of the Hamm's, Lowell Halvorson of the Hartz Stores, and Marv Lundin of the Bridgeman's; shortstop Dennis Bakke of the Hartz Stores; John Drury of the Bridgeman's, and Rod Collins of Hamm's; and outfielders—Paul and Gary Klungness of the Bridgeman's; Duane Glass, Ken Taylor, and Dale Wennberg of the Hamms, Gene Halvorson of the Hartz Stores, DelRay Offerdahl of the Bridgeman's, and Mike Cummings of the Forsberg.

It will be a noteff that none of the high school boys participating in the city softball league have been named to the All-Star squad. The league officials did not wish to jeopardize the high school athletic eligibility of any of these boys by placing them on the All-Star squad. The State High School league has rigid rules pertaining to the participation in All-Star athletic contests by high school athletes.

Softball's Big Week

This week, starting with the Aquacade tournament on Sunday, can be termed softball's big week. This evening, Monday, on the East Side diamond, the annual All-Stars vs. league champions game will be played.

And on Tuesday evening, with games on the East Side diamond and the Fair Grounds diamond, the first-round of the league playoffs will begin. The first-round series, with the losers being eliminated from further play, will be concluded on Wednesday evening. On Thursday, with four teams remaining in contention, the first games of the double-elimination finals will be played.

And that was surely a fine brand of softball entertainment that those 12 teams — Crookston Grain Belt, Detroit Lakes Kershners, Grand Forks Bronze Boot, McIntosh, Fosston, East Grand Forks Merchants, Argyle, Audubon, Crookston's Polk County State Bank, and the locals' V. F. W., Hartz, and Bridgeman's — provided for the Jaycees' Aquacade guests. And it appeared the Kershner's win in the finals, by an 8 to 7 score, was popular with the fans who encircled the East Side diamond. One reason for this popularity was that two of the members of the Detroit Lakes club, shortstop Darrell Rude and second baseman Jim Talley, are former local residents. Darrell, of course, is pretty much of a native, having gone to grade and high school here, and having played softball here for a number of years. Jim was assistant manager of the Robertson Lumber Company several years ago, and he, too, played softball here.

The only drawback to a softball tournament, with a dozen or more teams participating, is that the fans are not able to witness all of the games. On Sunday, three diamonds, two at the Fair Grounds and one of the East side, were utilized, and there was quite a shuffling of teams and fans from one diamond to another. A real high-class eight-team invitational tournament, with bids being extended to some of the best teams in the area, and perhaps a team or two from Winnipeg, would have some advantages. But there wasn't very much wrong with Sunday's tournament.

The Regional 2B Playoffs

The Fertile baseball diamond will be the site of 1963 Region 2B state amateur baseball tournament. The tournament will open on Wednesday night, August 14, with the representative of the Heart O'Lakes league, either Barnesville or Lake Park, meeting the representative of the Paul Bunyan league.

On Thursday night, August 15, the game will play the representative of the Norman-Polk league, which will be either Ada or Twin Valey. On Saturday night, August 17, the loser of Wednesday night's game will play the loser of Thursday night's tilt. And on Sunday, August 18, the regional championship game will be played.

Last year the local Thieves, with lefty Freddy Jensen turning in a never-to-be-forgotten performance, won the Norman-Polk league playoffs, and the Region 2B tournament.

An innovation has been added to the regional setup this season in that the Region 2B winner will play the Region 12B winner (which could be the Warroad Muskies) in a game to determine the state tournament entry. This playoff game, between, say Warroad and Ada or Barnesville of Lake Park, should be quite an attraction. The site of this playoff game has not been determined.

Here's a Quote

Here's a quote that I hope the anti-Kelilbrew contingent in town noted: says Boston's Dick Stuart, who is leading the American league in home runs, at present, with twenty-eight, "Killebrew is the man to beat for the league's home run title. Look what Zoilo Versalles did on Friday night and Saturday afternoon. He hit homers over the right-field fence. If he can do that, think of Killebrew." End of quote. It's a fact that the local anti-Harmon faction is thinking of Killebrew, but not very much.

I must report, though, that Helmer (Ole) Ness paid off his wager that Killebrew wouldn't hit twenty-five home runs this season. And he paid his wager with a certain amount of graciousness, which was surprising considering what a tough loser Ole was when he lost a game in baseball or softball. But he's getting mellow with his old age.

SLOW PITCHES

— by —

Bill Herzog

Big week coming up in softball action this week starting with tonight's annual all-star game. Following the all-star game, we have the dog-eat-dog playoffs, which promise to produce many surprises.

The all-star game should be a honey. The combined talents of seven teams will go against the well-balanced VFW nine. The Vets are sure to send Wally Grovum to the mound and if he's right, the runs will be few and far between for the all-stars. It is heard to say who all-star manager Dave Clough will send to the mound; he has the choice between B. C. Carlson, Milt Relerson and Dwight Tangquist, all three very able to silence the Vets' power.

It promises to be a game that no one will want to miss. Starting time is at 7 p. m. If I had to pick a winner, it would have to be the all-stars, only because the Vets seem to be slipping of late.

Tuesday night the play-offs start. There will be two games each night at two different diamonds. The new fairgrounds diamond will be used as well as the East side diamond in order that we may prevent a long, drawn-out playoff. All games will start at 7 p. m. the later starting time will enable players to warm up better and will also allow more fans to attend.

The four losers in Tuesday's and Wednesday's games will be through for the season. The four winners will start a double elimination tournament on Thursday. Both games on Thursday will be played at the East side diamond with the first game starting at 6:15 p. m.

About the best game in first round play should be Wednesday night's Hamm's vs. Western Oil game. This one will be played at the fairground diamond at 7 p. m. The odds are about even in this one with a slight edge to Hamm's if "Uncle Milt" is on.

Getting back to the all-star game, perhaps you noticed that no high school boys were given recognition. This is only because of a state high school league ruling stating that no high school boy shall participate in all-star competition. Without this ruling, there would sure be a great number of them in the line-up. The all-star lineup appears elsewhere on the sports page.

See you at the games this week.

CYCLISTS who recently completed a 681-mile trip to Duluth and the North Shore are Jim Maves (left) and Curt Harris of Thief River Falls. The boys returned Sunday afternoon from the trip which began July 31. On the first day they covered 121 miles and reached Cass Lake—the longest stretch in any one day of the journey. In planning since last winter, the trip took place without incident except for one flat tire. All the gear used on their travels is shown with the boys in the above photo.

'Bye by Bicycle ...

Two Local Boys Ride On 681-Mile Bike Trip

by Marvin Lundin
City Editor

Sharing an enthusiasm for cycling and an urge to travel, two Thief River Falls teenagers recently completed a 681.1-mile bicycle trip which lasted for 11 days. Making the jaunt were Jim Maves, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. "Web" Maves, and Curt Harris, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Harris.

Planning for the trip began last winter but the final plans changed just two days before the boys set out on their journey. They got together when Jim learned that Curt had started a trip last summer without a partner but got only as far as Detroit Lakes before his bicycle "fell apart."

Curt explained that his J. C. Higgins bicycle, made in Australia, came partially assembled when he got it last year. He believes that the rear wheel became out of balance and this caused spokes to break—twisting the wheel so that the bike couldn't be ridden. Jim has had his English Hercules bicycle for six years. Both bikes have three-speed shifts and weigh 45 pounds.

"We started out at four in the morning on July 31st," Jim said, peering intently into the small notebook which he used for a log of the journey. "The first time we got off our bikes was at Oklee. We rode 12 hours the first day and covered 121 miles—staying over night at Cass Lake."

From there the daily riding time, mileage and stopping points were as follows: 6 hours, 53.1 miles, Grand Rapids; 7 hours, 75 miles, Virginia; 6 hours, 68 miles, Ely; 8 hours, 74 miles, Gooseberry Falls State Park on the North Shore; 5 hours, 42 miles, Duluth; 8 hours, 83 miles, Grand Rapids; 8 hours, 73 miles, Walker; and 8 hours, 93 miles, Camp Wabaunaquat on White Earth Lake.

"On the stretch between Duluth and Grand Rapids I was ready to quit and sell my bike to anybody who would take it," Curt said. "We had strong head winds and it was a terrifically hot day. That was the worst stretch on the trip but at least we didn't have any rain. Just about half an hour after we got to Wabaunaquat it just poured."

At Camp Wabaunaquat the boys took part in order of the Arrow ceremonies for three days before getting a ride from the camp to Thief River Falls. Curt has been a member of Boy Scout Troop 60 at Trinity Lutheran church for six years and Jim has been a mem-

National Guard Enlistments Are Again Increasing

Membership In State Units Gains 219 In July, Adjutant General Says

The Minnesota Army National Guard strength is once again on the rise after weathering the loss of strength resulting through reorganization April 1, which resulted in conversion and loss of some units.

A gain of 219 men was recorded in the month of July, bringing the strength up to 9613.

Prior to the reorganization controversy, the Minnesota Army Guard's strength was 9810, shortly after reorganization it dropped to 9331.

Major General Chester J. Moeglein, Minnesota adjutant general, called the success of the recruiting drive placed into effect after reorganization most gratifying.

The new uniform rules placed into effect August 11 for the Ready Reserve programs of all branches of the Armed Forces eliminated variations in requirements among the services. The new rules provide a total military obligation for all Ready Reserve of six years, including the months spent on active duty with a minimum of four months "active duty for training." The maximum time on active duty is variable depending on the length of time needed to develop skills in specialized fields, however, it is estimated that 95 per cent of enlistments will involve four to six months active duty.

Selection of a military occupation specialty for an enlistee depends upon the enlistees' test results, the needs of the unit and the desires of the enlistee.

For further information young men should contact the National Guard unit in their community.

School Board Turns Down Bread Bids

Identical Bids Made By Four Companies on All Items in Notice

Four bids for providing bread products to Thief River Falls schools were received at the regular meeting of the board of education Monday evening and were all rejected by the board. Action to change to an hourly pay scale from the monthly basis previously used took place at an earlier meeting of the board.

Larry Severts, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Severts of Gatzke, received a fractured pelvis in a tractor mishap Monday, according to the Times' Gatzke correspondent. This mishap occurred about three miles west of Gatzke near the Delmar Hagen farm where Severts was employed.

It was reported that the tractor driven by Severts missed a curve about one mile south of the Hagen farm about noon Monday. The tractor overturned with its wheels in the air, pinning the youth beneath it.

Free Homemaker Class Is Offered

Area homemakers who need to conserve energy are encouraged to attend free work simplification classes which will begin September 10 in Thief River Falls, according to Mrs. Laura Hanson, Pennington county home agent. "Shortcuts to a Longer Life" is the theme of the class series.

Four weekly classes will be taught September 10 through October 1 at the Northwestern hospital cafeteria in Thief River Falls. Mrs. Marion Melrose, representing the University of Minnesota agricultural extension service, will conduct the classes.

"Homemakers will be taught more efficient methods of managing meal preparation, laundering, bed-making, cupboard storage and other chores," Mrs. Hanson said. "Physicians throughout the area are receiving advance information on the program this week and will recommend patients for the classes. There is no medical teaching or advice included in the course."

Heart-of-the-Home classes, as they are popularly known, are a community service made available to Minnesota homemakers through the cooperation of the Minnesota Department of Health, University of Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service and the Minnesota Heart association.

"Announcement of these classes is of special importance to all women who have heart disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, vericose veins, rheumatic heart disease, multiple sclerosis or arthritis," Mrs. Hanson added. "Homemakers in wheelchairs or on crutches will also find these classes helpful.

"Most homemakers can enjoy the luxury of extra time and energy that results from finding better and easier ways of doing routine household chores, but for the homemaker who is ill, the saving of time and energy is very important."

Classes are designed to fill the doctor's advice of "take it easy" by showing the homemaker more efficient housekeeping methods. Registrations are now being accepted for enrollment. The free community service program consists of a series of four classes of

A double wedding ceremony August 4th performed in Thief River Falls at Evangelical Free church united Nora Reta Davies to Paul W. Starkey of Troy, N. H., and Judith Arlene Goddard of Pine River, with Keith Curtis Davies.

Parents of the Davies sister and brother are the Clyde Davies' of this city. Miss Goddard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Derrick Goddard of Pine River, and Mrs. Starkey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Starkey of Troy, N. H.

Rev. Roger Davies, brother of Mr. and Miss Davies, Troy, performed the double-ring ceremonies at 3:30 before an altar setting of ferns and candelabra. Miss Carolyn Swan of this city presided at the organ for the traditional nuptial music. Rev. Joseph Swan sang, "It Was Heaven's Grace That Made Thee Mine," and "We Thank Thee, Lord."

Miss Davies was given in marriage by her father. Her floor-length gown, which she fashioned herself, was of lace over taffeta, with an overskirt of satin flowing into a chapel train. It featured a sweetheart neckline and elbow-length sleeves. Her cascade bouquet was of yellow roses and stephanotis.

Miss Davies was attended by Mrs. Charles Erickson of Thief River Falls, as matron of honor, and Miss Barbara Starkey of Troy, sisters of the bride and groom, respectively. Their dresses were of mint green taffeta brocade, and they carried white crocheted baskets with yellow and white daisies. They wore white and yellow daisy arrangements in their hair.

Flower girl, Miss Virginia Relerson of this city, was dressed like the bridesmaid and carried a similar basket and flowers. Steven Erickson, Thief River Falls, was the ring-bearer. He wore a black tuxedo. Best man was Louis Whitcomb of Keene, N. H., and groomsman was Charles Erickson of this city. The men of the wedding party all wore black tuxedos.

Ms. Davies wore a light blue lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Starkey chose a pink dress, with white accessories, and wore a similar corsage to that worn by the mother of Miss Davies. Mrs. Goddard wore a dress of navy blue, with white accessories and her corsage was the same as those of the other mothers.

The couple's wedding cake was four-tiered, with two satin bells encircled by pearls as its top.

For their wedding trip they went to Troy, where they are now at home. The bride wore a white dress and jacket for their trip.

Miss Davies is a graduate of Lincoln high school, and the groom graduated from the high school in Troy. He is now attending the Keene, N. H. teacher's college.

Miss Goddard was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of floor length, of net and lace, with lace bodice, scalloped neckline enhanced with sequins and pearls, and long sleeves. It also featured a full skirt and lace overskirt. Her bouquet was a cascade of yellow roses.

Attending her as matron of honor was Mrs. Vic Glere of Robbinsdale; her sister, and as bridesmaid, her cousin, Miss Karen Henderson of Cavalier, N. D. They wore yellow taffeta brocade gowns with white accessories. Robin Trontvet of this city was flower girl, in a dress of yellow taffeta brocade like that of the bridesmaid. Timothy Erickson, a nephew of the groom, carried the rings.

Best man was Lance Davies of Minneapolis, a brother of the groom, while Rupert Syverson of Bemidji assisted as groomsman. The men wore tuxedos.

The newlywed Davies' honeymooned in northern Minnesota, the bride wearing a blazer-style suit of green and tan, with tan accessories. They will make their home in Clearbrook. The bride is a graduate of Bemidji State college, and was employed in Smith elementary school at Bemidji for the past two years. The groom, also a graduate of Bemidji State, will be teaching social studies and English at the Clearbrook high school.

A reception for the two couples was given by the parents of the brides, and was held on the lawn of the Davies home.

The cake of the Davies' was like that of the Starkeys, except that it was topped by a pearl heart-encircled bell beside which stood

Out-of-town guests were from Troy and Keene, N. H.; Rolette, Cavalier, and Bathgate, N. D.; Clearbrook, Moorhead, Karlstad, Minneapolis, Pine River, Coleraine, LaPorte, and Bemidji, all in Minnesota.

Lance Davies Married to Joan Sudenga In Iowa

The marriage of Joan Rae Sudenga, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Sudenga, of George, Ia., and Lance Lee Davies, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Davies, of Thief River Falls, took place Saturday afternoon, July 27, at the Evangelical United Brethren church in George.

Before an altar with baskets of white gladiolas and circular candleabra, the Rev. Roger Davies, brother of the groom, of Troy, New Hampshire, performed the double ring ceremony.

Miss Grace Peterson of Duluth played the nuptial music and accompanied Kenneth Speake of George, who sang "I Love Thee" and Sharon Beek of Sioux Falls, who sang "The Song of Ruth".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of white silk organza, fashioned with a scoop neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Motifs of Alencon type lace, embroidered with pearls, decorated the bodice and front of the chapel-train skirt, which was later caught into a bustle under a wide bow at the waist for the reception. The shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was fastened to a crest of petals outlined with pearls. The bride carried a cascade of miniature white carnations and ivy centered with a white orchid.

The bride's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Prudence Speake, of George, served as maid of honor, and Peggy Sudenga, the bride's sister, and Lois Emmel of Clearbrook, were bridesmaids. They wore identical street length dresses of royal blue taffeta with green nylon organza pleated overskirts. The dresses were made with scoop necklines and short sleeves. They wore head pieces consisting of a ruff of royal blue net around a white carnation with iridescent green nylon organza leaves. They white carnations with ivy streamers.

The flower girl, Terri Timmermans, wore a dress the same style and color as the bridesmaids. The ring bearer, Steve Erickson, of Thief River Falls, carried the rings on a white satin, lace-trimmed pillow, made by the groom's mother.

Keith Davies, brother of the groom, of Thief River Falls, was best man; Burdell Davies, a younger brother, and Keith Hill, a friend of Hollywood, Fla., were groomsmen. Ushers were Ron Trontvet of Thief River Falls, and Mike Mitchell of Howard Lake, Minn. The men in the party wore dark formal attire with white carnation boutonnierees.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sudenga chose a beige sheath dress with beige accessories. Mrs. Davies' dress was of blue lace with white accessories. Both ladies had corsages of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Kate Sudenga, grandmother of the bride, wore blue and had a corsage of white carnations.

Registering the 150 guests was Miss Shirley Bruns of George.

A reception in the church parlors, followed the ceremony. Miss Nora Reta Davies, sister of the groom, of Troy, N. H. and Miss Judy Goddard of Pine River cut the three-tiered cake. Mrs. Charles Erickson, sister of the groom, of Thief River Falls, and Mrs. Ole Bjornlund of Fairmont, Minn., poured.

Following a wedding tip to northern Minnesota the bridal couple will make their home at 1326 LaSalle, Minneapolis.

A graduate of George high school, the bride has attended Northwestern College in Minneapolis and is a graduate of the Professional Business Institute in that city. The bridegroom graduated from Thief River Falls Lincoln high school and has attended Northwestern College. He is employed at the Twin City Drug Company.

PLEDGING marriage vows July 20 were Miss Susan Krankkala, daughter of Mrs. Stella Krankkala and the late Albert Krankkala, and Rodney Treague of Sacred Heart, Minn.

The groom is being transferred to Greece, and his bride will join him there later.

Susan Krankkala Bride Of A2c Rodney Treague

Redeemer Lutheran Church was the scene of a double ring ceremony July 20th, uniting in marriage Miss Susan Renae Krankkala, daughter of Mrs. Stella Krankkala of this city, and Rodney Lowell Treague, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Knutson of Sacred Heart Minnesota. The Rev. Marvin O. Carlson officiated at the 8:30 o'clock candlelight ceremony.

Baskets of shaded blue delphiniums provided the setting together with the single candles and white bows marking pews. The acolytes were Wayne and Rodney Omundson of Warren, cousins of the bride. Ushers were Eugene Treague of Sacred Heart, brother of the groom, and Steven Skadsen, friend of the couple.

Miss Agnes Longren played a prelude of organ music and also accompanied the soloist, Miss Cookie Joppru, who sang "The Song of Ruth" prior to the ceremony and "The Wedding Prayer" while the couple knelt.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, John Krankkala, the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace over tiers of nylon and net over taffeta. The scalloped neckline of the fitted bodice was accented with pearls and crystals.

Sleeves of the gown came to points over the wrist. Her fingertip veil edged in lace fell from a crown of sequins, pearls and crystals. Her jewelry was a matching set of pearl and aurora borealis crystal. She carried a bouquet of long stemmed roses.

Her attendants were Jeanne Rambeck of this city, maid of honor, and Susie Ballingrud of bridesmaid, friends of the bride. They wore identically designed street length dresses of light blue nylon tricot, nylon net underskirts lined with taffeta and matching veiled head pieces. Each carried a single long stemmed red rose. Their necklaces and earrings of pearl and aurora borealis crystal were gifts of the bride. Mrs. Keith Poppenhagen was the bride's personal attendant. Best man Airman First Class Jerry Spaltl of West Falls, New York, and groomsman Airman Second Class Steve Pitt of Boston, Massachusets, both stationed at the Finley, North Dakota, Radar Station together with the groom, wore Air Force Uniform.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Krankkala chose a yellow pleated jersey dress while the groom's mother was attired in a blue flowered print. Both wore white accessories. The maternal grandmother, Mrs. Peder Omundson, wore a blue dress and the paternal grandmother, Mrs Opal Nuesse of St. Paul, Minn., wore a dress of shaded green stripes. The mothers and grandmothers all had corsages of white carnations centered with red roses.

About 100 guests were received by the couple at the reception given by the bride's mother in the church parlors following the ceremony. Mrs. James Thorstad served as hostess. Punch was served by Romona Lanska.

The four-tiered wedding cake which was trimmed with red roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom, by bells and swans, was baked and decorated by Mrs. Lawrence Lubitz and cut and served by Mrs. Betty Omundson of Warren, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Ferri Ranum. Mrs. Jerry Spaltl of Finley, N. D., and Mrs. Lawrence Sletten poured. Waitresses were Sharon Yonke, Jane Walseth and Jeanine Meyers, Mrs. Leland Knight, Mrs. Goodwin Hanson and Mrs. Tim Brieland assisted in the kitchen.

Floral arrangements made by Mrs. Marie Cernoucek graced the dining room. Gifts were attended by Jean Omundson of St. Paul, Sharon Westby of Crookston, and Carolyn Weiner and Charlotte Holmes of this city.

Gaylene Nelson registered the guests which included relatives and friends of Thief River Falls, Sacred Heart, Crookston, Sebeka, Middle River, Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minnesota; Great Falls, Montana; Los Angeles, California; Grand Forks and Finley, North Dakota.

For a brief honeymoon to the southern part of the state, the bride chose a blue flowered sleeveless dress with white accessories.

Mrs. Treague is a graduate of Lincoln High School, class of 1963. Mr. Treague, a graduate of the Sacred Heart, Minnesota, High School in 1961, is presently serving with the United States Air Force and has been assigned to the Air Base at Athens, Greece.

4 Area Students To Attend U of M On Scholarships

Thief River Falls and Newfolden Students Get Grants from University

Three Thief River Falls students and one from Newfolden have accepted scholarships to attend the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis this fall, according to the University's bureau of student loans and scholarships.

Local Boys Take 681-Mile Trek To Duluth by Bike

ber of Troop 59 at Zion church for the same amount of time. Both plan to attend the International Jamboree next summer—but not on bicycle.

Equipment Carried

What did the boys carry on their trip? "Let's take a look in the pack," Jim said, pulling a canvas roll from the front of his bicycle. "Blankets sewn between two sheets, air mattress, two-piece pup tent, cameras and film, swim suits, tools, spare tires, tube, repair kit, mess kit, collapsible wash basin, changes of clothes, rain coats, first aid kit, mosquito repellant, rope and clothes pins." The load for each bike was 27 pounds plus a separate pack which they took turns carrying.

"I think I'd like to take another trip next year if I had the money," Curt said. (This summer's trip cost him $12.50 while Jim spent $17.) "It would be fun to go up into Canada and spend more time camping and less time riding." Jim is ready to go along, but the boys would like to have more company. "It would be more fun if some other kids would get interested in cycling and go along," Jim added.

Scout Work Helped

Boy Scout training stood the boys in good stead as they stayed with friends on four nights of their trip and camped out the remainder of the time. One flat tire was the only mechanical trouble on the trip. Both boys qualified for their cycling merit badges.

Jim just had a speedometer connected on his bike about two weeks ago. He notes that his fastest speed has been 42 miles per hour. His two-week-old gadget now records 730 miles. "That's more than most people put on a car in two weeks," he commented.

Comfortably perched on a padded office chair, this reporter is inclined to agree that it's sure a lot of miles—by bicycle.

Pennington Men Employed on East Marshall Projects

Work is progressing satisfactorily on conservation work projects in this area, according to Robert Farmes, area game manager for the Minnesota Department of Conservation. More men are needed for the projects, however, and interested persons should report to the employment office at Thief River Falls.

Farmes noted that an allocation made for Pennington county under the Conservation Work Project adopted by the state legislature had been transferred to Marshall county. As much as possible, men and equipment from Pennington County are being secured to work on the Marshall county projects. The county allocation of $26,100 was transferred to Marshall since there were no projects scheduled for work in Pennington.

At present there are six men from Pennington and five men from Marshall working on the projects in eastern Marshall county. Additional help needed will be paid $1.75 per hour for a 40-hour week.

Conservation Dept. Asks 3-Duck Daily Bag

The Minnesota conservation department has gone on record as opposed to the bag limit on ducks proposed for the 1963 season by the Mississippi Flyway Council.

State game supervisor Dave Vesall and waterfowl project leader Robert Jessen, representatives to the council, just returned from a meeting of that group in St. L... Minnesota, in keeping with the council's technical section recommendations which were based on population forecasts, proposed that the 1963 basic regulations allow three birds daily and six in possession with a restriction of two mallards daily.

This proposal was amended through council action to recommend a daily limit of four daily and eight in possession, while retaining the restriction on mallards. The amended proposal has now been forwarded to the National Flyway Council which is meeting in Washington this week.

The breeding population of ducks in those portions of Canada and the United States which supply ducks to the Mississippi Flyway increased slightly this past spring. Good water conditions and breeding success indicate an over-all moderate increase over the 1962 fall flight.

Because the 1962 breeding population was the lowest on record in recent years, these gains are not spectacular and it is predicted that the fall flight of such important species as the mallard will still be at about half that of the mid-fifties.

Minnesota gains in duck production have been good. This year it is estimated that the tri-state area of Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota will contribute about the same number of birds to the fall flight as will Saskatchewan.

When water conditions were favorable in Saskatchewan in the mid-fifties, this Province contributed nearly nine times as many birds to the fall flight as did the tri-state area.

The Department's report emphasized that a basic season limit of 4 birds daily does not yet have the final approval of the National Flyway Council or of the Secretary of the Interior and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

But should such a season be approved, state game officials say that gains in duck populations this past year may be lost. It is the opinion of Minnesota waterfowl experts that with a daily limit of 4 birds, use of suitable waterfowl breeding areas in Minnesota and elsewhere may well decline next year because of a shortage of breeding ducks.

F. W. after being given a tussle by the Rasmussen Insurance team, won by a 19 to 15 score.

Games on Wednesday's round find the Hartz Stores playing the National Guard at 6:30 P. M. on the East Side diamond; and the Western Oil playing the Hamm's Beer on the Fair Grounds diamond at 6:30 P. M.

Thursday evening's schedule, a double-header, will be played on the East Side diamond. At 6:30 P. M., the Bridgeman's will play the Vets; and at 8:00 P. M. the winner of Wednesday evening's games will meet. The elimination series will continue next week.

In the annual All-Stars vs. the league champions game, which was played on Monday evening, the All-Stars, getting strong pitching from Milt Relerson, Dwight Tangquist, and Bob Carlson defeated the V. F. W., 9 to 3.

More Local Ducks Forseen in State

Outlook Is Poor, However, for Mississippi Flyway

Minnesota's wild duck hatch is the highest in several years, according to conservation department research biologist Robert Jessen.

Breeding birds were reported in good numbers throughout most of the state this past spring. Numbers of mallards and large divers, such as the canvasback and redhead, improved in northwestern Minnesota and showed some gains throughout their breeding range in the state.

Blue-winged teal populations in western and northwestern Minnesota remained about the same while showing some increases south of the Minnesota River.

Jessen said favorable water and restrictive hunting seasons during the past few years have benefited Minnesota's ducks at a time when drought over the prairies of the Dakota's and Canada prevented birds from breeding in these areas.

Good water levels in wetlands this spring stayed relatively high into the summer. Stable water combined with generally dry weather during the hatching period, when young are vulnerable to losses, has favored a good hatch and survival of young. As a result, Minnesota duck production is the best observed for some time.

In contrast, the Mississippi Flyway duck outlook is not so-bright, said Jessen. Improved water conditions over much of the prairies have raised production of birds in these areas considerably over the past few years, but production still remains substantially below the high of the mid-fifties.

Although final data on waterfowl production from these areas is not available yet, it's known that even a bumper crop of such key species as the mallard would only produce about half the fall flight attained in better years such as 1957.

The breeding population of these birds has been too far depressed during the drought years to recover in a single breeding season.

In general, the duck situation warrants only cautious optimism, Jessen said. He added that locally favorable production in Minnesota and the tendency for news releases to compare this year's situation in the Canadian prairies to last year's, which was the worst on record, is likely to exaggerate the gains in production.

The colt covered five furlongs in 1:02.2 to defeat Evelew and Cousin Anne on August 3. Bred by the George Monroe stable at Warren, Timber Lynn beat 50 to 1 odds in winning the race. He came out of the starting gate on top and led the field for the entire race. Shown with the colt in the above photo are Clark, Dennis and Randy Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Carpenter.

Coast-to-Coast, 122, vs. Wilson Bros., 115.

Ekeren Pharmacy, 121, vs. Times, 106

The surging Bjorkman's Clothing, with a winning streak of five straight, and trailing the league-leading Times squad by one point, will meet the Times in the season's feature match on Thursday evening. The 1963 schedule will conclude on Thursday, and win or the Bjorkman's, who scored a 117 to 114 win over the Times in a previous match between the two squads, would give Sandy Wilson's team the league title.

In last week's competition, the Bjorkman's scored a 119 to 108 win over the Custom Motors. For the winners, Steve Skadsen scored a 22-4, Wayne Bendickson a 21-6, Sandy Wilson a 23-0, Tom Ekeren a 15-8, and Jim Hegland a 15-6. For the Custom Motors, Arnie Johnson had a "25" with an 18-7. Other scorers for the Motors were Walt Fischer with a 22-0, Roy Landmann a 17-5, Orvis Olen a 14-6, and Dan Hoganson a 16-3.

The Times turned in their season's lowest score as they dropped a 121 to 106 decision to the Ekeren Pharmacy. Only three of the Times' shooters were able to get a total into the 20's, with Bob Mattson having a 23-1, George Mostue a 20-3, and Leif Erickson a 16-5. Floyd Ball had a 19-0, and Bill Dahlquist a 12-7. For the Pharmacy, Ted LaCoursiere, with a 17-8, and Bob Ekeren, also with a 17-8, had "25's". Russ Embury marked up a 23-1, Ray Thyren a 22-2, and Stub Pahlen a 22-1.

The Coast-to-Coast squad posted the evening's high team total, a 122, as they defeated the Wilson Bros., 122 to 115. Darrell Wood, with a 21-6, and Ike Hoglin, with a 21-7, had "25's" for the winners; and Don Olson, with a 21-3, Erling Torgerson, with a 22-2, and Rube Carlson, with a 21-3, had "24's". For the Wilson aggregation, Merv Skadsen shot a 23-4 for the squad's lone "25." Si Schantzen had a 24-0, Stan Wilson a 21-1, Al Tonder a 19-3, and Dan Rawerts a 14-8.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Starting Slowly

The Winnipeg Blue Bombers, the champions of Canadian professional football, have dropped their first two league games, losing to the Calgary Stampeders. Coach Bud Grant's team lost by a 27 to 35 score at Calgary last week, and on Monday night, in the friendly surroundings of the Winnipeg stadium, the Bombers were beaten, 24 to 8, and again by Calgary.

Winnipeg fans realize that it is part of coach Grant's strategy to bring his football team along slowly, but it is doubtful if Grant meant for the Bombers to lose two straight to the Stampeders, the team that is given rating as the Western League's best.

I was in the Winnipeg stadium on Monday night, along with Dale, Gary, and Paul Klungness, and twenty thousand football fans. It was the first time that the Klungness boys had witnessed the Canadian brand of football, and they found it entertaining, and quite different than the American style. It's a fact that the Canadian game moves along at a faster pace than the American game, and this is so because "time outs' are not permitted in Canadian football. The referee, in case of an injury, will allow a 'time out", but in such an instance the injured player must leave the field for at least one play. The clock is stopped when the referee blows the ball dead on a running play, etc., but the referee, after spotting the ball on the yard marker signals play-in, and the clock is again started.

Sandy Stephens, the former All-American with the Minnesota Gophers, and for the past couple of seasons with the Montreal Alouettes of the Eastern Football league in Canada, is having his troubles getting started this season. Says Jim Coleman, a Canadian sports columnist: "Sandy Stephens, confirming the worst fears of Jim Trimble, hasn't developed into a mature professional quarterback and, consequently, the Montreal Alouettes must be relegated to the lower levels of the league".

Good Luck To The Twins

Manager Les Holen's Twin Valley Twins, with his son Mickey Holen doing the pitching, won the Norman-Polk league playoffs by defeating the Ada Athletics, 11 to 3, in a game played at Ada on Monday. The Twins entered the four-team playoffs as a "dark horse" club, and the squad played good baseball to defeat the league favorites, Fosston, and come on to win two straight from Ada.

Twin Valley will now move into the three-team Region 2B playoffs at Fertile, and they gained a first-round bye. The playoffs opened Wednesday, with Barnesville of the Heart O'Lakes league playing the Paul Bunyan league champion. Twin Valley will play the winner of Wednesday's game on Thursday evening.

The losers' bracket, with the loser of Wednesday evening's game and Thursday evening's game meeting, will play on Saturday night. And the regional championship finals will be played on Sunday.

The Barnesville club, with a highly-rated pitcher in Dell Olson, is given a good chance of winning the regional title. It is perhaps of interest to old time St. Hilaire fans to mention that the catcher for the Barnesville club is a Pierre DuCharme. And Pierre is a grandson of Ted DuCharme, a one-time star for the St. Hilaire Saints. Ted, who looks surprisingly well and who will undoubtedly be in attendance at the Barnesville games at Fertile, was a top-flight shortstop for the Saints back in 1914 or 15 or 16.

River Fishing

There has been a flurry of activity in river fishing, Red Lake river fishing, that is. And the anglers who have been trolling the river, a mile or two up stream from the Tindolph Park beach, have been catching some fine walleyes.

And the walleyes that have been brought in have been very attractive fish, being a golden in color. These walleyes have apparently been feeding off the shallow sand bars up stream, and looking at the pike you would believe that they have become sun-tanned.

Baldy Dunham, who usually fishes the Lake of the Woods, has been having good success in the river. And he maintains that the Red Lake river, as far as he is concerned, has produced finer walleyes than the Lake of the Woods. And some of these walleyes have been in the six and seven-pound class.

'63 Princess Kay Crowned at State Fair August 24

Eelven pretty dairy farm girls come to the Twin Cities August 21 in quest of a crown, a title and a brimful year of demanding but delightful work as Princess Kay of the Milky Way.

In Minneapolis and coronation ceremonies for the winner will be held on opening night of the 1963 Minnesota State Fair Saturday, Aug. 24, on the grandstand stage.

Reigning Princess Kay, pretty Kathy Hjelle of Argyle, will crown the winner of the 10th annual statewide contest.

The 11 finalists are the survivors of the 1,387 total of girls who competed at various levels in preliminary contests held before and during Minnesota's 1963 observance of June Dairy Month. Each of the girls is the dairy princess for her home region. Region I princess is Miss June Walter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walter of Plummer.

Principal responsibility of Princess Kay is to act as full-time goodwill ambassador for some 78,000 dairy farm families and other segments of the state's giant dairy industry.

The 1963 contest will be conducted according to the same rules and candidates will be judged on the same criteria as have been used in previous contests, according to manager L. H. (Lew- Conlon of the sponsoring Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee.

"Our judges, all experienced and all from outside Minnesota, again will be looking for the girl with the best combination of appearance, poise, speaking ability, personality, sincerity and enthusiasm," Conlon said. "The competition has become keener in each succeeding contest over the years and it is obvious that it will be keener still this year with the fine group of candidates selected by our regional judges earlier this summer."

One of the first duties of the new Princess Kay after a 10-day stint of appearances at the State Fair will be to represent Minnesota in the ninth annual American Dairy Princess contest to be held in Miami Beach, Fla., Sept. 14-17. In the event Princess Kay wins the national contest, one of two attendants named at the Princess Kay coronation will take over her duties in Minnesota for the coming year.

The institute will commence promptly at 4:00 p.m. The feeder cattle will be graded and ready for inspection. Five information booths will be manned by experts on feeding, management, disease, housing, and outlook. barbecue supper is scheduled for 6:00 p.m. sharp. The speaking program begins at 7:00 o'clock and it will finish at 9:30 p.m. so those from a long way will get an early start home.

Ed Fredrick and D. Reimer of the Northwest Experiment Station will report on the station's trial on "Feeding Wild Oats to Beef Cattle."

Paul Hasbargen, extension economist from the University of Minnesota, will present "The Current Outlook for Valley Cattle Feeders."

The feeder cattle will be graded and will be described and discussed by Carl Spong and Bob Callender, Central Livestock Association, Fargo.

U.S. Savings Bond Sales Drop Here to $8,368 in July

Sale of U. S. savings bonds during July in Minnesota continued at a brisk pace, typical of the first six months of the year. $5,736,943 in series E & H bonds were sold to Minnesotans during the month of July which brought total purchases for the year to $39,299,200. Sales in July were 11.8 per cent higher than last year, according to Rollin O. Bishop, volunteer state savings bonds chairman.

Sales of savings bonds in Pennington county, according to J. M. Roche, county chairman, were $8,368, giving the county a total of $81,170 at the end of seven months.

Sales in neighboring counties in July were: Marshall, $11,087; and Red Lake, $2,806.

Nationally sales were up 15.3 per cent in July which brought the total holdings of savings bonds to a new high of 46½ billion dollars.

20 States Enact Billboard Laws

Kentucky First State to Collect Bonus, Says AAA

Twenty states have now adopted laws controlling billboards along the Interstate Highway System, the Minnesota AAA reported today.

These states, which have laws meeting federal standards, will get a special bonus in federal funds for highway building.

The first state to get a cash reimbursement was Kentucky, which early last July got a bonus of one-half of one percent on seven Interstate projects. In presenting the check for more than $65,000 to Governor Bert Combs, Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges said:

"The people of Kentucky have given concrete evidence that they want the Interstate highways in their state free from distracting signs which mar the beautiful countryside. Too many of our highways have degenerated into ugly, blighted roads and Congress is determined that this will not happen to the 41,000-mile Interstate System. Kentucky's example should encourage other states to take the necessary steps to keep their Interstate highways free from unsightliness."

Midwest states which will become eligible for bonus payments as soon as they fulfill terms of the agreement they have signed with the Bureau of Public Roads include North Dakota, Wisconsin, and Nebraska.

The Minnesota highway department estimates that Minnesota would stand to gain an additional $1,800,000 in highway funds if the state enacts a billboard control law similar to those now in effect in the 20 states.

Veteran's Pension Is Open to More Widows

Some North Dakota and Minnesota widows of wartime veterans who died without service-connected disability may be unaware that they are eligible for pension provided their income is below certain limits, John R. Parrish, Fargo VA Center director, said today.

This misunderstanding is furthered by the fact that at one time widows of World War II and Korean Conflict veterans did not have the same pension eligibility that World War I widows had. However, in recent years this has been changed to equalize the eligibility of widows of all three wars.

(Widows of veterans whose deaths were attributable to service-connected disabilities do not receive pension but dependency and indemnity compensation payments. They are not affected by the pension regulations, Parrish said.)

When a veteran dies, his widow may be eligible for death pension if:

(a) The deceased veteran-husband had at least 90 days of service, part of which was during wartime unless discharged sooner for service-connected disability, or he was receiving or entitled to receive compensation or retirement pay for a wartime service-connected disability and, in all cases, had been discharged under conditions other than dishonorable.

(b) The widow has an annual income of not more than $1,800 (or, with a child of the veteran, not more than $3,000). Pension is not payable if the widow has an estate so large that it is reasonable to look to the estate for support.

Widows without a child of the veteran may receive $60 a month if their annual income is not more than $600; or $45 a month if their income is between $600 and $1,200. They may receive $25 a month if their income is between $1,000 and $1,800, and in keeping with the law, no payment if their income exceeds $1,800.

If the widow has a child of the veteran, she may receive $75 a month if her annual income is not over $1,000; or $60 a month if her income is between $1,000 and $2,000; or $40 a month if her income is between $2,000 and $3,000. There is no payment if her income exceeds $3,000.

If there is more than one child, the monthly payment will be increased by $15 for each additional child.

Further information may be obtained at the VA Center at Fargo, North Dakota.

Federal Tax Cuts

A modified plan of tax reduction that would give to individuals and corporations an estimated $11 billion in annual tax relief is being recommended by the House Ways and Means Committee. Increases recommended are expected to bring in about $1 billion in new revenue. President Kennedy had recommended tax cuts totalling about $13.6 billions and tax increases totalling about $3.3 billions.

Such a program of tax reduction would be very welcome providing the reduced revenue would be at least balanced by reduced spending. But that is not what President Kennedy has in mind. His idea is to reduce taxes and increase spending. He has been listening to a group of crack-pot professors who have convinced him that we actually can spend ourseves rich. They advotate the kind of a program the Germans adopted to restore their economy following the first World War.

The Germans restored prosperity in a hurry by flooding the country with a printing press currency. For a while it seemed to work very effectively. The German people, loaded with marks, were quite happy. Then the marks started to lose value. The drop in buying power came gradually at first, but it gained momentum rapidly and it wasn't long before the marks were worthless.

It is significant that the Germans did not adopt this method in their effort to restore their economy following the second World War. This time they did it the right way, which is the hard way. The German people tightened their belts and went to work, and by hard work and good management the economy of the nation was restored.

Our dollar now has a buying power of less than forty cents. If the program recommended by the administration is adopted, and we deliberately increase our national indebtedness in an effort to create prosperity, our dollar will rapidly go the way of the German mark following World War I.

Deserve Consideration

The recent meetings held in Moscow in regard to controls on nuclear testing were very encouraging. The discussions presumably were friendly and forthright. There were no explosions of temper or table-thumping episodes. The agreements that were entered into, and which can be terminated on short notice, probably are of little importance except as a short step forward in the direction of harmony. But they could prove to be of very great future importance.

Reports now indicate that the Soviets have invited consideration of a joint effort with our country in space exploration. Senator Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, chairman of the Senate Space Committee, has released a recent exchange of letters beween a British astronomer and the head of our National Aeronautics and Space administration, suggesting that the Russians now would be interested in exploring the possibility of an international man-on-the-moon project.

The idea has strong support. As reported by Neal Stanford in the Christian Science Monitor:

"In a speech on the Senate floor Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D) of Pennsylvania, suggested that "the international exploration of outer space should be the second step toward world peace after the Senate acts on the limited-nuclear-test-ban treaty."

"There is apparently no disagreement in scientific and space circles that a joint moon effort would be less costly to both the United States and the Soviet Union than a race that it was estimated would cost the United States alone upwards of $20,000,000,000.

"Senator Clark, in his speech, stressed the point "that the financial burden borne by any one nation would be substantially lightened, duplication of scientific effort would be eliminated, and scientific progress would be accelerated through the free interchange of information, research, and development."

We can see no good reason why possibilities along this line should not be thoroughly explored.

British in First Place

The British are now definitely in first place in train robbery spectaculars. The gang that held up the Glasgow-to-London Royal Mail train got away with currency and other valuables estimated to be worth from $5.6 million to $8.4 millions, and that's a lot of loot even in terms of our top TV thrillers.

How was it possible? John Allen May, staff correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, made the following report:

"There are too few police, certainly. The nation's police forces are 5,000 men under strength. There are too many robbers. In London, last year's crime total (214,120) was the highest ever recorded.

"The train had no special security guard, no top-security safe aboard, no two-way radio. It was, so to speak, a well-advertised stage loaded with a mineful of gold but nobody even riding shotgun. The money was in sacks."

It was a well-planned operation and, it seems, everything worked out perfectly according to plan. But Postmaster-General Reginald Bevins is not one to let such matters drop. Interrupting his holiday to hurry from his Liverpool home to London, he stated forthrightly, "I want to find out exactly why the precautions taken were not adequate." Bravo.

That Debt Limit Again

By a vote of 221 to 175 the House extended the present debt limit from Sept. 1 to November 30. The present limit is $309 billion. Unless action is taken the limit will drop back to $285 billion on September 1.

This final action was taken by the House after a motion to return the bill to the Ways and Means Committee with instructions to cut the limitation by $2 billion, had been rejected by a vote of 229 to 165. Fortunately the question did stir up some heated discussion of the overall problem in which minority leader Charles Halleck of Indiana made the following observations:

"I think the next two months are going to be critical in the whole fiscal situation. I would like to put some of the spenders on notice that they cannot spend willy-nilly and expect Congress to continue to raise the debt ceiling."

This continual raising of the debt ceiling seems to be a silly procedure but it at least serves the good purpose of keeping the people informed on how recklessly the dollars are being tossed around down in Washington.

Mars Is Really Dry

If you have been looking forward to a journey to Mars in the near future you probably face disappointment. Mars isn't going to be available to Earth travelers for some time to come according to a report made by Astronomer Peter van de Kamp at the American Astronomical Society convention recently. He said the planet doesn't have enough water vapor in its atmosphere to support life similar to that on earth.

If all the water in the Martian atmosphere could be concentrated, the convention was told, it hardly would make a fair sized pond by earthly standards. We are becoming resigned to the probability that we will have to spend our remaining years in stay-at-home boredom.

Race Tactics in New York

New York City is afflicted with a real race problem, and it is encouraging to note that the Times of that city is facing it realistically and without emotional appeal. In no uncertain terms it has expressed its disapproval of the tactics being used presumably in the interests of racial equality. It expressed its impatience recently by asking, "What in the world do the leaders of the integration movement in this city hope to gain by the tactics they now are using to attract public attention?" It cited these examples:

Item: Eighteen Negro children aged 2 to 13 years being placed by their elders at the entrance to the site of the Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn;

Item: Seven older demonstrators jumping on a construction truck at the same location and entwining themselves around a portable crane so tenaciously that 20 policemen were required to pry them loose;

Item: A white couple and a Negro man blocking access to Mayor Wagner's office in City Hall;

Item: Others maintaining an around-the-clock sit-in at Governor Rockefeller's New York City office on West 55th Street.

The Times concluded:

"It can be doubted that these and similar unlawful sit-ins, lie-ins, stand-ins that have been carried out in recent weeks in New York City have advanced the cause of equality under the law by an iota. Or speeded up action to bring about a redress of just grievances. They may very well have had the adverse effect of alienating some old friends. They can hardly have won many new ones.

"There comes a time in any campaign when the law of diminishing returns begins to operate. That time seems to have come, and to have been passed.

"A recent statement by the Public Affairs Committee of Freedom House is commended to the campaign leaders for careful reading. The members of that committee hardly can be accused of being hesitant whites or Negro "Uncle Toms." The statement points out that it is at the conference table where settlements must be reached in a democratic society, not in the streets. That is where they must be reached if "breakthrough" is not to become "breakdown."

The weary husband was met at the door with sad news.

"We'll have to go out for dinner," his wife said cheerily. "I couldn't prepare anything because the electricity went off." "We have a gas range."

"I know," the wife went on, "but we have an electric can opener."

State Highway Dept. Workers Total 6,070

Employment in the Minnesota Highway Department increased only slightly this year over last, although the state's highway construction program almost doubled, the department reports.

The value of construction contracts awarded in fiscal year 1963 just ended (over $90 million) increased by 40 per cent over fiscal 1962, but employment in the highway department increased only about 4 per cent.

At the end of July of this year the highway department had 6,070 employees on its rolls; some 90 of these are temporary hourly employees used during the summer to help supervise construction work and to work in maintenance crews cutting grass, repairing pavements and painting pavement striping. Of the more than 6,000 employees, over 4,100 were in the field scattered over the entire state, with a little over 1,900 in the central office in St. Paul. Employment in the central office has remained about the same for more than a year. The increased strength is accounted for by the additional construction inspectors and technicians needed in the field.

The work load in all but the inspectator and technician field positions of the highway department was only slightly affected by the increased construction program. When the highway department processes a construction letting for $2 million, it requires no more personnel in the central office than processing a $12 million letting.

Also, the road design section and other units in the department such as right of way, work a year or more in advance of actual work performed on a project. That is, when a contract is let on a project, plans for the project and acquisition of right of way have been underway for as much as a year or more. It is in the construction field that employment increases proportionately with the amount of work.

During the past three years employment at the highway department has been gradually and steadily increasing to meet demands of an expanding construction program; so the actual increase in employment this past fiscal year is only about two per cent above the annual average increase over the previous three years.

The construction program recently announced by the highway department for fiscal years 1964-66 calls for about $314 million in new road work, amounting to an in- over the three year program published a year ago. This increased program is not expected to result in any substantial increase in employment by the highway depart- years.

Chicken, Peaches Good August Buys

Marketing Specialist Offers Shopping Tips

Chicken fryers, peaches and cantaloupe lead the list of values for food shoppers this week, reports Mary Ryan, extension consumer marketing specialist at the University of Minnesota.

Cut-up and whole chickens for frying, barbecuing and broiling are available at most meat counters at slightly below regular prices. Other meats being featured at some markets include beef and pork roasts.

California peaches are at their peak supply now, Miss Ryan says. This week many stores are featuring crates of peaches that may be the best price of the season. Because of cool weather the harvest of peaches has been extended in California, with the result that Minnesotans will be able to find peaches in markets longer than expected. Consumers should remember that very few Colorado peaches will be shipped this year because a spring freeze destroyed most of the crop.

The large supply of high-quality cantaloupe keeps melons reasonably priced for desserts, salads and for breakfast eating. Cantaloupe is an excellent source of vitamin C, according to extension nutritionists at the University of Minnesota.

Fresh Minnesota vegetables in plentiful supply and reasonably priced include new potatoes, sweet corn, green beans, cabbage, cucumbers, green peppers and tomatoes.

Bemidji College Plans Dormitory

Bids Received on 200-bed Unit Aggregate $605,300

Bids on a 200-bed dormitory to be constructed at Bemidji State College were opened Friday afternoon with the apparent low bids totaling $605,300 according to John Glas, assistant to the BSC president.

The bids will be presented to the Minnesota State College board meeting at Bemidji Aug. 16 for approval. The dormitory is scheduled for occupancy in Sept. 1964. This will give BSC dormitory space for approximately 1,000 sudents.

Apparent low bid for the general contract was made by Twin City Construction Co. of Fargo for $449,000. A. G. O'Brien plumbing and heating of Duluth submitted the apparent low bid of $94,750 for mechanical work, Naylor Electrical Construction Co. of Bemidji submitted a bid of $45,970 for electrical work and the R. and R. Elevator of Minneapolis submitted a bid of $15,580 for an elevator.

Work on the dormitory will start as soon as the board approves the bids. Melander and Fugelso of Duluth are the architects.

$3 Million Road Letting Aug. 30

Biggest Project is on T.H. 61 Near Two Harbors

Bids on 11 trunk highway construction projects estimated to cost about $3 million will be received Aug. 30 at the Minnesota highway department central offices in St. Paul, the department announces.

Projects involve road work on 17¼ miles, construction of two bridges, fencing of 44 miles of highways, building removal from highway rights of way, pavement marking and installation of traffic signals. The work is located in Carver, Clay, Hennepin, McLeod, Mower, Olmsted, Pine and St. Louis counties.

One of the larger projects calls for gravel base and concrete paving on 9.3 miles of TH 61 between Palmers and Two Harbors. Another big project calls for grading of 7.3 miles of TH 212 between Glencoe and the west junction of TH 5 and construction of a bridge over Buffalo Creek, involving Carver and McLeod counties.

State Government Is $1 Billion Business

The state of Minnesota has become a billion dollar business. For the first time in its history, the state has received revenue in excess of a billion dollars. Its disbursements also topped that figure.

State Auditor Stafford King reported Thursday that receipts from all sources amounted to $1,039,384,962. This is approximately $117 million over the receipts for the previous year.

Disbursements for the last fiscal year went $27 million over the billion mark, or $92 million more than the total paid out for the previous 12 months.

Principal change which accounted for a hike of $73 million in operating receipts, was an increase of almost $54 million in taxes. Taxes amounted to $462.7 million as compared with $408.9 million in 1962. An increase of $44 million in non-operating receipts was reported.

There were increased receipts in income tax, inheritance, cigarette, gasoline, gross earnings, motor vehicle, state property, liquor, oleomargarine (under a new law permitting sale of colored oleo) taconite occupation, documents and bank excise taxes in the order named.

Income taxes accounted for a $39 million increase and inheritance taxes $6.3 million more.

The cigarette tax brought in an additional $2.5 million, gasoline $2.4 million, gross earnings $1.5 million, motor vehicle, $1.1 million, state property $1 million, liquor and oleo, each a half million dollars.

A drop of $1.8 million in the occupation tax on iron ore and $301,000 less in the ore royalty tax was reported.

King announced that operating disbursement differences are traceable generally to an increase in state employee services; to increases in non-state employee services, travel and subsistence, rents and leases, care of aged persons, tabulating services and hospital care.

State employees' services showed an increase of $7 million, rising from $102 million to $109 million.

The biggest disbursement hike was recorded in fixed charges of an additional $16.5 million.

The largest single total disbursement—$347 million—was for education. Grants and subsidies to counties, primarily for welfare purposes and road and bridge fund, amounted to $340 million.

Social Security Recipients Told to Check Address

Persons receiving monthly social security checks were reminded today that a change of address should be reported promptly to both the Social Security Administration and to the postoffice.

Failure to do this can result in a delay in receiving a check and the possibility that the check will be returned to the Treasury rather than be forwarded.

Forms for changing an address on social security's records are available at the Grand Forks, N. D., social security office, in the Red River National bank building. If a change is reported before the middle of the month, the next check can be sent to the new address.

The postoffice should be notified also of a forwarding address in case some social security checks are already in the mail.

Sixteen Cases of TB Reported Here in Past 5 Years

Tuberculosis increased in 24 counties of the state during the five years ending Dec. 31, 1962, according to the Minnesota state department of health. It also caused as many or more deaths in 56 counties during this period.

Statistics for the entire state show a total of 4,805 newly reported cases of tuberculosis. During the same five years, the disease killed 508 in Minnesota. Of this number Pennington county had 16 new cases, making an average case rate per year of 25.7 per 100,000 population.

To help eradicate TB, the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association, co-operating with the state department of health, gave over one million tuberculin tests that check for tuberculosis during the past five years. It also helped pay the cost of chest x-rays for those who reacted to the tuberculin test. The x-ray, said Dr. Fenger, shows if the TB germs in the body are doing damage to the lungs. Since December, the state TB and Health association has served the people with its own mobile x-ray unit operating in every section of the state.

Blame Billboards for Road Mishaps

New York Survey Shows They Cause Accidents

Billboards may be a major cause of highway traffic accidents, according to a study make on the New York Thruway, a 280-mile cross-state superhighway.

Traffic acidents on the Thruway due to driver inattention are more than three times greater with billboards in view than where there are no billboards, the study by consulting engineers for the Thruway Authority, showed.

The study covered 1,550 accidents caused by driver inattention which were investigated by state police during the 1961-62 period.

Thruway Chairman R. Burdell Bixby said, "The obvious design of highway advertising is to attract the attention of motorists, and the success of that effort tends to conflict with one of the fundamental principles of safe driving."

Bixby pointed out that with a car moving 95 feet per second at the legal Thruway speed of 65 mph, attention directed away from driving and to a billboard for one second could mean the difference between life and death.

On portions of the Thruway where motorists were exposed to billboards, there was an annual average of 1.7 accidents per mile due to driver inattention, but only .5 of an accident per mile on sections without billboards. Outdoor advertising devices are located on about one-eighth of the Thruway mileage.

The study was made under an accident research program organized to promote safer driving conditions along the superhighway.

This is the hand of Justice. It reproves those people who have strayed from the path of truth and good living.

Honest men and righteous men have chosen another hand; one which is not pictured here. They never need the reproof of Justice, for they have chosen the Hand of God.

Each man is free to decide which hand will lead him. Some never see the Hand of God, and their way through life is barren and pointless.

But with the help of the Church, you can find the right path. By attending its services and joining in its work, your way through life can be made straight and happy. Take the Hand of God, and you need never fear stern Justice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Marjorie Engevik Weds Glenn E. Espe at Gatzke

Miss Marjorie Adele Engevik, Gatzke, and Glenn Eldor Espe, Pencer, were married in a double-ring ceremony at United Lutheran Church of Gatzke on July 27, by the Rev. John Berg. An altar backdrop of baskets of blue and white garden flowers, spiral candelabra, and light blue candles provided the setting for the exchange of vows in the presence of about 380 guests.

Miss Engevik is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin G. Engevik of Gatzke, and Mr. Espe's parents are the Omer Espes of Pencer.

Providing nuptial music at the organ was Mrs. Terry Stout of Fosston. "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Leonard Lunberg and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and "Down Life's Pathway We Travel" were offered vocally by Tom Christianson.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She was attired in a gown of white peau de sole satin with lace appliques, fashioned with an A-line front skirt, the back skirt cascading into a flowing train. The bodice featured long sleeves and a V neckline in the back. Accessories were a pearl choker necklace and brief white gloves. She wore a corsage of pink roses and white feathered carnations in a cascade arrangement.

Attendants to the bride were her sister, Mrs. Donald Kelsey of St. Paul, as matron of honor; Lois Knutson, Sunberg; Evadell Espe, Pencer, and Kathryn Engevik, Gatzke, as bridesmaids. They wore dresses of light blue cotton sateen with eyelet overlay, and designed with low rounded necklines and sleeveless bodices, semi-pleated skirts, and light blue sashes. They wore blue headdresses and white wrist-length gloves. Their white choker-style pearl necklaces were gifts of the bride, and their cascade bouquets were of white and dark pink roses.

Best man was the bridegroom's brother, Duane Espe of Roseau. Milo Espe, David Engevik, and Marvin Espe were the groom's other attendants. Candle lighters were Danny and Dicky Stardig.

The bride's mother wore a blue jersey dress with white accessories and Mrs. Espe wore a blue dress of rayon brocade, also with white accessories. Their corsages were of red and white roses.

Hostesses at the reception, at which the couple received about 290 guests, were Mrs. Bernard Engevik and Mrs. Reuben Engevik. The reception was given by the bride's parents and held in the basement social rooms of the church. The grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Peter Espe, baked and decorated the bridal cake, and she also cut it, with the assistance of Alice Engevik.

The guests were registered by Ann Ring. Attending the gift table were Judy Engevik, Claudia Erickson, and Mrs. Randolph Kezar. Waitresses were Mrs. Duane Espe, and Mrs. Ronald Beachy, and punch was served by Mrs. Marvin Espe and Sandra Tangwell. Guests were in attendance from Middle River, Holt, Thief Falls, St. Hilaire, Crookston, Wannaska, Roseau, Warroad, Swift, Moorhead, Borup, Ada, Wanamingo, Willmar, Sunberg, Minneapolis, Rochester, Clarkfield, and Bemidji, all in Minnesota, and from Chicago, Ill.

The bride graduated from Middle River high school and from Augsburg college, Minneapolis, and was a home economics teacher at Middle River high school. Mr. Espe, a graduate of the Roseau high school, is an elementary teacher in the Holt public school.

For their honeymoon to Lake Kabetogama, the bride wore a two-piece outfit of cranberry red. They are now at home in Middle River.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the kitchen of

MRS. OLGA LUNDEEN

This tasty meat dish involves a little work, but word has trickled into this office to the effect that the end result is worth the little extra effort required, and it isn't really THAT involved. After a few tries, you'll probably become quite adept at it . . . Mrs. Lundeen, with whom the recipe originates, is 81 years of age and still makes it sometimes. She says that the commercial product of the same name can't come up to it in taste, and with cooler days in the near future a certainty . . . or almost . . . you might want to try it soon for that "something different."

POTATO SAUSAGE

- 2 lbs. ground beef
- 1 lb. ground pork
- 1½ lb. boiled, cooled potatoes
- 1 large onion, ground
- Salt and pepper to taste, and any other sausage seasoning you like

Put cooled potatoes and onion through the food chopper. Combine with meat and seasonings. Spoon into sausage casings of desired length . . . these are available, you know, in the meat department of the larger stores. Fasten both ends securely with string. Hang up to dry for two days. Prepare for eating by boiling, or by frying or roasting at 350 degrees for about half an hour, or until nicely browned.

Mrs. Lundeen, now a city resident after having spent most of her married life on the farm north of Oklee, raised six sons and one daughter. All of them, with the exception of one son, have lived on farms in the Oklee area. The non-farmer lives in Grand Forks, N. D. Another son has now retired from farming, and is a resident of Thief River Falls also.

This 81-year old great-grandmother, whom we have not met personally but who sounded vibrant and chipper over the telephone when she gave us this recipe, has no "truck" with idleness; she makes and sells clothing for children, knits sweaters and mittens, and crochets and knits other articles as well. Her grandchildren and many of her numerous relatives and friends have received over the years many gifts crafted by her busy and talented hands.

Edwin Hanson to Show Flax at Fair

Edwin D. Hanson of Thief River Falls is one of the most "settled" farmers in the Red River Valley area and a successful exhibitor at the Minnesota State Fair.

According to his son, Dennis, 37, also of Thief River Falls, "Dad's entire life is his farm and farm work. He watches the Twins on TV, plays some cards and visits with friends. But the rest of the time, he's out in the fields, in the barn or keeping records."

It wasn't always this way. When Hanson, now 65, was a young man, he had the wanderlust. Born on a farm south of Augusta, Wis., he headed for North Dakota at the age of 20 to look for work.

When he got to Thief River Falls, he called his father's cousin, who owned land near Grygla, and arranged to meet him, solely to visit. The cousin never appeared, and Hanson ran out of money waiting for him.

After some inquiries at a Thief River Falls bank, Hanson learned about a possible job at Peder Engelstad's dairy farm in Rocksbury township. Hanson had always enjoyed working with dairy cattle; so he applied for the job. He not only got the job, but he kept it for 25 years, advancing to top herdsman. He also married the boss' daughter, Valborg.

In 1943, when Peder Engelstad died, Hanson and his brother-in-law rented the Engelstad land and farmed it together until 1948. In 1947, Hanson bought 320 acres. He started farming by himself a year later.

He's been at it ever since with little thought, even today, of retirement. "Dennis will probably take over some day, but he's got a TV antenna business right now. I'm happy, so why change things?" Hanson questions.

His specialties no longer include the prize Guernsey cattle he once helped raise on the Engelstad farm. Hanson has 200 purebred Suffolk sheep and raises flax, durum wheat, oats and alfalfa.

It's the flax that Minnesota State Fair Agriculture Building visitors might have noted last year. Hanson's Bolley flax sample won the blue ribbon in the amateur class.

He didn't get to last year's fair because he had too much work at home, but this year he plans a long visit during the 10-day exposition, August 24 through September 2.

"After all," he says, "I've got to see what kind of flax, oats and wheat samples my neighbors send down to the fair. I haven't got time to visit them up here."

13th Dist. Flower Show Conducted at Roseau Aug. 13

The 13th District annual flower show was held in the high school auditorium at Roseau on Tuesday, August 13, with a large, colorful and imaginative array of flowers on display.

Among those from Thief River Falls who were in attendance were Mrs. Inga Geving, executive board member of the Minnesota Horticultural Society, and Bob Kloubec. Mr. Kloubec played an important role in the show, according to the Roseau Times-Region, along with Mrs. Orlando Chervestad, Oklee, district president; Mrs. Selvin Bertilrud, past-president and advisor; Mrs. Severin Halvorson, flower show chairman, and Mrs. Robert Guyaux, president of the Green Thumb host club.

"These flower shows have really helped put our area on the map," commented Mrs. Geving, of these and past shows. "No longer does one know the feeling of being asked, at the state meeting or elsewhere in the metropolitan area, 'Where is Thief River Falls. . .or Hallock. . .or Roseau. . ?' etc. They know where we are now. And I must say that the flower arrangements in our region compare in every respect except in the number of displays, to those in the urban area," she stated, adding, "It's amazing what can be done with two or three flowers, a bit of know-how, and, of course, ingenuity."

Robert Kloubec, Sow & Hoe Garden Club, Thief River Falls, was the winner of the Oftedahl Trophy for the highest total points in gladiolus with 36 points. As the Oftedahl Trophy is a traveling trophy, Anderson's Beauty Shop of Warroad awarded permanent trophy to Mr. Kloubec. The Roseau Citizens State Bank Trophy to the garden club winning the highest combined number of points at the Spring Fower Show held at Badger in June and the Fall Flower Show here was won by the Gro-Rite Garden Club of Badger with 334 points. The C. M. Pesek Certificate of Merit to the exhibitor receiving the highest total points at each 13th District Show was won by Mrs. Walter Nelson, NaChur Garden Club with 84 points. The Munn Sweepstakes Trophy to the exhibitor with the highest combined total of all points at the two 13th District Shows was Mrs. Mrs. Walter Nelson with 153 points.

THERE ARE A NUMBER OF THINGS TO BE SAID in regard to the National Farm Organization, more commonly known as the NFO. This group has met with an undetermined amount of favor in this area—and has apparently been somewhat successful in attaining membership throughout the Northwest and central United States.

Some of the things which can be said would be a credit to the Iowa-based organization. These are such things as an effort by farmers to improve their economic standing; a constitution which apparently calls for full farmer control of the organization; an attempt to set a reasonable price on a product; and the stated desire to provide for the needs of the nation and world at cost of production plus a reasonable profit.

Even the most severe critic of the NFO must admit that these are ideals beyond reproach. At least, he must admit it to a certain extent. Few taxpayers would object to the eradication of federal subsidies which NFO officials claim would be unnecessary if their plans are successful.

But . . . and here is that big three-letter word again . . . the NFO plan is not entirely above criticism and fails to recognize several economic, psychological and political loopholes of considerable scope. Its method to achieve its ideals, although necessary to its program, is perhaps the main point for criticism.

The NFO calls its program "collective bargaining." Less sympathetic individuals would call the same plan procedure "extortion." It is a system of withholding from the market all goods to be sold until the buyer meets the price asked. On the surface, this may seem logical and should not be criticized. Collective bargaining, however, does not end with the mere signing of a contract.

It is the claim of the NFO that farm produce is the only item sold today on which the producer does not set the price. It is also one of the only fields which would afford a true monopoly if the NFO plan reaches its ideal stages.

According to the NFO, non-members who sell while members are withholding goods from the market are "betraying their neighbors" and "selling out their fellow farmers." This is where violence will erupt when the organization attempts to show its power. Minor instances of this nature have already taken place in token holding actions. A plan based on fear and violence can not be considered sound.

There is also the very real danger of top-down organization — a situation which has made labor unions obnoxiously corrupt and of decreasing value to the members. Much of the offensive labor movement is apparent in the NFO program—and while it may not be incorporated into the organization at the start—there is certainly room left for it to sprout and grow.

Aside from this is the basic question of whether the plan would work or not. It is fundamental business to make a profit. It is not likely that wholesalers and retailers will be content with less profit than they are now making. If they must pay more for their raw material, it stands to reason that they will increase their prices. This will mean more money for the farmer's products but the same relative economic standing . . . he will get more for what he sells and pay more for what he buys.

As mentioned earlier, the plan is rallying support. It is to be hoped that the organization will do more for the farmers than it will do to them, but at this stage of the game there is considerable room for doubt.

Retired District Judges Get Boost in Retirement Pay

Benefits Increased as Result of Hike in Judges' Salaries to $18,500 Year

Fourteen retired district court judges are entitled to an increase in retirement benefits, in step with the salary hike given to district judges currently serving on the bench.

That was the opinion given Tuesday by Atty. Gen. Walter F. Mondale in answer to a query by State Auditor Stafford King.

The 1963 legislature raised the pay of district court judges from $14,500 to $18,500, effective July 1. Retirement pay is one-half the salary alotted to the office.

King said that the 14 judges had retired at different times during the past 10 or 12 years, and at the time of retirement were receiving different salaries. These were adjusted as of July 1, 1961, so that retired judges got one-half, or $7,250, of the salary then prevailing.

Mondale said the compensation to be used as a base for such benefits is the salary currently designated for the office, or $9,250 at the present time.

Propose Subsidy Cut for Feeder Airlines

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), expecting "screams from the wounded," announced Thursday a plan to cut $25 million in subsidies paid the local service airlines over the next five years. It hopes to put the plan into effect by Jan. 1, 1964.

The proposal went to President Kennedy, who promptly asked Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges to head a special interagency committee to review it.

A spokesman for North Central Airlines, one of the 13 local service carriers whose payments would be reduced, said no details of the plan have been yet received.

The company got $8.53 million in its 1962 subsidy and is receiving about $9.13 million this year.

Top CAB officials held a briefing for congressmen, obviously anticipating possible opposition from lawmakers who normally recoil at any suggestion to reduce or eliminate air service in their constituencies.

Congress has authorized the CAB to pay subsidies to "feeder" airlines serving unprofitable smaller communities since the local service carriers came into being after World War II.

The proposal is aimed at cutting subsidies from their current annual level of $81 million to $56 million in the next five years.

You and Your Eyes

In What Grade Will Your Child's Eyes Flunk?

Reading in school. Reading at home. Television. Movies. Bright sunlight outdoors. The glare of lights at night. All these make tremendous demands on the eyes of today's youngsters.

Under these circumstances how far will your child's eyesight carry him in the world of learning? In what grade will your child's vision "give out" and make going to school a misery rather than the fun it should be? Much depends on you.

You can't count on children to recognize their own seeing difficulties. Their only hope for the preservation of their youthful sharpsightedness lies with you. And your job is easy.

First of all, have your child's eyesight examined at the age of three or four and at regular intervals thereafter. Don't rely solely on school examinations.

It is important to take your child for an eye examination if you see any of these warning signs: constant rubbing of eyes, frowning or scowling, watering eyes, reddish eyelids, squinting, dislike for reading, crossed eyes, aversion to bright lights, holding material wrong distance from eyes.

An estimated 83 per cent of all knowledge comes through the eyes. That's why failure of vision so often means failure in school. So guard your child's eyesight. He's depending on you—for a better education, for the lifelong joy of better vision.

Remember—good eyesight, too, is a matter of health. Make sure your child has a back-to-school examination by a competent, professional eye examiner who has earned the confidence of your community.

CRAFTS play an important role in the Thief River Falls Girls Scout day camp held at Camp Moe southeast of this city. In the above photo, some of the younger campers are at work making designs from items collected at the camp. Leaves, seeds and other bits of vegetation are glued to paper plates and then gilded to make unique wall hangings. Part of each day at the camp is devoted to crafts and the remainder to other camp activities.

ARCHERY sessions at Camp Moe, local Girl Scout camp located southeast of Thief River Falls, are met with considerable enthusiasm by day camp participants. For most of the girls, it was only the second day of practice when this Times photo was taken. Mrs. Gunder Legvold of Thief River Falls provided the instruction in archery and a number of shooters showed an amazing aptitude for the sport. The archery range is one of several points of activity at the camp and includes bales for mounting targets and an earth backstop to catch arrows which miss their mark.

A Dream Becomes Reality

Girl Scout Camp MOE Opens On New Grounds

By Flora Allison
Times Society Reporter

A dream, a hope, a 25-year long wait, much planning and a lot of help brought the Girl Scout day camp southeast of Thief River Falls into reality the past week when 111 local girls used the facility for the first time. Sessions began August 12 and continued through Friday, August 16.

Those interested in the scouting movement were hampered for years by the lack of funds and a suitable site. . .a place where the scouts could hold a day-camp, have "overnights", cut sticks to roast wieners, learn lashing and partake in other camp activities.

Mrs. Tom Peck, now of Duluth, had conducted an established day camp for local girl scouts at Bemidji and the local organization voted to put the surplus into a Scout house fund. Jung's Bakery added to the fund, paying a stated sum to the scouts for every person going through the bakery at an open house. The troops united each year to stage a festival of Nations. Mrs. Alf Borry, treasurer, guarded the fund zealously to prevent its being diverted to other projects.

For a long time, Dr. Edward Bratrud offered the land near his home, and Mrs. Bratrud acted as nurse and nature consultant. When his land was sold, the camp moved to the Dietz property beyond Long's Bridge. Last fall, a camp development committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Sagmoen, Mr. and Mrs. Florian Kritz, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Durlyn Robinson and Mr. Mrs. Don D. Olson began casting about for just the right spot. They advertised in the Times, offering to buy 10 acres for the camp.

The Mons Engelstads came forward with a gift of 10 acres of oak and elm woodland southeast of the municipal airport, and the project began to roll. Land was cleared of underbrush, dead branches, rotted logs and other debris. A well was dug and two latrines built.

Stan Ranum of Ranum Construction donated his time to plan the permanent club house, a 20 x 40 structure with concrete floor, and designed to house the campers during inclement weather. Construction of the building was supervised by Byron Sagmoen. Prichard Bros. Construction Co. They secured materials at cost and slashed building costs. Gravel for fill was donated, as well as a culvert for drainage.

"Suddenly," according to Mrs. Florian Kritz, "everyone seemed to take an interest. It's been wonderful!"

It is hoped that the building can be fully enclosed, have cupboards and other interior improvements, but the project awaits further donations of material and labor, as the original fund is all but depleted now. When these improvements are made, it is hoped that winter camping can be added to the program, and it is planned to extend camping privileges to all area scouts. . .perhaps, with luck, even next year. Only a small portion of the camp is developed, but as the idea gains momentum the comittee plans to make of it a full-fledged, permanent camp.

The first MOE campers were divided into nine units, each under the supervision of one adult and two senior scouts. A compass field was used in developing skill in that direction; first aid instruction was given at another spot; others sat about small camp fires built in fire-rings in the clearings with stones brought from home. Campers used short sections of logs as seats.

Some outdoor cooking was being done; one group had a lesson on butterflies, another was engaged in singing games; another, at picnic tables, put artistic ability to work in making wall plaques from seed pods, bark and leaves arranged in fanciful patterns on paper plates and later sprayed with gilt; while still another, also under the direction of Mrs. Vernon Carlson, camp director, assisted by Bonnie Jean Scullthorp, undertook a sand painting project. Mrs. Carlson is the only paid member on the staff. Mrs. Gunder Legvold directed a class in beginning archery at another unit. Everyone was busy and happy.

Here and there under the trees were tables, benches and washstands they had made of saplings lashed together with twine and tied with knots, all in the scout tradition. Bag lunches hung from lines tied between the trees. At present only a day camp, the camp does not have overnight campers; the girls return home each night.

. . ."They hate to see evening come" our guide said. Camping joys, happily, are within the reach of all. The nominal fee of $2 for the week even covers milk expense. Scouts arrange for their own lunches and transportation to and from camp.

This year's camp activities were planned by a committee consisting of Mrs. Earl Dagg, Mrs. Delewyn Hinden, Mrs. Florence Myers, Mrs. D. J. Robinson, Mrs. Don D. Olson, Mrs. Robert Protz, Mrs. Bruce Hall, Mrs. Howard Langlie, Mrs. Florian Kritz, Mrs. Gunder Legvold, and Morris Owen.

Adult counsellors in charge were Mrs. Dagg, Mrs. Robert Larson, Mrs. Ed Holmstrom, Mrs. Don D. Olson and Mrs. Florian Kritz.

Other adults lending assistance as needed were Mmes. Stan Ranum, Mallen Wiskow, M. J. Flattum, James Cuppett, Les Snetting, Art Olson, Tom Fuller, D. J. Robinson and Howard Langlie. Mrs. Hinden collected the "makings" for afternoon treats, and also assisted in other ways. Many others also assisted in various capacities and the committee states that it cannot adequately thank all who helped.

The session closed with skits of camp life and the crowning of a nature queen. Laurie Langlie received the award for her group, the Crabapples. Second was Nancy Lindberg of the Mushrooms and Kristi Helm of the Weeds was third. The runners-up acted as queen attendants.

A downtown window display will show the camp crafts and skills to the public.

Much has been accomplished toward insuring Thief River Falls of a much-needed camp, but there is much still to be done. The community's collective shoulder behind a worth-while project, the same kind of total effort shown in the fair grounds improvement recently, will give the city a permanent camp of which it can be justly proud. The beginnings are highly encouraging.

Editorials . . .

"Nature has written a letter of credit upon some men's faces that is honored wherever presented. You cannot help trusting such men. Their very presence gives confidence. There is "promise to pay" in their faces which gives confidence and you prefer it to another man's endorsement. Character is credit."

—William Makepeace Thackeray

A New Champion

Our congratulations to Eugene McCarthy of Somerville, Massachusetts, who now holds the world record for long distance watermelon-seed-spitting. In a recent contest he propelled a watermelon seed a distance of 37 feet, two and one-half inches. Reports indicate that it was a splendid performance. McCarthy evidently was in excellent physical condition and the record probably will stand for some time.

Here in Minnesota "watermelon-seed-spitting has been a neglected sport. As far as we know there is no school in our state that hires a specialist in this field to give instruction as a coach. Can we honestly say that we are fair to our young people?

A Lack of Leadership

The farm program has been a national headache ever since the bottom of the World War I market fell out in 1920. From the standpoint of the farmers themselves, the most costly adjustment probably came during that decade of the 'twenties when there was no organized relief program.

But organized relief has not been an unmixed blessing, and we still have unhappy farmers and farm groups. And as we move along, more opposition to organized relief is developing among those who are paying the costs without directly sharing in the benefits. The big-city press is becoming increasingly critical.

And the recent scandals are not helping the situation. Billie Sol Estes, and the manner in which he conducted his swindles, did not strengthen the confidence of the nation in the way the price stabilization program was being administered. The recent strange disappearance of the equivalent of 66 shiploads of feed grain between here and Austria, still unexplained, has not helped to restore national confidence in the overall operation.

Unfortunately the real reason for this record of failure is due largely to the fact that we have not had strong, united farm leadership. For too many of the leaders, political considerations have been of primary importance and the real problem of production and marketing controls essential to a sound, free-market price structure, have been of secondary importance.

Unfortunately too, there now are developing some grass-roots marketing organizations that could achieve their ends only by violence, and market controls by mob action are not the answer, and are doomed to failure as they have failed before. These organizations make some headway mainly because too many of our farm leaders, who should be active in securing a united front for the producers, by segments, are too much interested in their own little kingdoms that might be weakened by a united effort.

Another War?

The Financial Post of Toronto, Canada, is concerned about the military activities of the Nationalist Chinese government. It refers to a "bland announcement" made in a current news bulletin published in New York by the Nationalist Government. The report stated:

> "The Chinese government confirmed in Taipei the successful landing of several groups of guerrillas. . on the Chinese mainland during the period from May 17 to June 26. . One of the groups encountered enemy force after landing. The guerrillas fought a pitched battle with the Red troops before retreating. . The other (seven) groups all successfully penetrated deep into the mainland."

The Financial Post concludes that this report indicates that our government "has not wholly given up encouraging Chiang Kai-shek in his ambition to invade China, unseat the Peking government and re-establish himself in power." It states:

> "Troops could not possibly move to the mainland from Formosa, Chiang's island fortress, without American support and protection. Indeed Chiang's regime would collapse in a week, or sooner, if it lost military and financial backing from Washington.
> "Are the movements of guerrillas across the Formosa Strait merely token "invasions" to keep Chiang happy in his old age? Or does the U.S. still seriously support his design for reconquest, certainly only attainable, if at all, by a world war?
> "Whatever the answer, the state of affairs disclosed by the "Chinese government's" announcement looks both dangerous and discreditable to the U. S."

Considering our many involvements in other areas throughout the world, it seems that we should be guided by special caution in stirring up more trouble. And in dealing with international matters that could become explosive we should keep uppermost in our minds the need for retaining the confidence of our friends, and especially our neighbors in Canada.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

While they were standing out on the firing range, the sergeant turned to the corporal and said: "I wonder what Private Smith did before he entered the army. Every time he fires a shot, he takes out his handkerchief and wipes his fingerprints off the gun."

REMAINS of the Ness Cafe and bowling alley at Erskine following a fire on Saturday are shown in the above photo. Fire started in the basement of the building between 4 and 4:30 a.m., according to Robert Ness, owner of the cafe, and caused an estimated loss of more than $60,000. Firemen from McIntosh and Fosston assisted the Erskine volunteer fire department in halting the blaze about 10:30 a.m.

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

by Governor
KARL ROLVAAG

Some weeks ago a delegation of representatives from the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce visited me in my office. They had come to St. Paul to discuss an exciting idea for stimulating increased import and export trade between Minnesota and Western Europe.

Fresh Proposal

Why don't more Minnesota manufacturers and producers sell their products in Europe? Nearly everyone who has ever come to grips with this question concludes that many potential exporters are not aware of the great opportunity that awaits aggressive salesmanship on foreign shores. In order to show Minnesota businessmen what the potentials might be for their given product, the Minneapolis Chamber has come up with a fresh proposal: A Minnesota Trade Mission to the Common Market Countries and Great Britain. The trip is scheduled to begin October 3 of this year. It is hoped that 100 Minnesota businessmen will apply to the Chamber for inclusion in the Mission.

Exciting Opportunity

The Minnesota Trade Mission to Western Europe and Great Britain will offer an exciting opportunity for our state's businessmen to learn about and prepare for increased business in that area of the world. Unquestionably, Western Europe today constitutes the best single market for Minnesota products in the world. It has a population of 170 million people, a rapidly rising standard of living, and a steadily rising employment rate. In addition, the economic growth of this area of the world is faster and greater than anywhere else including the United States.

Exporting Important

Most of us have heard of the importance of stabilizing our currency by selling more than we buy. In the past, exports have played an extremely important role in the growth and development of our nation. Today there are about 250 Minnesota manufacturers who export from our metropolitan areas. But few of them export to Europe. It is reliably estimated that there are at least 1,200 Minnesota manufacturers who could export to Western Europe, but do not! Each year our state exports $303 million worth of goods, $87.5 million from the Minneapolis area. Yet, the surface of the European market is barely being scratched.

Economic Impact

It is clear that exporting is big and can be a bigger factor in our state's economy. The economic impact of a sound and progressive export policy is perhaps best dramatized by some of our state's employment figures. Approximately 375,000 Minnesota workers (20,000 of these on farms) are affected by our export posture. In the Twin Cities area, 112,000 workers—two out of every three employed—are directly or indirectly affected by our state's export business. These workers earn and spend millions of dollars within the state to help keep our economy healthy and strong.

What Can We Sell?

Western Europe is an excellent market for soybeans, fats, oils, canned goods, sports and work clothes, wood and paper pulp products, paper and paperboard, hand tools, power equipment and mowchines, construction machinery, boats, dental equipment and supplies, camping equipment, prefab houses and buildings, electronic components and computers, appliances and luxury items, and many, many more.

Important Assignment

The new Minnesota Trade Mission to Western Europe will give our businessmen a greatly needed opportunity to analyze the market potential of this economic area for their firms. As representatives of our state, this special mission will have one additional and important assignment: I am very hopeful that they will be successful in increasing the volume of Minnesota's export business in general, particularly through our Duluth Port, and in increasing interest in Minnesota Tourism. Their trip, on which I hope to accompany them, can be important not only to the economy of Minnesota, but to the economic welfare and stability of the entire upper midwest area.

Grainbelt Wins First Place in Fosston Tourney

Drury Hurls Four Games As Local Club Wins 16-Team Tournament

Strong-arm effort by John Drury, who pitched 28 innings of softball Sunday, provided the Thief River Falls Grainbelt team with first place in the Fosston invitational tournament. The local team won a huge trophy which will be on display at Union State Bank this week.

Drury hurled all four games Sunday as the local team whipped three Detroit Lakes teams and edged Audubon for the championship. Fosston won the consolation trophy in the 16-team event.

In the first game, Drury limited Kershner Construction of Detroit Lakes, winner of the Aquacade invitational in Thief River Falls last week, to only one hit in a 3-1 victory. The locals made four hits good for three runs in the contest.

With a four-hitter in the second contest, Drury led his mates to a 4-1 victory over Keetner's Meats of Detroit Lakes. Grainbelt collected six hits in the game.

Fast fielding by the local club in the third game resulted in a 7-0 shut-out of the Detroit Lakes VFW. Drury allowed only three hits while local bats smacked out eight safeties in the contest.

Another three-hitter by Drury in the championship tilt against Audubon gave the Grainbelt team the first place trophy. Final score was 4-3 as the losers compiled two of their three hits in the fifth inning when all three runs were scored.

The Hamm's Beer golf squad of George Glum, Wally DuChamp, Glenn Krenz, and Emil Larson posted the evening's low net team total on Wednesday, a fine 132-stroke total, and, gained a commanding ten-stroke lead in the city golf league standings. The Hamm's lead the Bridgeman's and the First Federal teams, who share second place, by ten strokes, 562 to 572.

In Wednesday evening's play, Glum had a 41 gross and net 30, DuChamp a gross 41 and net 32, Krenz a gross 42 and net 34, and Larson a gross 44 and net 36. Glum's net 30 won the evening's individual low net honors, too.

The low gross scoring honors for Wednesday's league play found Stan Larson, Jon Larson, and Ron Solheim all carding 37's, one-over-par golf, to share the low medal score.

RIVER fishing in Thief River Falls has been reported as improving this month and proof that it isn't a waste of time is shown in the above photo. Olaf Myhrer of this city caught this 14-pound northern about 7:30 a.m. Thursday while passing in front of Eugene Sjoberg's house at 1217 Taft. Myhrer was rowing and fishing with a plug when the big fish hit and he landed it in about 10 minutes although it broke his net. It was only the second time Myhrer has fished on the river this year, but a few years ago he caught a 9½-pound walleye to win a local contest.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

A Pine Try

Keith Spindler, local golf club member, made a valiant bid in the Pine-to-Palm golf tournament that was concluded at Detroit Lakes on Sunday, reaching the semi-finals in the championship flight.

Keith, who possesses all the shots needed for championship flight golf, gained the championship flight by posting a qualifying score of 151. In his first-round match, Spindler defeated Jack O'Brien of Minneapolis, 3 and 2. In a second-round match on Friday he edged out Mike Meyers, 1-up. In the first of two matches played on Saturday, Keith defeated a former finalist, Harold Erickson, 3 and 1. In his second match on Saturday, and which was played against Bob Dahm of Fargo, Keith scored a 4 and 2 win.

In a semi-finals match on Sunday morning, Spindler lost, by a 3 and 2 margin, to Allen Krueger of Redwood Falls.

Larry (Shorty) Perkins, also a member of the local club, played in the championship flight in the tournament, but Shorty was beaten in his first match, losing to Norm Krugseth.

Keith and Shorty are expected to participate in the club tournament to be played here this week. Keith, who will be the tournament favorite, and rightly, has posted a qualifying score of 72.

The Softball Finals

The finalists in the city softball league playoffs will be determined this evening, Monday, when the Bridgeman's play the Hartz Stores on the East Side diamond. The winner of this game will move into the finals, a best-of-three series, against the V.F.W. team, the league champions.

In last Wednesday evening's play, the Hartz defeated the National Guard, 8 to 5; and the Hamm's Beer, with Milt Relerson racking up thirteen strikeouts, defeated the Western Oil, 7 to 1.

A double-header semi-finals was to have been played on Thursday evening, but only one game was played to a decision, and in this game the V.F.W. trounced the Hamm's, 14 to 1. In the second game, the Bridgeman's had a 6 to 1 lead when, in the third inning, rain forced the cancellation of the game. This is the game that will be re-played this evening.

The winner will go up against the league-champion Vets team, and will be favored to defeat the Vets. Wally Gravum, who has been pitching well for the Vets, having fine control and forcing the batsmen to loft the ball into the air, left on a vacation trip to the Black Hills on Sunday and will not be available for the finals. And it is doubtful if Joey Poole will be available for the series as he is due to report to Port Huron, Michigan, and his new job as a school teacher.

A Remarkable Come-back

Cass Lake of the Paul Bunyan league turned in a remarkable come-back performance in winning the Region 2B title in the tournament that was concluded at Fertile on Sunday night. Cass Lake scored a pair of wins over Twin Valley of the Norman-Polk league on Sunday, winning by a 7 to 5 score in an afternoon tilt, and then scoring a 4 to 2 in the nightcap.

And what is more remarkable is that Cass Lake's victories were due to the "iron man" pitching of righthander Pete Barthelemy. The stocky hurler, who pitched for the Bemidji Lumberjacks during his high school days, hurled nine innings of fine baseball on Sunday afternoon to rack up the 7 to 5 win over the Twins. And only one of the Twin Valley runs was earned.

With Cass Lake being shorthanded on pitching (and for a good reason as Cass Lake played in every game of the five-game regional tourney), Pete was given the task of pitching in the finals on Sunday night. He gave up a pair of unearned runs in the first inning, but from then on he was in control of the game and the Twins. His fast ball was alive, and his curve was coming in sharply to pick the corners, and now and then he would toss in a knuckler.

Cass Lake really deserved their Region 2B title as they won four of the five games that they played. On Wednesday night, with Pete Barthelemy pitching, Cass Lake defeated Barnesville; on Thursday night, against Twin Valley and lefty Jerry Daniels, a former Cass Lake high school star, Cass Lake dropped a 10 to 1 decision. On Saturday night, in a loser's bracket game against Barnesville, Cass Lake, with Pete's kid brother Billy doing the pitching, defeated Barnesville, 17 to 5. And Sunday's finals series against Twin Valley belonged to Pete and Cass Lake.

And now Cass Lake must engage in a sectional game against the winner of Region 12B, which could be the Warroad Muskies, on August 28, to gain a berth in the state tournament. The site of this playoff game, and it should be a game worth watching, has not been determined.

PREDATOR control with a 30-06 rifle proved effective for Carl Luhe who bagged this 19-lb. Canada lynx eight miles east and two miles north of Thief River Falls near Bethany church Thursday morning. The animal had been bothering rabbits on the Luhe farm. Carl said he crawled into a heavy plum thicket after the lynx and shot it from about 10 feet away.

Sandy Wilson Winner of Class A Trap Title

Stan (Sandy) Wilson, after a three-way shoot-off, won the Class A trapshooting title in the city championship shoot that was held at the trapshooting range north of town on Thursday. Sandy, who was the trapshooting league's high-gun with a 24.1 average, broke 47 birds in the fifty-bird event. Tony Dorn, who carries a 22.8 average, also had a 47 in the championship event, as did Bob Mattson, who carries a 21.5 average. In the 25-bird shoot-off, Sandy scored a 22, while Bob had a 17, and Tony a 15. Thirteen marksmen participated in the Class A competition.

In the Class B competition, Wally Vagle, who carries a 20.8 average, won top honors with a 42. Erling Torgerson, Steve Skadsen, Stub Pahlen, and the Ray Thyren, all with 39's, shared runner-up honors.

In the Class C shooting, Wayne Bendickson, a member of the Bjorkman's Clothing team, who won the league championship by scoring a 125 to 116 over the Times, scored a 43 for first place. Dan Hoganson, with a 42, earned second place, and Roy Jorgenson and Ike Hoglin, with 40's, were in third place.

The Class D competition found Myrtle Wilson and Tom Ekeren sharing first place with 33's, and the title will be decided in a shoot-off to be held later.

Thirty-three shooters participated in the four-event fifty-bird program.

Police Check On Traffic Mishaps, Charge 2 Drivers

Two traffic accidents were investigated by the Thief River Falls police department during the past several days with drivers cited for violation of traffic laws in both cases.

At 9:05 a. m. Friday a car driven by Sam Sorenson, rt. 1, city, was pulling out of a parking space on the north side of Third street just east of Horace avenue intersection when it collided with a car driven by James Geisen, city, traveling west on Third street. About $100 damage was done to each car and Sorenson was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

At about 6:14 p. m. Saturday, a car driven by Fred Freeberg, city, was traveling north on Conley avenue when it struck a parked car owned by Eugene Prestegaard, Pennington county deputy sheriff. The car was parked in front of the Prestegaard home at 112 Conley av. S. About $20 damage was done to the Freeberg car and $30 to the Prestegaard vehicle with Freeberg cited by the sheriff's department for driving while under the influence of liquor.

55 YEARS of service with the Soo Line railroad by E. H. (Chick) Holmstrom of Thief River Falls were recognized recently. Holmstrom began his service with the company at the age of 14 when he became a section hand at Parkers Prairie. Three years later, in 1911, he became a brakeman and in 1919 he began work as a conductor. His retirement was effective following his last run from Thief River Falls to Noyes and back on July 28. Left to right above are J. M. Berg, union representative for the Thief River Falls conductors; Holmstrom; and D. H. Kemmer, trainmaster for the Soo Line in Thief River Falls.

55 Years a Trainman . . .

Holmstrom Retires from Soo Service

E. H. (Chick) Holmstrom of this city retired recently after a span of service with the Soo Line railroad that extended over a period of 55 years, 3 months and 28 days. His service started on April 1, 1908, when at the age of 14 he hired out as a section hand at Parkers Prairie. He entered the train service on July 21, 1911, as a brakeman and became a conductor in 1919, in which capacity he has been the top man in point of service on the Soo Line roster for several years.

His last run was to Noyes and back on July 28, which also was the first run he made as a brakeman in 1911. All of his years in train service except 14 were spent in Thief River Falls. He moved to Minneapolis 16 years ago, where he entered the passenger service, most of the time on passenger trains through here. A little more than two years ago he returned here and resumed work in the freight service.

In 1915 he married Hattie Hodek and states that he and his wife have decided to continue to make their home in Thief River Falls.

One son, serving as an air force navigator, was the community's first casualty in World War II and his service was recognized by the local American Legion organization by adding his name to the name of the post. A grandson is now attending school in Spain.

One other son, Edward O., is following in his fathers' footsteps, having entered the Soo Line service as a brakeman in 1940 and who now is a conductor working out of here on the Federal Dam run.

During his many years of train service, Holmstrom has been in only two accidents that resulted in injuries. In the days of hand brakes, the job was much more hazardous than in later years and summing up his many experiences he states "I have been lucky."

City To Consolidate 70 Insurance Policies

Heading the cast of 14 players are, pictured above, left to right, Barbara Magnuson, Lois Byklum and Lee Sorenson. Admission to the play will be free, but a free-will offering will be received to help meet expenses.

Consolidation of approximately 70 insurance policies on city buildings and equipment into two premium payments was approved by the Thief River Falls city council meeting in regular session Tuesday evening. The plan accepted was proposed by Russell Embury and Robert Flynn with a four-way split in the commission included in the proposal.

The new policies will cover all city buildings and equipment with the exception of municipal liquor store stock and the vocational aircraft mechanics building at the Thief River Falls municipal airport. The move has been contemplated by the council for some time since policies have accumulated over a period of time.

Approval was also given to projects for sanitary sewer and water extension to Oak, Spruce and Brooks avenues with bids to be opened on September 17 at 2 p. m. on all three projects. Several members of the Thief River Falls board of education also appeared and expressed vocal approval of an easement to permit the city to cross school property with extensions.

Robert Wurst, city attorney, read letters from legislators in regard to the city's requests for funds under the Accelerated Public Works program. In essence the letters seemed to indicate that no further APW funds would be available for the city.

Hurt Saturday in Scooter Mishap

Fourteen-year-old Leslie Townsend of Winnipeg, who was visiting relatives in the Thief River Falls area, received a fractured jaw and lacerated right hand in a motor scooter mishap on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Townsend had pleaded for the opportunity to ride the scooter by herself at the Wilfred Olson farm about six mile northeast of Thief River Falls. She rode out on the road and returned to the yard with the scooter at full throttle.

According to reports, the girl froze at the controls and was unable to stop the scooter which crashed into a windmill tower. She was taken to Northwestern hospital in this city and hospitalized overnight. Nine stitches were required to close the cut in her right hand.

COMBINING of small grain in the area is moving toward the completion stage as generally good harvest conditions have prevailed this year. Barley has been a heavy yielder this year but few farmers were able to cut and thresh their barley without some rain and stained kernels. Wheat has been generally light and grading number four, due primarily to the extensive heat period while the heads were filling. Oats will also yield heavy in this area as indicated by the swaths in the picture above. In most fields straw was very heavy. Some plowing has been done and row crops, particularly corn, will be in very good condition barring early frost.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Johnson of Goodridge and Mrs. Emil Sanders of this city.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of imported silk organza over illusion featuring an overskirt of tiered rosepoint. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline with rosepoint detail and the long sleeves came to a point over the wrists. Gary Johnson, brother of the bride, lit the candelabra at the altar. Luke Maldment and Russell Johnson, both of Minneapolis, were ushers. Charles Johnson, the bride's nephew, was the ring bearer and was in attire similar to that of the groom.

Mother of the bride wore a two-piece dress of navy Jersey. Mrs. Sanders wore a onepiece dress of blue matelasse. Both wore corsages of yellow roses and white mums. Mrs. Sigrid Griebstein, grandmother of the groom, was also presented with a corsage.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was given by the bride's parents in the Goodridge gymnasium. The four-tiered wedding cake was baked and decorated by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Oscar Johnson of this city. Waitresses were Mrs. Russell Johnson, Mrs. Luke Maldment, both of Minneapolis; Miss Roberta Sunberg and Carol Lindquist, both of this city. Elaine's CHATTER

SUCCESS . . . what is it? Most everybody is looking for it in one way or another. Does Success mean money, prestige, power, accomplishment or just what?

We like the definition . . . "Success is that element which gives satisfaction in living." If you are happy in the work you are doing, sharing what you have with others, living and letting live, then you are a successful person.

A reporter asked this question of a very important and successful man. "To what do you attribute your success?" The man thought for a little while then replied, "Well, I am just trying to make an honest living and I do not have much competition."

Confidently, we think it is up to the women to make anything successful, city job, a career at home, making a marriage work or taking care of the family . . . never underestimate the power of a women.

The smart women always plans in advance, that is why so many are looking at our new fall coats and suits. At Elaine's they are coming in almost every day, choose yours while the selection is at it's very best, leave it in our lay-by room or take it with you.

A generous helping of mink adorns many coats. Extravagant natural Fox makes a grand entrance into Fall. Fur collars that are detachable, styles that are uncluttered, fabrics so rich and colorful, it will take some doing to make a decision. They are only 69.98 and up.

While your shopping at Elaine's for that coat be sure you check our sweaters and skirts to match, one of the largest stocks to choose from in the Northwest, thirty different colors and styles to choose from.

THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA

Girl Scout Troop 94 Has Pleasant Trip to Duluth

By Mrs. Melville Simon

Duluthians rolled out the red carpet August 16, 17 and 18 for visiting Thief River Falls Girl Scout Troop No. 94, Northwest Area Council. Two plainly labled cars loaded with girls, chaperones and equipment left the city promptly at 1 p. m. Friday, making one short (?) stop for gas and Dutch Treat at Grand Rapids. The brief stop developed into a major enterprise as the young women worked their way through hamburgers, french fries, malts, etc.

The caretaker at beautiful Northern Pine Girl Scout Council Campgrounds was on hand with a warm cabin, crackling fire in the cookstove and fresh water in the pails. Also on hand was Miss Phyllis Simon, who had purchased supplies and joined the group for their evening meal, prior to a week's canoe trip on the North Shore.

With the Kaper Chart posted in plain sight, cooks began the supper consisting of hamburgers, vegetable sticks, chips, tomato slices, pickles, milk, and coffee, topped off with cake and ice-cream. The rest of the group settled into beds of their choice in the upstairs of the dormitory - type sleeping quarters with separate room for two chaperones. (Two cots on the first floor made a possible number of 24 to be accommodated). Troop President Eileen Lund presented a birthday card and candle-lit cake to Morris while everyone sang out Happy Birthday to You", honoring him on his birthday.

Clean-up group hurried through their chores and the evening tour began, doubtful of accomplishing their purpose, it being very chilly and overcast. We proceeded to Darling Observatory, under U. of M. and Donald Jackson, professor of Math and Astronomy, who met us at quarter of 10 p. m. By the time he had given us a thorough explanation of the telescope and clouds appeared, and finally, a real clearing took place and we saw the beauty of Epsilon Lyra (a double-double star), the "Ring" nebula in Lyra, the Hercules cluster, the nebula of Andromeda, Saturn, Jupiter and the Milky Way. Most brilliant was Jupiter with its 3 star ring, and everyone agreed Saturn was the most fascinating as it orbited in ring-like formation of gasses. A short film on the sun and a complete Eclipse was shown as the visit terminated.

Arrived back at Camp about midnight, everyone chilled to the bone so it was hot chocolate and peanut butter sandwiches and fruit all around. Talk, talk, and more talk and laughter till 2:30. Morris shouted "Daylight in the Swamp!!", everyone groaned, turned over and urged the cooks to get moving. Breakfast got off to a good start with orange quarters, bacon, eggs, french toast and peaches. Clean-up was hurried in order that the days planned activities be on schedule, and first stop was the University of Minnesota, Duluth Campus. Not all buildings were open, but we visited Kirby Student-Center, Science Bldg, Library and both Men and Women dormitories. Visited Men's dorm by accident, and were politely told it would not be wise to proceed further, so amid laughter we back-tracked.

The grounds and buildings, cafeteria, mural etc., were delightful. Next stop was Northwood childrens' Home, which houses about 32 emotionally disturbed children. A complete tour was given the group, and much interest shown.

Enger tower was open now, so we enjoyed a Skyline daylight drive, and viewed all the places we had seen and would see from this vantage point. The day was warm and bright, ideal weather all the time. Then Chisolm Museum was toured, many fascinating things on hand, including other lands as well as Duluth items.

Time for noon picnic lunch, so off to Leif Erickson Park, see the Viking Ship, and Band Stand, then to the Flame Excursion dock where we boarded the launch to tour the Duluth-Superior Harbor. Delightful trip getting a close view of foreign boats, American ore ship loading, the docks, Grain Elevators, Dredging operation, Interstate Bridges, and up the St. Louis river, etc.

The Aerial Lift Bridge was next, and with a boat going out in ½ hour, they all had to make a quick trip to the drive-in for refreshments, and almost missed the short lift when the launch and barge went under. We stayed up, watching the operator, listening to the whistle blasting and up we went 120 feet while the ore boat which we had seen loading earlier went out to the lake. Very exciting bit, this part of the trip.

We walked out the East Pier to the South, where many folks were fishing for Northerns. One elderly gentleman wanted to know if the girls were a group of "Brownies"! Well! The young sailor, Bert Stevens, who was posted at the lighthouse, gave a fine tour and explained the operations, showed us the light, etc., which was much appreciated. Back to the cars and we drove to the Coast Guard Station where they just gave a cursory look at the dragging and emergency boats. The group toured the ice-breaker ship while this was done, going over it from stem to stern and mast to hold, this being an interesting tour.

We took a drive to the Interstate high bridge by night and back, viewing the beauty of Duluth on the hillside at night, a lovely sight.

Sunday, decided to sleep late, so up at 8, found the stove going briskly and coffee perking, and the men who did so well sound asleep. Dressed and lightly snoring was Mel—didn't stay awake long enough to sample the coffee first!

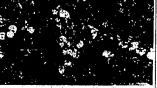
Cooks were up shortly, serving scrambled eggs, pancakes, oranges, peaches, milk and coffee. Chaperones and cooks ate first, shook the others out of the sack. Made them go and dress before letting them eat, also against their will!

We took a short hike, on one path to the creek and around back to camp, then Morris conducted a worship service in the sunlight. We all piled into the cars, Mel leading the way to western part of the city. Proceeded to Jay Cook Park, where the girls refused to budge to view the area, and we then skipped the camp ground and swinging bridge and said no more stops, but forced into it at Bagley. Happily most of them poured out and into the pop and candy department again, then off again to Thief River Falls, arriving tuckered and happy at exactly 5 p. m.

A successful trip, and no casualties, for which we are all thankful.

Members of the troop on the trip were Linda Dahl, Dolly Hanson, Linda Jensen, Linda Lian, Evonne Lindberg, Eileen Lund, Mary Patten, Cathy Simon, Diane Stromsmoe, Valerie Wells, and Ann Winters. One member did not go, Karen Maves. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Mel Simon and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Owen.

An evaluation and pizza party will be held at 5 p. m. Thursday, August 22 at the Simon home.



GARDEN crops have proved abundant this season in the Times area as evidenced by this photo of average tomato vines at the Thorstad Nursery garden in Thief River Falls. Most corn has attained good height and uniform stand with well-set ears which are now reaching the dent stage. Farmers who planted corn for forage should have well-filled silos this fall.

Bjorkman Team Wins 1963 Trapshoot Title

Thief River Trap shoot League
(final standings)

Coast-to-Coast	6	4	0	12
Ekeren Pharmacy	4	5	1	9

Wilson Bros	2	7	1	5

Results of Aug. 15th Matches
Bjorkman's, 125, vs. Times, 116
Custom Motors, 116, vs. Wilson Bros., 115
Coast-to-Coast, 120, vs. Ekeren Pharmacy, 112

Cappin a "rags to riches" climb in the trap shoot league standings, the youthful Bjorkman's Clothing squad, scoring a 125 to 116 win over the defending champion Times squad on Thursday evening, won the 1963 trap shoot league title.

The Bjorkman's, as late as June 15th, when they dropped 120 to 119 decision to the Custom Motors, were in last place in the league standings. Since that time the Bjorkman's have racked up six consecutive match victories, and, in defeating the Times, won the league title by one point, edging out the second place Times' and Coast-to-Coast squads, 13 to 12.

In posting their "perfect" score on Thursday, the Bjorkman's were paced by the 25 straight scored by team captain Sandy Wilson. Pat Fischer had a 23-2, Tom Ekeren a 17-8, Wayne Bendickson a 21-4, and Jim Helgeland a 20-7. Other members of the league-champion Bjorkman's are Gene Gaer and Steve Skadsen.

In "giving up" their title on Thursday, and posting a losing 116-bird total, the Times had a pair of "25's" in Clarence Mattson's 23-3, and Bill Dahlquist's 18-7 Bob Mattson had a 24-0, George Mostue an 18-3, and Marv Lundin a 17-4.

The Coast to Coast team earned a share of second place in the final standings by scoring a 120 to 112 win over the Ekeren Pharmacy. For the winners, Darrell Wood had a 20-5, Rube Carlson a 23-2, Ike Hoglin a 22-6, Erling Torgerson a 21-2, and George Mackenroth an 18-4. Tony Dorn had a 25 straight for the Pharmacy. Ted LaCoursiere scored a 17-7, Stub Pahlen a 22-1, Ray Thyren a 19-1, and Bob Ekeren a 12-8.

In spite of a 25 straight marked up by Al Tonder the Wilson Bros., dropped a one-bird decision to the Custom Motors, 116 to 115. The loss left the Wilson Bros. squad in last place in the league standings. Scoring for the Motors found Dan Hoganson marking up a "25" with a 22-5. Roy Landmann had a 19-5, Merle Brevik had a 16-8, Arnie Johnson a 14-7, and Orvis Olen a 14-7. And completing the scoring for the Wilsons, Wally Vagle had a 22-3, Roy Peterson a 21-1, Merv Skadsen an 18-4, and Si Schantzen a 21-0.

CHAMPION of the play-off for the Thief River Falls Women's Golf League Tuesday was Sylvia Olson who defeated Mae Jahr for the title. Mrs. Jahr turned in some excellent putting in the first nine holes to tie Mrs. Olson with a 48 but was edged out on the seventh hole of the second round of match play. Left to right in the above photo are Sylvia Olson, championship flight winner, who turned in a 44 for medalist honors in her qualifying round; Sam Rasmussen, consolation winner in the championship flight; Mae Jahr, runner-up in the championship flight; and Lu Ekeren, who was nipped by Mrs. Rasmussen on the ninth hole of the second round for consolation honors.

It's Rebuilding Time

Of the boys who took the field at kickoff time in the two final games on last season's schedule, against Bemidji and Crookston — ends Art Koglin and Ray Ulrich, tackles Jim Ranum and Dwight Myhrer, guards Terry Nelson and Tom Morben, center Brian Lofberg, quarterback John Aune, halfbacks Paul Klungness and Bob Benson, and fullback Steve Mittelstadt — only Terry Nelson is returning for this season's Prowler football campaign. So it is evident that head coach Bill Herzog and his assistants, Jerry Westby, Al Shaff and George Schlieff, are faced with a major rebuilding job.

And the Lincoln high school practice field is a busy place during the morning and evening hours. Herzog devotes much of his attention to the varsity line, Westby handles the preliminary drills of the backfield, Schlieff directs the 'B' squad backs, and Shaff puts the 'B' squad linemen through their paces. It's somewhat incorrect to say that there is a Prowler A squad and a Prowler B squad, for this isn't so, Coach Herzog intends to keep the entire squad as a unit, and shift players from one group to the other as the season progresses.

A backfield unit that is being drilled as the "first string" has Rick Jensen at quarterback, Dale Seefeldt at left halfback, Ron Olson at right halfback, and Larry Joppru at fullback. And that the boys aren't standing around in the shade and enjoying the blue sky is indicated by the fact that fullback candidate Joppru lost ten pounds during the first day's "easy" practice sessions. Of course Larry can lose a couple more ten-pound clusters.

Sandy Has Problems

That Sandy Stephens, the former All-America quarterback of the Minnesota Gophers, now playing Canadian professional football, is having troubles can be judged by these comments made by Jim Kearney of the Vancouver Sun: "The only football concept to which coach Jim Trimble is wedded is the idea of winning, but if Sandy Stephens keeps attempting to play quarterback for him the way he did last Saturday, (game of Aug. 10) Jim is going to have to get himself a new idea. Or, more likely, a new quarterback.'

"Stephens may be a great athlete, but I have yet to meet a coach who thinks he is a great quarterback or has the makings of one.

"His rollout running is not for pro football and his passes, which are none too accurate anyway, are too hard and heavy to handle. One he threw in Saturday's game hit the ground and bounced 20 feet. Jack Jacobs, an ex-quarterback of note and now with Edmonton after two seasons at Montreal, believes Sandy has reached his potential. He thinks he might make a fine fullback, but not a quarterback.

"Coach Trimble of Montreal probably has similar ideas, but when he broaches the matter to Stephens, the result could be high drama.

"Sandy is said to have one of the finest egos ever developed at Minnesota. Trimble isn't exactly without one, either. And he's the coach who wrote his own ticket at Montreal. He can't help but win. The same goes for Stephens, in one sense, because the three-year, $100,000 contract he signed last season is a no-cut deal."

That's apparently the nub of the problem, the no-cut deal. Stephens, realizing that he is on a three year contract, is probably playing a "relaxed" type of football, and has permitted himself to get too stout (he's weighing in at about 225 or 230 pounds) for a football quarterback, especially the Canadian brand, which requires plenty of running.

The Class D Winner

Mrs. Stan (Myrtle) Wilson won the Class D honors in the trap shooting tournament that was held last week, winning in a shoot-off against Tommy Ekeren on Monday evening. Myrt broke 19 of 25 birds to win the shoot-off.

The trap shooting range will be available for open shooting on Thursday evening, August 22. And it is probable that the traps will be in operation on every Thursday until the opening of the upland game bird season opens.

Quite a Performance

That was quite a performance that Papa John Drury and Daddy Bob Carlson put on for the softball fans at Fosston on Sunday. That was the tournament that was won by the Grain Belt team sponsored by Pete and Spanky Sullivan, and which was made up of Thief River Falls players, mostly from the local Bridgeman's squad.

The team, with Drury pitching all of the games, moved through the sixteen-team tournament in this manner: Grain Belt, 3, vs. Kershner's of Detroit Lakes, 1, and with John hurling a one-hitter; Grain Belt, 4, vs. Keeter's Meats of Frazee, 1, and a four-hit game by Drury; Grain Belt, 7, vs. V. F. W. of Detroit Lakes, 0, on a three-hitter by Papa John; and Grain Belt, 4, vs. Audubon, 3, and another three-hitter by Drury.

And "old man" Carlson, playing first base for the Grain Belts, collected nine hits in fourteen times at bat: Bob had two for three in the opener, two for four against Frazee, three for three against the Vets, and two for four in the finals.

And you should see the trophy that the boys brought back from the tournament!

D-ball Playoffs Now in Progress

Championship Finals Scheduled for Next Week

In city softball league playoff action Wednesday, the V. F. W. team was to meet the Bridgeman's on the East Side diamond at 7:30 P. M. The two teams are unbeaten in playoff play.

On Monday evening, on the East Side diamond, the Bridgeman's, behind the steady pitching of John Drury, defeated the Hartz Stores, 7 to 5. And in a game on Tuesday night, which found the Hamm's Beer forced to recruit a number of players to field a lineup, the Hamm's, by a 7 to 5 score, bested the Hartz Stores.

The loss eliminated the Hartz Stores from further playoff action. The Hartz team could have claimed the game on a forfeit, but rather than disappoint the fans who were in attendance, the Hartz manager agreed to permit the Hamm's to bolster their squad. As a result of their win the Hamm's will, on Thursday evening, play the loser of the Vets vs. Bridgeman's game.

The championship finals will, in all probability, be played next week starting on Monday evening.

University Sponsors 10 Education Events

Thousands of adults from Minnesota and around the nation will take part in a variety of continuing education events sponsored by the University of Minnesota's Institute of Agriculture during the next two months.

Livestock nutrition trends in dairy processing–beef cattle research–shade tree care and management–corn and soybean production–these are some of the topics for these events, according to LaVern Freeh, head of the Department of Agricultural Short Courses.

Some are meetings for professional groups and some are open to the general public. The events include the following:

September 9-10–Minnesota Nutrition Conference for Feed dealers and Manufacturers. Several hundred persons will hear a round-up of the latest research on nutrition of swine, beef cattle and poultry. Topics will also cover nutrition-related aspects of management and health protection of livestock.

September 10-12–Dairy Products Short Course. More than 400 persons in the dairy processing industry of Minnesota and nearby states will hear reports on dairy industries research, competition for markets, and discussions of current problems in butter and powder, ice cream and fluid milk processing. This event also features the annual meeting of the Minnesota Sanitarians Association and a meeting of the Minnesota Dairy Technology Society.

September 10-11–Land and People conference, Duluth. This is a conference sponsored by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in cooperation with state and local agencies, including the University, to focus attention on resources and opportunities for economic development of 81 counties in northwestern Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Short Course. Some 200 persons concerned with care and health of shade trees on school property, parks and in other locations will hear detailed discussions of such problems as Dutch elm disease, control and prevention of this disease and new approaches to the problem. The group will also tour the Minnesota Landscape Arboretum near Chanhassen.

September 18-19–Graduate Veterinarians Conference. More than 175 practicing veterinarians will take part in this continuing education program. The general theme for the program this year is digestive disturbances and feeding of dairy cattle.

Property Taxes Provide 55.1 Pct. of State Revenue

$453 Million in State and Local Property Taxes Was Levied During 1961

The assessed value of all property on local tax rolls in Minnesota was $2.3 billion in 1961, according to a report published by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce. Locally-assessed real estate accounted for $1.8 billion, or 79.9 per cent of the total, locally-assessed personal property for $428 million, and State-assessed property for $27 million.

Property tax revenue in the state totaled $453 million in 1961, or $131.29 per capita, and accounted for 55.1 per cent of all state and local government tax revenue. In the nation as a whole, property taxation averaged $98.35 per capita or 46.3 per cent of all State and local taxes in 1961.

Minnesota's local tax rolls carried 1,637,000 separate pieces of real estate in 1961. There were 728,000 residential (nonfarm) properties, 538,000 pieces of acreage or farm property, 293,000 vacant lots, 68,000 commercial and 9,000 industrial properties.

Real estate in Minnesota was locally assessed for the application of property taxes at an average of about 10 per cent of its market worth in 1961, judging from results of a survey of real-estate sales during a 6-month period. The indicated market value of all locally-assessed real property in the State was about $18.4 billion, or $5,325 per capita.

Schools and Mails Boost Highway Use

330,000 Children Travel to and from School on Bus

With some 730,000 school children in Minnesota returning to classrooms in September and 330,000 of them making the trip by bus, another big segment of the state's population will be dependent upon good highways for the successful competition of daily tasks.

To take this huge school population back and forth to school, some 5,500 buses will travel about 51.5 million miles in the course of the school year.

The postoffice, too, does a vast business over the highways.

In Minnesota there are 1,107 rural mail routes which cover 74,051 miles 304 days a year, or a total of over 22,500,000 miles a year.

In addition, Minnesota has 310 Star routes (contract carriers) for almost 22.3 million miles a year. There are also seven mobile postoffice runs using three units which cover more than 888,000 miles a year.

There was a day when school children got to school the best way they could (mostly on foot and when the main carriers of mail were the horse and buggy, the railroads and the airplanes. There is plenty of air mail and railroad transportation of mail today, but almost all railroad and air mail has to move over the highways at both ends of its trip.

Medics List Facts as to 'Tired Blood'

Medical Assn. Issues Warning on 'Cure-alls'

Are you one of the more than 10 million Americans who are annually spending more than $400 million for "shotgun" or multiple compounds of minerals and vitamins in an effort to overcome spells of weakness and fatigue? If you are, you had better find out the reasons why these conditions exist before continuing the use of such preparations.

The Minnesota State Medical association warns that every day these persons are being deluded into using non-prescription and ineffective iron compounds containing shotgun mixtures of vitamins and minerals promoted as "cure alls" for all sorts of anemic conditions.

The "treat yourself patient" who uses these shotgun compounds may be endangering his health if not his very life because treatment for the ailment may be unnecessarily delayed. Since anemia is not a disease, but a symptom, the use of such preparations may hide the real disease of the patient. The iron content of the mixture may raise a patient's blood count sufficiently to confuse the diagnosis. Although many of the so-called shotgun preparations have several ingredients, including iron which may have some value in treating iron deficiency anemia, the dosage which they contain is often too small to treat the condition effectively.

Primary diseases which may cause anemia include infections, kidney disease, hypothyroidism, malnutrition, leukemia or other forms of cancer. If you think you may be anemic don't use any treat-yourself shotgun iron compounds. Avoid so-called tonics for they can do nothing for you. Learn to recognize the "tired blood" pitch in its various guises for just what it is — outright quackery.

If you think you have any vitamin or mineral deficiency outside of anemia, see your doctor before you start using any vitamin-mineral shotgun compounds. Don't diagnose yourself.

Employment Dips Slightly in July

Non-farm Workers Total 1,013,800 in Minnesota

Minnesota nonagricultural wage and salary employment decreased 500 in July, but the total of 1,013,800 jobs represented an increase of 15,700 above July a year ago.

The monthly report of Frank T. Starkey, Commissioner of Employment Security, revealed a one-month gain of 6,000 workers in manufacturing jobs, due almost entirely to heavy seasonal hiring by food processing firms in late June. Employment in food processing should continue to increase seasonally into September, then decline sharply toward the end of the month, Starkey said.

Nonmanufacturing employment decreased by 6,500 jobs between June and July. This loss in jobs was due to a decrease in services (3,900), government (5,800), and trade (800), and was partially offset by increases in construction (2,700) and in transportation and public utilities (800). Losses in services and government were due to) the continued seasonal decline in number of private and) public school personnel on payrolls.

Production workers in Minnesota's manufacturing industries earned an average of $105.41 in July compared to $106.58 in June and $103.38 a year ago. The average hourly earnings dropped from $2.59 in June to $2.55 in July, compared to $2.51 last July. The increase in proportion of lower paid temporary food processing workers accounted for the drop in earnings.

Total unemployment in Minnesota decreased to 66,300, a decrease of 8,900 from June but 6,900 higher than a year ago. The rate of unemployment was 4.2 per cent in July compared to 4.7 per cent in June and 3.8 per cent a year ago, he said.

Goodhue Co. Soil District Honored

The Goodhue soil conservation district at Zumbrota, Minn., has been named Minnesota's grand award conservation district for 1962-63.

This district was chosen by state agricultural leaders who reviewed the work of farmers and supervisors entered in the 16th annual soil conservation awards program of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio.

Arleigh Zemke, Zumbrota, selected as the state's outstanding farmer conservationist, and Walter F. Bremer, Lake City, member of his district conservation board, will be guests of the rubber company on a four-day tour to Goodyear Farms, near Phoenix, Ariz., in December.

Highway Littering Is Still Major Problem

Littering on Minnesota's 11,900 miles of trunk highways continues to be a major problem that shows no sign of lessening, according to the Minnesota highway department.

The first half of this year it cost $134,934 to remove 4,146 2½-ton-truck loads of trash from the state's highway system. This is $22,000 more than it cost for the first six months of last year.

Highway officials expect the cost of litter pickup for the full year will amount to $20,000 or more, which has been the average annual cost over the past five years.

It has cost the state more than $1 million in road user taxes for litter pickup in the past five years: $192,036 in 1962; $212,023 in 1961; $178,096 in 1960; $250,448 in 1959; and $278,471 in 1958.

This money, by matching federal aid funds, could have financed $2 million in regular trunk highway work (50-50 matching funds) or $10 million in Interstate Highway work (90-10 matching funds).

The amount of litter reflects the travel flow on the highways. The more traffic, the more litter; so those areas with the greatest amounts of litter usually have the highest traffic volumes. Leading maintenance areas, headquarters and cost of littering so far this year are: Golden Valley, 21,184; St. Paul Park, $19,334; and St. Cloud, $14,198.

According to one highway official, littering is a very sorry reflection on the motorist who enjoys the comfort, safety and convenience of Minnesota's highways to show such a disregard for basic rules of conduct.

Littering probably will never be completely eliminated, but there is some reason to hope for a drastic reduction in coming years, according to highway department officials. In the past year, many private citizens have contacted the department to learn what they might do to fight the litterbug, and many civic organizations have begun anti-litter campaigns. This, at least is hopeful.

"If a man is in too big a hurry to give up an error he is liable to give up some truth with it, and in accepting the argument of the other man he is sure to get some error with it. After I got hold of a truth I hate to lose it again, and I like to sift all the truth out before I give up an error."

Interesting Debate

Senator Richard Russell of Georgia is going to be one of the leaders of the opposition to President Kennedy's civil rights bill. That seems to be taken for granted, and Senator Russell is held in high regard by the members of both parties.

In a recent interview he indicated a few approaches to the problem that he might recommend, one of them being a subsidized, voluntary racial relocation program which would "supply loans, training and housing for Negroes or whites wishing to move to another section of the country and thereby promote the racial balance across the land."

Let it not be said that the idea does not have merit. The debate no doubt will be interesting.

10,000 Objects In Orbit

According to the North American Air Defense Command, there now are 348 man-launched objects in orbit. Actually 621 satellites have been hurled into orbit but 278 of them disintegrated. The agency guesses that within another decade there will be 10,000 objects in orbit around the Earth. That's a lot of junk to be floating around up there but we are not going to worry about it.

It is interesting to know, however, that this junk is being watched carefully by various tracking systems, constantly trying to find out what is going on above the earth's atmosphere. And not all of the orbitting objects classify as junk, 82 of them being listed as payloads of value. Gradually our sum-total of knowledge increases. Maybe the experiments will prove to be worth while.

The High Cost of World Leadership

Cuba is officially isolated as far as our country is concerned but the Cubans seem to be able to trade with the rest of the world in spite of President Kennedy's proclamation. Commenting on this situation the National Observer says:

"Isolating Cuba is proving to be easier said than done. It has been said often enough; the Kennedy Administration turned to the concept of isolation after having conceded in effect that Communism in Cuba would have to be tolerated. Washington then called on its European friends to halt shipments to Castro's Cuba, but officials reported last week that increasing amounts of goods are being taken to Cuba by vessels from Britain, Greece, and Norway, among others.

"In an effort to stunt Castroism's growth in Latin America, the United States urged the Organization of American States to restrict transfers of money, men, and propaganda between Cuba and the Americas. Three important nations — Mexico, Venezuela, Brazil — refused to go along; Chile rejected the idea outright. So Cuba is far from being isolated, despite the designs in Washington."

We may be the free world's leader, as President Kennedy likes to declare, but if we are, it is becoming increasingly clear that we are a leader without a following. Maybe we should forget this world-leadership idea and devote more of our attention to our own internal problems.

Our diminishing gold reserve is encouraging some reasonable doubts as to the value of our dollar. Foreigners have the right to exchange their holdings of American paper dollars into gold, and we no longer have enough gold to redeem our promises to pay that are held by foreigners. A little run could become a runaway.

According to the Wall Street Journal, Treasury Secretary Dillon expressed concern recently, stating that progress toward ending the nation's balance of payments deficit has been "disappointingly slow". Commented the Journal:

"To say that progress has been slow is putting it mildly. For most of the past decade the nation, and particularly the Government, has been unable to equate its international income with its international outgo. Only by drawing down our gold supply and by persuading foreigners to be patient creditors have we been able to live with these chronic balance of payments deficits.

"How long can this go on?

"As Allan Sproul said in a recent speech, "There is a limit to financing the deficit in this way" and "we are approaching that limit." In the view of the former president of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, the time has come to place "top national priority" on correcting our balance of payments deficit; it should not be treated as something wholly subordinate to our international political policies and military programs nor to other demands of the domestic economy.'"

The financial difficulties with which we are confronted are not going to be resolved painlessly. There are some adjustments ahead of us that we are going to be forced to make, and they are not going to be easy or pleasant. We are in serious trouble, and the sooner we recognize that fact and start the adjustment back to sound practices, the more we will salvage of the wreckage. Our first step is to replace the dreamers in Washington with sound thinkers, and that is not going to be easy. There are times when we fear that we have already passed the point of no return.

$100 Billion

Over a period of 17 years we have spent $100 billion for foreign aid, the Wall Street Journa reminds us. With the exception of the dollars we put into the Marshall plan, little has been accomplished by these generous expenditures. According to the Journal:

"The unpalatable fact is that the success of the Marshall Plan has not been repeated elsewhere, nor is it difficult to find the explanation. Western Europe was and is a complex of highly sophisticated economies and peoples; once its war damage was restored and its governments returned to sensible economic policies, it was set for a boom. It would defeat the powers of a magician to pull off a comparable feat in underdeveloped areas.

Anyone can see that the masses in those lands are not better off than they were a decade ago, or a century ago for that matter. In one way their prospects are bleaker than ever; in India, Latin America and some other parts, population growth alone threatens to wipe out any miniscule economic advance."

It would seem that before Congress authorizes the expenditure of more billions in an aid program that has failed, there should be another study of the overall problem with the view of correcting our errors. One of the obvious shortcomings in many instances has been the practice of granting aid to governments to be administered by political agencies. That in itself is an invitation to mismanagement and corruption.

Maybe we should get out of this program of foreign aid that is not helping the foreigners nor is it making friends for us, and return to the old approach by direct encouragment of industry under American industrial leadership. The politicians, here at home and abroad, are our No. 1 enemies, and unless we start curbing their activities here at home and abroad, they will be pushing and pulling us through the financial ringer. It is a sorry mess.

The Right Way

It is reasonable to assume that the demonstration to be staged in Washington by civil rights advocates is intended to create a favorable reaction throught the country for racial equality. It may have that effect, but there also is the possibility that the reaction will be just the opposite.

Much more impressive, we are sure, is the Century of Negro Progress Exposition now showing in Chicago. It commemorates the Negroes, achievements and progress in the 100 years since President Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation abolishing slavery. Robert Nelson, writing in the Christian Science Monitor, has this to say about the exposition, planned and managed by American Negroes who recognize that significant progress has been made:

"To highlight the exposition, the original "Emancipation Proclamation" has been brought here under heavy guard and via bank vaults from New York. It will remain on display under constant police watch for the run of the 18-day show.

"A special, new, 5-cent stamp, displaying a severed chain on a blue background, has been issued to salute the 1863-1963 emancipation centennial.

"At the Century of Negro Progress Exposition, which opened here Friday, it is only a few steps from a 2,000-year-old West-African village to the modern setting of Duke Ellington's pageant, "My People."

"The trek through the exposition area (the space of three football fields) is like a walk through Negro history, a long walk in terms of years.

"Then tributes by Illinois and Chicago, the land of Lincoln, say the signs—to Negro progress. Poet Gwendolyn Brooks, publisher John Johnson, Rep. William L. Dawson, chemist Percy Julian, businessman Truman K. Gibson Sr., federal Judge James B. Pearson, alderman and former athlete Ralph Metcalfe — All prominent local Negroes—are pictured.

"Other elaborate modernistic exhibits trace the contributions of distinguished Negro musicians, businessmen, doctors, educators, writers, actors, athletes, clergymen, scholars, lawyers and social workers."

This is what the American Negro needs more of; and these are the facts those who speak for us in Washington should be telling the world. This is the story of the progress that has been made in one short century, and in the past few decades of that century excellent progress has been made in desegregation, most of it without violence.

The Chicago Exposition is good mainly because it points up the fact that the color of their skin is not an insurmountable barrier to the progress of American Negroes. No doubt it is a handicap but it is a handicap of diminishing importance. We should recognize the fact that this handicap cannot be swept aside merely by passing laws. Only the Negroes themselves, by their own efforts, can obtain the equality they rightfully seek. Mass demonstrations will not speed the day.

India and Pakistan Ask Peace Corpsmen

India and Pakistan have asked the Peace Corps for 88 more volunteers trained in agricultural skills, according to Paul Stelmaschuk, agent.

Training will begin next September for 30 poultry specialists and 25 dairy husbandmen requested by India and for 22 agricultural extension workers, six farm mechanics and five vocational agricultural teachers to work in Pakistan.

The Peace Corps already has 160 volunteers on the job in India and 205 in Pakistan. The call for additional workers reflects the need for trained agriculture personnel to help increase food and fiber production in these and many other developing nations, Stelmaschuk said.

The Indian request for more poultry specialists grew out of a pilot program started by our Peace Corps Volunteers who developed a new, cheap feed from easily accessible local materials, upgraded the stock, wrote a handbook on poultry management in the Punjabi language and streamlined processing and marketing procedures. So successful was their program that the Indian government now plans, with Peace Corps help, to launch similar projects in other parts of the nation.

In addition to the poultry projects, volunteers skilled in dairy husbandry will help Indian farmers improve their methods of breeding, feeding and managing dairy stock and the processing and marketing of dairy products.

In Pakistan, Peace Corps volunteers will work to improve methods of irrigation, machinery maintenance, marketing, plant protection and soil conservation at the village level. They will be working through experimental stations, workshops and agricultural training schools.

The agriculture and rural community action programs in Pakistan are being developed jointly by the Peace Corps, the Future Farmers of America and the New Farmers of America in cooperation with the Pakistani Department of Agriculture and the Cooperative Development Board. The overseas staff of FFA and NFA will share with the Peace Corps the logistical and technical support required for the work of the Volunteers, Stelmaschuk was advised.

The great need for volunteers to work in agricultural projects such as those planned for India and Pakistan was summarized recently by a young Peace Corpsman working in South Asia, who described the challenge of his assignment this way:

"People who live on a handful of rice a day, who cannot read or write and have never seen or heard of our modern conveniences, how can we help them? By improving farm methods to support twice this number of people. Because it can be done, it must be done. There are endless improvements that can be made. We are struggling for perfection—they are struggling to live. They need more more youth workers, primary and secondary teachers, mechanics, and electricians, technicians of every kind. These must not come in a high-level capacity, but must be down-to-earth, hard-working and patient. Above all, those who come must be able to love people because they are people and to help them because they need help."

Applications and information of these and other projects may be obtained from the county extension office or by writing to Jim Gibson, Division of Agricultural affairs, Washington 25, DC.

County Agents to Convene Sept. 22

National Association to Meet in Minneapolis

National Ass'n. of Pennington County Agricultural Agents will hold its 48th annual meeting Sept. 22-26 in the Leamington Hotel, Minneapolis.

The organization represents about 5,500 county agents from all 50 states and some 1,000 are expected to attend the Minneapolis meeting.

Theme of the meeting is "Looking Ahead," and emphasis will be on professional improvement for extension agents. Speakers will include faculty members and administrators from several universities and representatives from industry and private organizations. O. Meredith Wilson, president of the University of Minnesota, will address a Sept. 23 session of the meeting.

The meeting chairman is J. R. Gute, agent in Steele County, at Owatonna. Other county agent members of the meeting executive committee are Carl Ash, Polk County; George Roadfeldt, Hennepin County; Ray Palmby, Jackson County and O. J. Kunau, Goodhue County.

YOUNG SHOWMAN

FUTURE CHEMIST Richard Gibbs of Dodge Center, Minn., will make a final try for Hampshire hog awards in the 1963 Minnesota State Fair's F.F.A. swine show. One of his boar entries won a championship at the 1962 State Fair. A heavy class schedule at Rochester Junior College will prevent the 19-year-old hog breeder from maintaining a show herd after this year's Aug. 24 through Sept. 2 exposition. So Gibbs is hopeful he will end his F.F.A. career in glory.

Don't Keep Food in Freezer Too Long

'U' of M. Authority Calls for Steady Turnover

A rapid turnover of food in the home freezer is necessary for both satisfaction and economy.

A freezer that's filled only once a year will not give the family as much satisfaction as a freezer that's kept nearly full the year round by frequently replacing food that has been used, Mrs. Shirley T. Munson, in charge of the University of Minnesota food processing laboratory, said today. Mrs. Munson spoke at the convention of National Institute of Locker and Freezer Provisioners at Hotel Leamington, Minneapolis.

Studies show that the higher the rate of turnover, the lower will be the cost per pound of frozen food. Moreover, a half empty freezer uses as much electricity as one that's full. A freezer that is idle will hold a more constant temperature than one only partially full.

Keeping some kind of inventory of the foods in the freezer is advisable, Mrs. Munson said; otherwise many foods will be kept so long that they will lose quality.

She recommended these maxi-2-12 months; pre-cooked foods, 3-6 cheese, 6-0 months; baked foods, 2-0 months; poultry (excluding livers), 9-12 months; eggs, butter, vegetables, 12-18 months; meats, F. for various foods: fruits and mum storage periods at 0 degrees months; fish and seafoods, 2-6 months.

Langen Bill Seeks to Bar Power Unit from REA Control

Congressman Odin Langen introduced a bill in the House of Representatives August 14 to prohibit the Federal Power Commission from extending its activities into the field of rural electric cooperatives.

The bill, which has also been introduced in the Senate, came as the result of a Federal Power Commission order against the Minnkota Power Cooperative at Lancaster, Ohio, to show cause why the cooperatives should not comply with Commission regulations.

"Electric cooperatives do not come under the Federal Power Act," declared Langen, "and the belligerent attitude of the FPC is just an attempt to expand its bureaucracy at the expense of the cooperatives. Rural electric co-ops were set up separately from privately-financed power companies to provide low-cost power to the sparsely settled areas of this country. The co-ops have done an enormous job under existing regulations. There is no reason why they shouldn't remain as they are."

QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Additional information or assistance on veterans' benefits may be obtained by visiting or writing the VA Contact Office at the Fargo VA Center, Fargo, N. Dakota.

Q—Will the Veterans Administration exchange by 48-star American flag supplied after my husband's death five years ago? I would like a 50-star flag.

A—No, exchange is not permitted. However, it is perfectly legal to use your 48-star flag.

Q—I am an insurance company official. How do I get from the VA an abstract of medical records on veterans who are applying for insurance?

A—VA Regulations state that a charge of $3.00 per request will be made to insurance companies for medical reports. Therefore, a check in this amount should accompany each such request to the VA.

Q—Is it true that most of the patients in Veterans Administration hospitals are over 65? If so, is the VA doing anything in the way of special programs to help them?

A—VA patients in the age bracket 65 to 74 far outnumber other age groups. Recognizing this, the VA has special programs for the rehabilitaion of senior citizens. The VA Medical Research program with more than 7,000 different projects is aimed at improving the lot of the older veterans.

ESCAPE FROM PRISON

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Never has there lived a man who accomplished all he wanted to do . . . or went everywhere he meant to go.

Time and Distance like prison walls surround every life, ultimately frustrating man's hopes and dreams.

We are told that science is finding ways to multiply time, to divide distance. A gadget can save you an hour. A jet will cut your journey in half.

But should the day come when man can live to 150, and a round-trip to the moon will be called "commuting" — we'll still be living within the same walls . . . time . . . distance . . .

In fact, the only hopes of mankind which ever reach beyond these walls are our religious beliefs. In our churches we come to know the Eternal, the Everywhere. Faith dissolves frustration.

Life is more than a quest for speed . . . a conquest of space. Come to Church — and see!

Pruning Raspberries

To be sure of a good crop of raspberries next year, prune your planting after you've finished harvesting this year's crop.

But if you're to do a good job of pruning, you should understand the growth habits of the raspberry. The raspberry is a perennial and lives for years without replanting. However, only the underground parts are perennial. The canes above ground are biennial. They come up one year and produce vegetative growth in the form of new green canes. These overwinter and the second year lateral branches develop on them. Fruit develops on these laterals, and after fruiting the canes die.

Pruning consists of cutting out all the canes that have produced fruit on lateral branches. If you have grown your raspberries in a narrow row or in hills, this pruning shouldn't be difficult. But if you have allowed your canes to form a thicket, the pruning job will be harder.

After removing the old canes, the next job is thinning out the new ones. If you follow the hedgerow system, thin out the plants to about 3 to 4 per foot of row. If you grow the canes in hills, thin out the hills to about 6 to 9 strong unbranched canes per hill. Always leave the sturdiest canes.

DEFECTIVE PAG

Motor Vehicle Check Reveals Many Faults

"The high percentage of defective vehicles found in Minnesota, combined with the small total given examination, points up the need for periodic checks for all vehicles," Garnet E. Hall, safety director of the Minnesota highway department, said today. 'It is a very important part of the accident prevention program."

Hall referred to the voluntay inspection of vehicles program conducted throughout the state each spring. These inspections are coordinated by the Minnesota highway department in cooperation with local Junior Chambers of Commerce, National Guard units, local safety councils, labor unions and various service organizations.

In 1962, a total of 39,506 of the 1,656,421 motor vehicles registered in Minnesota, were safety checked. Of these 8,839 were rejected, 2,618 rechecked and 5,921 needed attention. Seventy-five percent of the vehicles checked were passenger cars.

Chief among the items needing correction were faulty rear lights, steering mechanisms, front lights, brakes, turning signals, tires and exhaust pipes, in that order.

Other check points found faulty to a lesser degree were glass, windshield wipers, rear view mirrors and horns.

For comparison, Hall called attention to the 7,87,680 passenger vehicles and 1,395,294 commercial vehicles that were inspected last year in Pennsylvania where mandatory inspection has been in force since 1929. It was found that 49 per cent of the passenger cars and 51 per cent of the commercial vehicles required some mechanical attention before they could meet state inspection standards.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Laura Duerst Hanson

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

With the last few days being cooler you might be thinking of fall. Are you planning to make a wool dress? Why not plan to enter the "Sew-It With Wool" contest if you are planning on making a wool dress.

Select a 100 per cent American wool. This may be loomed, knitted or felted.

Workmanship on the garment must all be done by the contestant. It must have been completed since February 1, 1963.

You as a contestant must model your own garment when it is judged.

The district contest is held in Thief River Falls in November.

If you enter, you will have an opportunity to win a trip to the Caribbean. If you wish for more information contact the extension office.

Stop in the library at Thief River Falls and take a look at the entomology display. Peder Furuseth and Peter Solem have loaned their insect collection to the library and Peder has also given some of his catching and killing material to make up a display.

Come this Friday the state fair will be beginning. About 40 4-H'ers will be going to this event. I will be leaving early Friday morning, with one car load. If you plan on attending the state fair, stop in the 4-H Building and take a peek at the work the Pennington County people have done.

August is Sandwich Month.

And so are September, October, November, and all of the many months throughout the school year.

For the lunch-box set, sandwiches are standard fare from now through May. So this is a good time to talk about them.

For variety, they suggest using whatever breads or rolls happen to be handy. Make sandwiches of raisin bread, caraway rye, date-nut bread, pumpernickel, English muffins, hamburger buns or left-over bagels.

Then use the same reckless abandon in the fillings. Combine liverwurst, mustard, lettuce and dill pickles. Try mashed sardines and hardcooked egg yolks, lemon juice and lettuce.

Pack peanut butter, apricot marmalade, sliced banana and chopped lettuce between slices of raisin bread; cream cheese, chopped dates, mayonnaise and lettuce between halves of an English muffin.

And for a real towering sensation, build this sandwich to end all sandwiches—

To one slice of buttered rye bread, add Swiss cheese, lettuce leaf, fresh tomato slices, cooked chicken slices, thousand island dressing, hard-cooked egg slices, and bacon crumbles. Cut into halves, diagonally, and top with a second bread slice also cut into halves. Garnish with pickle slices.
